PREFACE AND CREDITS

This is a beginning in the documentation of the descendants of Consider Wood. Further documentation should be continued, especially for the early ancestors who lived in Pennsylvania before 1900. Bradford, Susquehanna, and Wyoming counties started to record births and deaths in 1893 and marriages in 1885. Earlier documentation of Pennsylvania settlers resides in family bibles, letters, family birth notices, private marriage and death records, deeds, orphan's court documents, grave stones, newspapers, and early recordings of the settlers and their families. It is very important that all descendants of Consider Wood save any document that would show a family connection. Bibles containing records of births, deaths, and marriages are especially important. If a bible is to be discarded, keep the front page, the page showing the publication date, and the family record. The Bradford, Susquehanna, or Wyoming County historical societies are good places to send these records.

The Consider Wood genealogy got its start in 1955 when I asked my father, who had just retired, to collect information on the Wood family where he had grown up in Herrick township. We talked to many families, and when he died in 1978 my father had shoe boxes full of information on 3 x 5 cards. Of great help was the information sent by family members who were doing genealogy of their families. Most prominent are: Jim Agnew, Priscilla Andre, Alton Arnold, Terry Ayer, Warren Ayer, Jr., Glenn F. Bennett, Millicent Gillen (DAR registrar), Frances Huber, Linda McKee, Jeanette Ord, Irene Owen, Patti Jo Robinson, David Shadduck, Shirley Wootton, Ralph Very, Alfred Wood, and William A. Wood. Special thanks is given to the many family members who have contributed. These members are referenced under their sections. Thanks, also, to Willis A. Wood for reviewing this work.

Fortunately, the time span of the Wood family in Bradford county was within the memory of Hon. John Codding, a grandson of Consider Wood. His childhood and early manhood was in the immediate neighborhood of Consider's sons. He took a leading role in Wood family reunions and put into newspapers and manuscripts his memories, including a short history of the family.

FORMAT

This genealogy is presented in family format instead of using the generation format that separates the book by generations. Although not popular among professional genealogist, family format is preferred by our family members. Presentation of descendants in outline form shows more cohesively family descent, especially for the last three generations and makes it easier to visualize family development and its vitality over generations. To aid in this visualization, census reports are included, showing the increase and then decrease in the family, and showing where the elderly lived during their remaining years.

Information on the ancestry of Consider and Mary Wood was compiled from many sources with the intent to provide family members with a condensed family history that for all practical purposes would be unavailable to them. Wills, inventories, and lists of family members are presented to enable descendants to reconstruct and visualize how our ancestors lived. Information from compiled sources was confirmed when possible and journal publications were searched for recent interpretations.

Numbering: Extensive coverage of certain families required setting up sub categories and a numbering system. +S1 for Mary Adams Codding is the notation to indicate that immediately following is a special section on Mary.

Generation Superscript Number: Mary Codding[7], Susanna[6] Wood is an example of the superscript system used to indicate that Susanna is a sixth generation member of the Wood family, the progenitor Wood that settled in America being the first generation. The superscript after Codding indicates that the generation numbering is from the Wood progenitor, not Codding.

Calendar conversion: The Netherlands adopted the Gregorian calendar (new style) in 1582. In England the conversion came at the end of 2 Sept. 1752, the next day being 14 Sept. 1752. New Year's day was changed from March 25 to January 1. All of March is counted as the first month, old style. January 1617/18 is an example of "old style - new style" notation. All early dates in this publication are presented in old style except for those of Leyden, Holland.

Reference notation: Superscript is used for reference notation. References are listed at the end of each chapter. Books are referenced under author and are described fully in the Bibliography. Page citations are omitted when persons are indexed in referenced books.

DESCENDANTS OF CONSIDER AND MARY WOOD

POST REVOLUTIONARY WAR ERA

The revolution brought Consider Wood and his brother Robert into the Hudson Valley. Robert was in charge of a garrison at Sharon, CT at the end of the war, and they both lived in the valley area across the boarder in New York on a long strip of land known as the "Oblong." Consider and Robert married there. Robert moved to Vermont at the time of his marriage and Consider raised his family in the upper end of Stanford township near Carpenter's Hill in Dutchess county until his sons Josiah and Aaron were of age. The revolution had left the soldiers poor, and cheap good farm land in southern New England was no longer available. During the War of 1812 Josiah had visited his uncle Aron Adams in Mehoopany, PA, and after the war he led the family to Bradford county. They settled on a large tract of land east of LeRaysville, along the Susquehanna county border.

At the time of the migration of the Wood family into Pennsylvania, Bradford county was sparsely settled. In 1790 there were 200 families in the county area. The county was officially formed in 1810. Pike township, formed in 1813, extended along Wyalusing Creek to the county line. A heavy growth of hemlock, pine, beech, maple and other hardwoods originally covered the land. Maple syrup production was and still is a thriving industry in this area. The soil is fertile and the main occupation is farming. The first settlers in Pike township came in the Spring of 1792 under Connecticut land title and settled by an Indian Path along the Wyalusing Creek. This area was claimed by Connecticut as part of its "Western Reserve", deeded to it by the King of England. Connecticut land speculators, the Susquehanna Company, cleared out the Indian trail to make a "tolerable bridle-path up to the Forks" of the Wyalusing. The proprietors surveyed lots and opened the township to settlers in 1788. Connecticut lost its claim in a decision made by Congress, and by 1810 most settlers had repurchased their farms from land speculators in Philadelphia. The first settler in the township settled on the Wyalusing in 1790. Seth P. Rockwell came in 179l, Eleazer Russell in 1792, Ephraim Fairchild in 1792/3, John Keeler and John Bradshaw in 1793, Reuben Atwood in 1810 and Consider Wood in 1815. Josiah Bosworth set up a log house hostelry in 1797 three miles south of LeRaysville known as the "half-way house" on the Towanda to Montrose pike. Adjacent is the Josiah Bosworth graveyard containing the graves of John and Susanna Wood Codding.

The first houses built by these pioneers were of logs with the spaces filled with clay mixed with grass and leaves. The floors were of earth. Bear, wolves, panthers, and deer inhabited the forests and were part of the food supply at the beginning. Panthers were common until long after the Civil War. Wood family stories tell of panthers that would come to the school house to pick up scraps of food left by the children after lunch.

When the Canals and railroads along the Susquehanna were completed in 1854 the economy changed rapidly. Cotton goods and other materials purchased from outside the community replaced homemade items, necessitating an increase in commerce. The change in farm economics during the post Civil War era was so drastic that by World War I many of the homesteads were mortgaged and forfeited. The farm exodus had begun. Rural electricity was brought into the area in 1936, and since then many of these farms have now become prosperous. The Civil War brought disaster to many members of the Wood family. Of the veterans that survived most had contracted debilitating wounds or diseases, rendering them unfit for a vigorous and competitive life.

Descendants of Consider and Mary Adams Wood held their first reunion on 30 Sept. 1902 at the home of grandson David[5] Wood (Aaron[6], Consider[5]). John A. Codding, aged 84, was the family historian and news writer for the organization. He had previously written a history of the Codding family. Both he and David, aged 80, could relate the family history back to the migration into Pennsylvania. David donated land for the Keech Hill cemetery and from this point one can see the extent of the beautiful farmland that once was part of the original Wood Family settlement. The reunion reports included names of those who served in various wars and members who died during the previous year.

CHAPTER I

CONSIDER WOOD AND HIS WIFE, MARY ADAMS

Consider[5] Wood (Josiah[4], Ephraim[3], Samuel[2], Henry[1]), was born in 1757 at Middleborough, MA, died 25 Feb. 1822 near LeRaysville, Pike township, Bradford county, son of Josiah and Mary Wood; married on 26 Jan. 1785 at Amenia, Dutchess county, NY, Mary Adams, born 3 June 1766 at Pomfret, CT, died in 1817 near LeRaysville, daughter of Richard and Rebecca (Thayer) Adams. Mary and Consider were interred at LeRaysville.[a,b,c,d,e,f,g,n]

Details of Consider Wood and his Family are found mainly in "Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolution," his application for pension, the probate record of Richard and Rebecca Adams, and in the writings of his grandson, John A. Codding. The only record of Consider Wood in the Plymouth colony is found in the probate record: "Plymouth, March 11, 1772. Ebenezer Sproutt of Middleborrough in the county of Plymouth, gentleman, was accepted off, and appointed by the judge of probate. Do, for this county to be guardian unto Consider Wood & Robert Wood, minors above fourteen years of age, sons of Josiah Wood, late of said Middleborough - blacksmith dece'd and he then gave bond with Amos Tinkham of s'd Middleboro, yoeman, as surety in the sum of fifty Pounds (for each), for the faithful discharge of his trust." [a,c,g,h]

Consider enlisted in the revolution from Middleborough, MA and served in the regiment commanded by Colonel Rufus Putnam. He was discharged at the Highlands, NY and settled in Amenia precinct, Dutchess county where he married Mary Adams. Pension records show that Consider was awarded a pension of 8 Dollars per month, to commence on the 11 June 1818. Consider's death date was written on the pension claim (25 Feb. 1822). Salmon Bosworth was appointed administrator of his estate on 11 Apr. 1822.[m]

After the Revolution, Consider settled with his brother, Robert, in the Amenia precinct, Dutchess county, NY. In support of Robert's application for pension, Rhoda Fax stated on May 26, 1837: "I Rhoda Fax of Fairfield in the County of Franklin of State of Vermont being Seventy four years of age testify I Say that about Sixty year ago I resided in the State of New York in what was then called the Oblong or Nine Partners Amenia Precinct that I was well acquainted with Capt. Robert Wood and his wife Abigail that I lived in the same neighborhood with them for several years before and after their Marriage which took place in the Month of November 1779. I was also well acquainted with Consider Wood a brother of the S' Robert who lived at the same house which I resided." Marriage records show that Consider Wood and Mary Adams were married on 26 Jan. 1785. The list was compiled from records of a Justice of Peace who administered both Sharon and Amenia precincts. Grandson John Codding listed their marriage as taking place in Amenia.[b,f]

On the 12th day of April 1775, the probate court at Pomfret, CT divided the estate of Mary's father, Richard Adams: "And to Mary Adams Third Daughter to said Deceased We have set out one eighth part of said Remainder, we have set out to her in moveable Estate to the amount of eleven pounds eight Shillings & two pence half penny and one Tract of Land containing twenty Six acres ---."

In a lease made on the 25th day of February 1785, Consider Wood and Mary, his wife, leased to Nathaniel Cogswell of Canterbury, CT the twenty six acres of land "from the 25th Day of March in the year 1786 until the 25th of March 2742 which is the full term of nine hundred & fifty six years & the s'd Cogswell is to give the s'd Consider & Mary the sum of five pounds Silver Money." On the 11th of April 1795: "Consider and Mary Wood, wife to said Consider Wood of Washington precinct in Dutchess County in the State of New York, for and in the consideration of Thirty pounds Lawful silver money," sold to Nathaniel Cogswell the twenty-six acres of land. Also on the 23rd day of February 1795, Nathaniel bought from Consider and Mary Wood (both of Washington Precinct) a twenty-five acre tract, "being one Eighth part for Quantity and quality of all the Land which was heretofore Set Out to the Late Widow of Richard Adams Late of Pomfret." [d,e]

No land records were found for Consider and Mary in Dutchess county. Exactly where Consider and Mary lived in Amenia and Washington precincts has not been determined. There were other descendants of Henry Wood in the area and he may have lived with them or rented nearby. Only two records were found: "Republican Hearld, Wed., July 8, 1812, In Stanford on the 7th ult. by the Rev. Mr. Birch, Mr. David Coddin to Miss Susanna Wood, dau. of Consider Wood, Esq."; and in a law suit recorded in a ledger kept by Jabez Flint, Justice of Dutchess county, when on October 23, 1809, Thomas DeLamater & Co. brought suit against 17 men: "Thomas DeLamater & Co. vs. Consider Wood, by summons, suit discontinued, received court fees." [i,j]

In John Codding's memoranda he stated: "My mother and Uncles often said that their father served under General Putnam in the war of the Revolution. The Wood family came to Pike township in this county (Bradford) about 1815 or 1816 and settled about two miles southeast of LeRaysville. The eldest son, Josiah, presided the family. Susanna, Polly and Debbie were left in York State when the family moved. Susanna and her family came in 1825, Deborah in 184-. I never saw either of my Grandparents, paternal or maternal. Mother (Susanna Wood Codding) has told me that her mother nee Mary Adams was a refined and intelligent woman. She was not physically strong, but her social accomplishments were superior to her husband. They (Consider and Mary) were married after the war of the revolution and are buried in the public cemetery at LeRaysville. The graves are pointed out by the sexton but no stone marks the last resting place of the old revolutionary soldier and his faithful companion. The soldier and his wife had 11 children, one died young, nine were married and raised families. One daughter died unmarried. The sons were all farmers; good intelligent tillers of the soil, all were successful in making a good living by farming. All were sober, industrious, honest American citizens. All were members of some Christian church, 3 methodist, 2 baptist." [a]

WOOD REUNIONS[h]

The first reunion was held on Tuesday 30 Sept. 1902 at the home of David[7] Wood (Aaron[6], Consider[5]). The newspaper account of this event is presented in David's section of this genealogy.

"The second annual reunion of the descendants of Consider and Mary Adams Wood was held at the home of Alvah Johnson at LeRaysville, Wednesday, August 19, 1903. Nearly two hundred friends and relatives were present. The grounds were tastefully decorated with flags and bunting, the tables were temptingly spread in the shade of the maple trees on the lawn. After the company had taken their places, Rev. Magee Pratt gave an address of welcome in behalf of the president and a bountiful dinner was served. During the afternoon an interesting program was rendered, consisting of recitations by Laura, Mary and Clara Davis, Rebecca Gillen, May Shadduck, Miss Rena Shadduck and Miss May Bowker. The solo given by Mrs. Burton Codding and the solo and chorus by Arthur W. Wood and his two sons, Ernest and William, were greatly appreciated by all. Hon. John Codding of Towanda, who is the oldest living descendant of Consider Wood, was present and gave a very interesting talk, telling many things about the lives and hardships of those who were the early settlers of this part of the country. He spoke of the reunion as a bond by which a large and scattered family is being brought together, old friendships renewed and new acquaintances made. Mr. Codding is an interesting speaker and active for a man of his age. Rev. G. O. Beers and Magee Pratt of LeRaysville, and Rev. Mr. Wilkes of Stevensville, were present and gave short but interesting addresses. Alonzo Bosworth gave a talk telling of the members of the family who served as soldiers in the Civil war, namely: Aaron A., John S., Ethiel C. and Daniel B., sons of Aaron Wood, Alonzo Bosworth and John Kinney, grandsons of Susanna Wood Codding, Amasa, son of Abner Wood, and Miles Very, son of Lucy Wood Very. Of these Ethiel C. and Amasa were killed in the Battle of Gettysburg. The family had many representatives in the Spanish war. Smith, the youngest son of Daniel B. Wood, died in Cuba. Consider Wood served as a soldier in the war of the Revolution and his descendants are known as a patriotic people."

"The following list of those who have died during the past year was read by John A. Shadduck, the President: Mrs. George Ross, daughter of Celinda W. Rogers; Daniel B., son of Aaron Wood; Charles L. Warner, grandson of Susanna Wood Bradshaw; Mrs Wm. Squires, daughter of David Wood; Cornelius Overton, son-in-law of Beebe Wood, and Watson Squires, grandson of Sarah Wood Holdren."

"After the program a business meeting was held and the following officers were elected; Arthur W. Wood, President; Frank L. Wood, treasurer; Miss Millicent W. Gillen, secretary. The invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Wood to hold the next reunion at their pleasant home was most heartily accepted. Our grateful thanks is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, who so kindly opened their home, to John A. Shadduck, the retiring president, and to all others who helped to make the reunion so marked a success."

Third reunion: The reunion was held at the home of Albert F. and Susanna D. (Codding) Shadduck and is recorded in their section.

"The sixth annual reunion of the descendants of Consider and Mary (Adams) Wood was held Sept. 7, 1907, in James Johnson's grove, on Orange St., LeRaysville. Fifty relatives and friends were present. The program was short. Song, 'We shall Gather at the River,' Prayer by Rev. B. M. Johns. Very interesting talks were given by J. A. Bowker and Rev. Johns. Owing to the absence of both president and vice president, Mr. Bowker acted as president. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President--Ethiel Wood; Vice President--Julius Bowker; Treasurer--Mrs. L. W. Pratt; Cor. Secretary--Martha Wood; Rec. Secretary--Susie Agnew. Program Committee Mrs. Arthur Wood, Mrs. B. O. Codding, Edith Bowker, Mattie Agnew, Martha Wood, Susie Agnew. Committee on Arrangements--B. O. Codding, Julius Bowker, L. W. Pratt, Allen Rockwell, F. L. Wood, Ezra Keeler, Levi Rogers." A letter from John A. Codding was read and included in the report.

"On Saturday, Aug. 8, 1908, at the 'Ranch,' the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Johnson, was held the seventh reunion of the descendants of Consider and Mary (Adams) Wood. The day and the dinner were all that could be desired, and the lawn dotted with tables and chairs and Old Glory floating over it was a beautiful spot to spend the day on. About one hundred relatives and friends were present, and the remark 'this is the best reunion yet held' was heard from many. We were sorry that any of the family were absent, but we very deeply regretted that John A. Codding of Towanda and Mrs. Albert Shadduck of Rushville were on account of their length of years denied the pleasure of being with us." A letter from John Codding was read, extolling the virtues of the family and repeating the military history of its members. In his last and farewell letter he stated that Amasa was buried in the battlefield of Gettysburg, David's sons William and Abner were in the Civil war and are no longer living; Polly Steel was still living, Harriet Ayers was living in Oklahoma; Silvester Wood was in Montrose, PA, and Polly McAlpine's grandson Wallace Bruce was appointed by President Harrison as consul to Edinburgh, Scotland. "And now as I say farewell to those I love I have only a few words to write to the younger members of this union. You have just started on an important journey--the journey of life. We do not know what is before us. We cannot tell whether the journey will be long or short. We do know that we may need many things that are cheap and had better be taken with you. Be sure to take industry, honesty, sincerity and truth. Don't forget to take love, affection, charity and religion--they are not costly, take them with you. If you should meet laziness or dissipation or dishonesty, or if they follow and overtake you, shun and despise them. If you do not possess a sweet temper, cultivate it; cultivate it until your smile will soften the hardest heart. May God bless all, old and young. With best wishes that you may become a great and good family. God will do His part--you do yours."

"After being called to order by E. C. Wood, president, the usual devotional exercises were had, then remarks by Revs. King and Wilkes. We were favored with several songs by Prof. Atwood of Lestershire, N.Y., and a number of readings by Miss May Bowker and Miss Osee Beers. The election of officers followed: B.O. Codding, Pres., M. H. Wood, Treas., Olyn Johnson, Rec. Sec'y., Martha Wood, Cor. Sec'y. Committee on Arrangements--M. H. Wood, J. A. Bowker, E. C. Wood. It was decided to hold the next reunion at the "Ranch," LeRaysville, Pa."

"The eighth annual reunion of the descendants of Consider and Mary (Adams) Wood was held at 'The Ranch,' LeRaysville, Aug. 21, 1909. The forenoon was spent in greetings and social intercourse, and at 12:30 about seventy-five relatives and friends were seated at the tables placed upon the lawn and partook of the good things which the fair sex of the Wood family know so well how to prepare. All seemed to enjoy the renewing of acquaintances. After dinner the meeting was called to order by the president, B. O. Codding. The usual devotional exercises were had, a short program was rendered, remarks were made by Revs. Bloomfield and King, which were enjoyed by all, and then came the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and a report of deaths, marriages and births in the family since the last meeting. The deaths recorded were Hon. John A. Codding of Towanda, Mrs. Ezra Keeler and Isabel Davis of LeRaysville. The stork has visited the homes of Chas. Agnew, Rochester, N.Y., Clayton Squires, Rushville, and Floyd Andre, Montrose. Cupid has also been busy, as Grant Agnew of Lusk, Wyo., and A. L. Wood of Rochester, N.Y., have taken unto themselves wives. And Cupid's crop for 1910 is favorable. The following officers were elected: President--B. O. Codding; corresponding secretary--Martha Wood; recording secretary Olyn C. Johnson; treasure--F. L. Wood."

CHAPTER II

DESCENT FROM SUSANNA[6] WOOD

I. Susanna[6] Wood (Consider[5]), born 9 Feb. 1786 (gravestone) in Amenia Precinct, Dutchess County, NY, died 6 Feb. 1865 near LeRaysville, Pike township, Bradford co., PA, aged 79 years (gravestone); married on 7 June 1812 at Stanford, Dutchess County, David S. Codding, born 4 June 1786 (gravestone) in Taunton twp, Bristol county, MA, died 19 August 1874 at LeRaysville, aged 88 years (gravestone), son of James and Joanna (Eddy) Codding of Taunton, MA. David, Susanna, and daughter Mary were interred in the Centerville cemetery, on the Bosworth farm south of LeRaysville.[a,b,c,d,e]

A family history written by John A. Codding was published in "The Settler" by the Bradford County Historical Society. In this history John stated: "David Codding, my father, was James Codding's eldest son, born June 4, 1786. His early childhood was spent with his parents about two miles from the present beautiful City of Taunton, Mass. After the war of the revolution all males between the age of 18 and 45 were compelled to meet in companies and regiments several times each year for military exercise drill and instruction. It had long been the practice for the private members of a company on training days to 'wake up officers.' A squad of soldiers, a dozen more or less, would go to the house of an officer, in the early morning of training day, before daylight, with guns heavily loaded, discharge their muskets under the windows where the officer slept. The guns were discharged in rapid succession. The officer would come out with his bottle and treat all the boys in the company of wakers to a drink of grog. The officer would consider himself highly honored by his soldiers."

"In about 1804 or when father was about 18 years of age, he with the others went to wake up officers. A heavily loaded musket was discharged by him which burst into fragments in his hands, which mangled and mutilated his left hand and wrist to the elbow. After the accident he was taken to the house of his grandfather, James Codding, about a half mile from his fathers. There his arm was amputated. He had a good academic education and from that time followed teaching school until he was married eight or nine years later. His first school was at Vineyardhaven, a town on the Island of Martha's Vineyard. From there he went to Connecticut where he taught in several places. From there he went to Albany New York where he taught about one year. From Albany he went to the town of North East in Dutchess County, N.Y. In that place on the 7th day of June 1812 he married Susanna Wood (my mother). She was the eldest daughter and eldest child of Consider and Mary Adams Wood of Puritan stock and born and reared in Dutchess County, N.Y. or Berkshire County, Mass. My father and mother commenced housekeeping in the North East corner of

Dutchess County N.Y. in 1812 and while their six children, three sons and three daughters, were born. Their names and date of birth are as follows: Mary Adams Codding born Oct. 24, 1813; Amy Tompkins Codding born May 2, 1815; David Seabury Codding born July 20, 1817; John Alpine Codding born July 6, 1819; Martin Halm Codding born April 4, 1821; Susanna Desire Codding born March 14 1823 and Abner Wesley Codding born Oct. 7, 1823 died March 30 1835."

"While they lived in Dutchess County father taught school winters and worked on a farm as a day laborer throughout the farming season. He had but one hand but managed to do nearly all kinds of farm work and earn full laborers wages with one hand. He could mow and cradle and hoe and rake and do many other kinds of work as well as any one. The principal attraction that brought our family here was Mother's five brother and two sisters who were then settled here. In the Fall of 1822 father traveled on foot from Dutchess County to Bradford County on a journey of discovery to find a place to live and where his sons could carve out for themselves a home. Traveling west he stopped at Bainbridge N.Y. where he boarded a raft and rode to Meansville now Towanda and walked to Pike where it was arranged that he should have a narrow strip of land 74 rods wide about a mile long from east to west between Uncle Josiah and Uncle Aaron."

"The owners of land were then unknown. The Settlers did not pretend to purchase the land, but were termed squatters, and the owners of large tracts of wild land, who lived in cities or foreign countries were willing and anxious for settlers to come and improve their lands and make them valuable. We never knew much about the ownership of the land on which we settled until about 1840 when we were asked to buy and pay for our land at eight dollars per acre. Our farm was owned by two different parties. A north and south line ran along the public road in front of the stone house. The west end of the farm on which the stone house stood, contained fifty acres, was owned by heirs of Robert Proud. The east end on which the old house stood contained 100 acres and was called the Wilcox tract owned by two old maids in England."

"In October 1823 he (David) came with his wife and six children to Pike township Bradford County, Pa. He built a log house in the primeval forest and for the next ten years, our parents struggled with extreme poverty. The house was not the best of its kind. It had only one window with 12 lights of 7 x 9 glass. The door was hung with wooden hinges with latch and fastenings of the same kind. A floor of unplaned boards came to within about 8 feet of the west end of the room, and on that space a fire of wood was built on the ground without stove or chimney. A stone chimney was built the next season. We had no chairs or table. A table was improvised by wooden pins about 20 inches long driven into holes bored in the logs at the side of the room and a long board placed on the pins or pegs made a table where we all sat with our faces towards the side of the house and our backs towards the room and for chairs we had blocks sawed from small logs about the size of a nail keg. When we desired to move our block we turned it down on the floor and rolled it to a place where we desire to sit. On such chairs we sat beside the above described table and ate our roasted potatoes and salt. And if we could get cornbread of the plainest kind it was a luxury. Father made a table of pine boards some time later which we used a long time. In this primitive log house we lived 18 years until 1841, when I was 22 years of age."

"During the first few years of our living in Pike Father taught the district school in Winter and worked at the masons trade in the Summer, and cleared the trees and logs from the land enough to keep a cow or two, and raise corn and potatoes to keep his little family through the winter. We kept a few sheep, and raised some flax, and Mother spun, wove, cut and made our clothes and Father made all of our shoes. In 1828 we built a barn 26 x 36 the same that stands there now. About Sept. 3 1826 Father and Mother professed religion and were baptized with their entire family by a Methodist Minister named David Shepard. The Minister preached in our log house and our family, parents and children 8 in all together with Uncle Aaron Wood with his wife and family about as many more, went to the little brook, kneeled down in the water and were baptized by dipping up water from the brook, and pouring it on our heads. That was Oct. 4 1826. About 1835 Father withdrew from the Methodist Episcopal Church and united with the Protestant Methodist Church and was given a license to preach. They broke off from the M.E. Church on the subject of slavery - members of the M.E. Church held slaves. Father was made superintendent of Burlington Circuit and had preaching places in Pike Herrick Wysox Towanda Burlington Springfield South Creek Troy Armenia Granville Canton Albany Terry and through Sullivan Lycoming Wyoming and Luzerne counties. He traveled all over the country where Scranton now stands. It was called Slocum Hollow where now is the City of Scranton. He rode on horseback and was about four weeks making a circuit. He continued to preach several years. His pay was treasures laid up in heaven. Some pay he did get, but entirely inadequate to buy his clothes and keep him and his faithful horse. All this time the older children were able to earn a comfortable living for themselves and mother."

"The stone house was built in 1840. We moved from the log house to the stone house in the spring of 1841. Father did not continue to ride the circuit and preach after we moved into the stone house. He preached on special occasions and at funerals but staid at home, did some work in the garden, smoked his pipe and read the Tribune. Father and Mother had a room with a fire-place which they occupied together for their common sitting room. Mother died in that room

Feby 6, 1865. She is buried in the cemetery on the farm of J. Alonzo Bosworth. Martin afterwards sold the old farm and moved with father to LeRaysville where father died Aug. 19 1874. He is buried by Mother."

"About 1841 an old worn out sawmill stood near the forks of the creek north of our house just off from our land, owned by Cornelius Brink. Father bought the old mill on condition that I should sign a judgment note for four hundred dollars. I refused to sign and decided to leave home and take care of myself. Father and mother were much afflicted and grieved that I should leave them. Father proposed to give me a quit claim deed which conveyed only his possession right, and I should stay with them. It was so done. When I left the stone house October 30, 1854 my oldest brother David moved into it with father and mother, and lived with them about three years, until Martin took the place and the care of our parents. The evening of their lives was made every way comfortable surrounded by affectionate children and provided with all the necessary food and clothing and even luxuries which they desired."

"Our clothing was entirely home made. In the summer we had linen shirts and pants made of the flax raised and dressed by ourselves. Mother spun wove and made all. She spun flax on a little wheel for warp. The tow was spun on a large wheel for filling. We called it tow cloth. It was very strong and did good service. In the winter our clothes were sheeps grey. We had a few black sheep and a small quantity of black wool was carded and thoroughly mixed with white, made a very modest Quaker grey and made into mens clothes without coloring. The boy who was the wealthy owner of a pair of sheep grey pants and around-about coat of the same kind was considered well dressed for school or work. Mother was deft and handy and performed prodigies of labor for her family. She was the queen bee in the household. She planned and executed like a master workman. She was reputed beautiful when a young lady. Her voice was musical and with cultivation she would have excelled as a vocalist. When very young I have listened to her singing from her old camp meeting hymn book -

Jerusalem My Happy Home
Name ever dear to me."

"It seemed to me her voice was the softest and sweetest ever heard. Some other members of the Wood family were good singers. I believe the musical gift of the family came from the mother's side or mother's mother Mary Adams. Father was not a singer, and the Coddings with whom I have been acquainted have about the same reputation. Father labored under the disadvantage of two serious afflictions - the loss of his left hand and deafness. His deafness almost excluded him from the social circle. It was impossible for him to hear any of the ordinary conversation of the family. In his family he was kind and affectionate, tender hearted caring more for the comfort of his wife and children than for himself.

His industry was truly surprising. He could take to woodsman's axe and with one hand fell the largest trees of the forest. He worked some fifteen years or more at mason work. When the primitive log house of the thrifty settler gave way to a better house, father built the cellar walls and chimneys with large fireplace and brick ovens in the new house. His preaching was logical, his arguments illustrated by strong figures. His labors as a preacher were preeminently successful. Deafness and advancing age induced him to retire to private life. He preached to the poor and poor was his remuneration. His deafness compelled him to abandon teaching. His penmanship was excellent. He could write the neatest page of manuscript on paper without ruling that I ever saw. His written articles on any subject were correct, his grammar and spelling perfect. He excelled in literary work. Mother excelled in domestic economy." [b]

S11. GEORGE L. BOSWORTH AND DESCENDANTS

9. George L. Bosworth[8] (Mary Codding[7], Susanna[6] Wood, Consider[5]), born 22 Mar 1851, in Pike township, died about 13 June 1938 in Manley, IA; married (1) in 1877, Della Barber, died 1878, daughter of Daniel Barber; married (2) in 1882, Ella Jennings, born June 1852 in NY, died about 26 Aug. 1928 in Manley, IA, daughter of James H. and Jane (Thatcher) Jennings.

George's biography as given in History of Mitchell and Worth Counties: "George L. Bosworth, a retired lumber, grain and coal merchant of Manly, was for a number of years actively identified with commercial development and progress in the city in which he lives but is now enjoying a well deserved rest. He was born in Bradford County, Pennsylvania, March 22, 1851, and is a son of Jackson K. and Mary (Codding) Bosworth, the former a native of Bradford county, Pennsylvania, while the latter was born in Dutchess County, New York. Jackson K. Bosworth spent his youthful days upon the old homestead farm in the Keystone state and afterward took up the occupation of farming as a life work. He concentrated his efforts and attention upon the cultivation of the soil and the care of his crops until his later years, when he retired from business. He remained, however, upon the old home farm until the time of his death, which occurred when he was seventy-five years of age. In early life Mary Codding had removed from the Empire state to Bradford County, Pennsylvania, and there she became the wife of Jackson K. Bosworth and for many years they traveled life's journey together. He was a republican in his political views and he stood for progress and improvement in all matters of citizenship."

"George L. Bosworth passed his boyhood in his native county, there remaining until he reached the age of twenty-three years. With a desire to try his fortune in the west, he left Pennsylvania and made his way to Liscomb, Marshall county, Iowa, where he engaged in the grain business in connection with his brother, J. C. Bosworth, with whom he continued for three years. In August, 1877, he came to Manly, Worth County, although there was no town at the time, nothing but a box car, which was used as an office by the Burlington, Cedar Rapids, Northern and Iowa Central Railroad Companies. Mr. Bosworth began handling grain and coal at this point for W. W. Cameron, of Mason City, and continued in Manly until 1880, when the Cameron elevator at Mason City was destroyed by fire. Mr. Bosworth then bought the business and built an elevator at Manly and from that time forward developed his interests, building elevators at Bolan and at Meltonville. He continued actively in the grain, lumber and coal trade for a number of years but retired about a decade ago, selling his elevator. His business affairs had been carefully, wisely and profitably managed and had won a substantial measure of success, which gave him sufficient capital to supply him with all of the necessities and many of the comforts of life. During the period of his residence here he has seen Manly grow from nothing to a town of twelve hundred people. In addition to his elevators he became the owner of a farm of two hundred and forty acres, much of which he still owns, but has laid out a portion of it in town lots. He has erected a fine flat building and residence since 1913."

"In the fall of 1877 Mr. Bosworth was united in marriage to Miss Della Barber, a daughter of Daniel Barber and a native of Marshall County. She passed away, however, a year subsequent to her marriage. In 1882 Mr. Bosworth was again married, his second union being with Miss Ella Jennings, native of Tioga county, New York, and a daughter of James H. and Jane (Thatcher) Jennings, who in the year 1896 removed westward with their family establishing their home upon a farm at Iowa Falls. Her father improved the tract of land which he secured and remained thereon for twelve years, after which he removed to the sate of Washington, where he and his wife lived for some time with their son Daniel. Both passed away at Paulina, Iowa. To Mr. and Mrs. Bosworth were born four children, Leroy T., Rhey C., Jane and Leslie J."

"The life work of George L. Bosworth has been of value to the community in which he was lived. Not only has he conducted extensive and important grain, coal and lumber interests but was also associated with C. H. McNider in organizing the first bank art Meltonville, of which he became the president. During the early days of his connection with the business interests of Manly he was obliged to live in Mason City, for there was nothing here but the business. As the town grew, however, he became connected with its interests, and when his warehouse was finished he slept in it and later in the new depot until he could erect a residence. He has served on the school board, of which he has been secretary for twenty years, and he was the first justice of the peace of Manly. He has also served as a member of the town council and in his official positions has done active and effective work for the welfare of the community. His political allegiance is given to the republican party and his religious faith is that of the United Evangelical church. He is a man of genuine personal worth, highly esteemed and honored by all who know him, and that his career has been a straightforward and commendable one is indicated in the fact that his stanchest friends are those who have known him longest." [v]

Children of Clinton and Amy (Codding) Keeney:

1. Lovisa Keeney[8] (Amy Codding[7], Susanna[6] Wood, Consider[5]), b. 1836, d. at the birth of her first child; m. Charles Stevens. Lovisa went west and married Charles.
2. John Keeney, b. 1840, d. 30 May 1879 in Irving, KS; m. 12 Aug. 1862 by Rev. George P. Hopkins, Flora Aliph Stevens, d. 30 May 1879.[n]

John enlisted in the GAR at Towanda on 13 Aug. 1862 as Private in Company B, 141st Regiment of the Pennsylvania Volunteers. He was a Corporal when he received a gun shot wound in the right hand in action at Chancellorsville, Va on 4 May 1863. The index finger was shot away. He was discharged at Elmira, NY on 14 July 1865, and on 25 Oct. 1866 he received a $2 2/3 per month pension for the loss of the finger and for chronic diarrhea. The amount was reduced to $2 on 4 March 1868 and increased to $3 by 1875. His lawyer's fee in 1874 was $10. He stated in his first application (4 Sept. 1865) that he was of age 22 and a resident of Stevensville, Bradford county, PA. He was given a medical examination in Towanda on 12 April 1869. In his 7 Sept. 1872 application for an increase, he was of age 32, his post office address was Otter Lake, Pottowottomie County, KS, and his chronic diarrhea prevented him from doing hard labor. His occupation was farming. In his application for pension increase on 20 Feb. 1873 at Manhattan, Riley county, KS, he was 5 ft. 11 inches high, weighed 175 pounds, of light complexion, and of age 33. His last request for a pension increase was on 17 May 1878. He was of age 38 and a resident of Irving, Marshall county, KS. On 20 Nov. 1883 his son M. D. Keeney, of Randolf, KS, wrote to the Department of Interior concerning the pension.[g]

A cyclone at Irving, KS killed John, Flora, and Clinton. They were buried in one grave. Towanda Daily Review, 1879: "Through the kindness of Mrs. Keeney, who is bereft of a loving husband, Mr. Clinton Keeney, son and daughter-in-law, by the terrible calamity an account of which is therein given, we are enabled to lay before our readers, the following touching letter descriptive of the terrible calamity which recently visited the town of Irving, Kansas. Mr. Clinton Keeney was sojourning in Kansas only temporarily on a visit to his son. His wife and the other portion of his family remaining at their home in Tuscarora township this county."

"Irving, Kansas, June 14, 1879.

My Dear Mrs. Keeney: - Your letter of inquiry about your husband has been given to me. As your son was a personal friend, I can sympathize with you in your sorrow. It is very difficult to learn anything about the storm that is certain. There seems to have been an electric influence with it that took away the senses of the people. But what I say seems to be pretty accurate.

Mr. Keeney's house stood on the southwest corner of a five acre lot, and was partly surrounded by peach trees. It was missed by the first cyclone, which came from the southwest, but was in the track of the second coming from the north-west. The house was totally destroyed, probably no two boards were found together. Your husband and son were holding the south door, Mark and James the west door, when the house was struck. They had just finished supper. Mrs. Keeney and Nathan C. Keeney were standing near the door between the two rooms. Mark thinks it blew a minute or two before the house went. After that he knew nothing.

I learn from the men who found them, that your husband was found on his back about the middle of the lot. What hurts he received I cannot say, nor could they as he was so covered with mud. I saw him after I got home,

(I was one hundred miles west and got home next day,) and I think his face was not hurt. Your son had a large gash over his right eye. Both were easily recognized. When found they were close together. Mrs. Keeney was carried somewhat farther than they were, and was driven head first into the ground almost to her breast . . .

The boys were found nearer the house. Indeed Mark and Nathan found their own way to the only house left standing. Mark lay an hour before coming to. He has a distinct remembrance of sitting down under a tree in the rain. Looking around he saw Nathan wandering around and went and took him by the hand and went to Mr. Walkers. Jimmy found himself under a tree with a leg broken in five places and doubled over the other. He speaks (as does Mark) of dreaming there was a wind . . .

Of course there was no procession, none of the usual ceremony of funerals. The boxes for the coffins were put in side by side all three. Your husband and son were brought in first, and then Mrs. K. They were placed in the grave as follows: Your husband on the north side, John in the center and his wife on the south. I then went and told Mark and Nathan that they were left alone, but the doctors forbade my speaking to Jimmy.

"Then came the funeral. Ten souls had been taken away, ten bodies were given back to the earth. I read the opening services of the Methodist ritual, then "Jesus Lover of my soul" was sung, followed by addresses from the Presbyterian and Methodist ministers, then another hymn, "Asleep in Jesus," then I read the closing parts of the service committing the bodies to the earth. Then the hymn, "It is not death to die" was sung and the benediction given."

"Since then I have had the boys moved to my house, all of them. Mark is well again. Jimmy, whose hurt is as bad as any ones, excepting one old man, is doing well and we hope to save his leg and that he will have good use of it. Nathan is doing well, his arm out of the sling and his collar bone going on well . . . Your friend in Christ,
Charles Holmes." [n]

+S15. JOHN ALPINE CODDING AND HIS DESCENDANTS

D. John Alpine Codding[7] (Susanna[6] Wood, Consider[5]), born 6 July 1819 in Dutchess County, NY, died 1 June 1909 in Towanda, PA; married (1) on 14 Nov. 1847 in LeRaysville, Perciller Lee Hodge, born 13 Mar. 1826 at Plymouth, PA, died 4 Feb. 1888 (gravestone) in Towanda, interred in the Oak Hill cemetery, Towanda, daughter of Rev. James and Rebecca (Miller) Hodge; married (2) on 10 Sept. 1890 by Rev. W. Hermans, Mercy (Beecher) Taylor, of Barclay, born 18 Jan. 1838, died 22 July 1913, widow of William G. Taylor, daughter of Bradford Beecher. Mercy had a child, George B. Taylor.[b,d,e,m,n]

John Codding wrote in 1898: "I was born in the town of North East, County of Dutchess and State of New York July 6 1819. When I was a child two or three years of age I followed my older sisters who went to the woods for berries. In climbing over a pole fence, a pole or log was pulled from the top of the fence which fell on me and rolled partly over me. It was so heavy that my sisters Mary and Amy could not lift it off. I was carried to the house unconscious and so remained through the first night. There has always been an ugly scar under my left ear and jaw which is still very noticeable. In Oct. 1823, I went with the whole family to Hillsdale, Columbia County N.Y. stayed there a week and started from the home of Uncle John McAlpine for Bradford County, Pennsylvania. We crossed the Hudson River on a ferry boat propelled by horse on a tread mill. We stayed the first night of our journey west of the little old town of Esopus. We traveled in an old lumber wagon covered with muslin - a sort of Prairie schooner. We had our provisions in the wagon and lived there six days. A bed was found for Mother and the 6 months old baby nights. The baby was Susanna, now Mrs. Albert F. Shadduck. We stopped the last day of our journey at Russel Very's in Bridgewater Susq. County. Mrs. Very was Mother's sister Lucy. Father said he paid his last shilling at Montrose. Russel Very's was about 11 miles from our destination at Uncle Josiah Wood's. Within two or three days we were living in our new log house. My first school days was the summer I was 8 years old, 1827. The log school house was about two miles from our house and through the woods."

"In the spring of 1826 I went to live with Russel Very. His wife was Mother's sister Lucy in Bridgewater township Susq. County, Pa. about 6 miles south of Montrose. There I was sort of sprinter chore and errand boy. Stayed about 6 months. When I was eleven years of age I was sent to live with Samuel Gregory, two miles east of LeRaysville. I stayed there nearly a year, did chores, drove and milked cows and took care of baby. In the latter part of the season of 1831 after I was twelve years old I commenced to work at the mason's trade with father. Our work was mostly building chimneys and cellar walls. I attended school quite regularly winters, the next four years. Our schoolhouse was now only a mile and a quarter from home."

"In the fall 1836 I had commenced attending school at home. Father was on his circuit preaching. He wrote to me from Albany, Bradford County that a teacher was needed. That I should come and teach the school. I started at once. My Brother David took me with a sleigh to the Towanda Bridge - the toll to cross the bridge was 25 cents. David returned and I walked in a blinding snowstorm about the last of Dec. 1836 to where what is now Laddsburg 15 miles from Towanda. I had no overcoat nor grip sack nor trunk - my extra shirts and stockings were tied up in a pocket handkerchief and carried in my hand. I taught the school three months at nine dollars per month; did some extra work for which I got three dollars; and twenty seven dollars for teaching so I carried home the enormous wealth of thirty dollars. It was greater wealth and much more money than I had ever possessed."

"When I arrived home our family needed flour and many other things, and my wealth soon faded away. The summer was occupied at mason work. The next fall the Laddsburg people wrote to me to teach their school again. I had engaged to teach at Springhill, Tuscarora twp. at $12 per month. David went to Albany, taught there two winters. There he found and married Celinda Ladd. They lived together 53 years. She is now living 81 years of age (1898). I taught two winters in Tuscarora 1838 and 1839. The next winter 1840 in Bridgewater (now Jessup), the Russel Very neighborhood where I lived when I was a 7 year old boy. That winter 1841 I taught school west of LeRaysville - called the west school house. I was two winters in Merryall district Wyalusing township and had my home in the same house where Maj. Guy Wells was born. In 1845 I taught the village school in LeRaysville, three winters in the Center district where Alonzo Bosworth lives. The balance of my teaching was in my home district at the stone house. I did not teach after 1852."

"I was the master workman and did most of the work with my own hands in building five stone dwelling houses - one for ourselves in 1840 - one for Uncle Platt Wood in 1842 - one for Abner Wood in 1846 - one for John Alderson in 1847 - one for Joel Turrell in Forest Lake twp Susq. county in 1848 and 1849 and now after more than fifty years they are all occupied by families (1898). In 1850-1851 and 1852 I built some of the very best building in Owego and Elmira. The AhWaga in Owego I superintended from foundation to chimney top and worked on the Rathbun house and others in the city of Elmira. I was boss mason in the building the piers and abutments of the Chemung river railroad bridge for the Erie RR Co. in 1852 and the same for the Erie RR bridge at Passaic New Jersey in 1853 and two locks and one aqueduct on the North Branch Canal in 1853 and 1854 in Athens township this county."

"Military promotions as follows: enlisted in the Pike Cavalry in 1841 a volunteer militia company of Penna. Uniformed Militia; Commissioned First Lieut. Nov. 24 1842; Captain May 4, 1846; elected Major Feb. 1847, Commissioned Lieut. Colonel June 23, 1847, Brigade Inspector June 4, 1849, Capt. of Towanda Home Guards June 15 1861."

"During the time I lived in Pike I had the office of Town Clerk, Township Auditor and School Director, one or more of those offices nearly every year. After coming to Towanda, was Judge of Election 13 years in succession when the Boro was only one election and over 700 votes were polled. I was School Director in Towanda two term and Boro Council one term. In the war in 1862 was appointed Commissioner of Draft Oct. 16 1862 - did draft 400 men from Bradford County and took them to Harrisburg where they were enrolled in companies and sent to the front. I was elected High Sheriff of Bradford Co. Oct. 23, 1854 for three years. While Sheriff Nov. 5 1855 I was thrown from my carriage while driving in Canton twp and sustained a compound fracture of the left leg below the knee and was laid up in Canton township 42 days before I could be brought home to Towanda. When my term of three years as Sheriff was ended in 1857 my Deputy Thomas M. Woodruff was elected High Sheriff and I took the position of Deputy Sheriff and continued in the office three years longer or until 1860. In 1860 commenced the hardware firm Codding and Russell which continued to 1876. In 1876 was elected President of the Eureka Mower Company and traveled in 1876 and 1877 establishing agencies, etc. In 1880 was appointed enumerator to take the census in Towanda Boro which occupied the entire month of June 1880. In August 1890 I commenced to write in the Prothonotary's office and continue to do so until Jany 1885. During most of that time I was a Justice of the Peace (Dec. 11, 1880 to May 4 1896) and kept open a separate office. I never was defeated at an election I have been a candidate in town Boro and county 30 times without a single defeat."

"On the 14 day of November 1847 at the village of LeRaysville Bradford Co. Pa. I married Perciller Lee Hodge, daughter of Rev. James Hodge. She was a model of modesty, virtue, grace and beauty. Her form and personal appearance were faultless. As a wife and mother I in my affection and loving adoration thought her peerless. She was in every sense a noble Christian woman. She was bright intelligent educated, had been a teacher several terms and not the least of her accomplishments, she was a model housekeeper. We lived together more than 40 years and never a word of scolding to her husband ever passed her lips. She was a faithful member of M.E. Church till death."

"We commenced housekeeping the last of Nov. or first of Dec. 1847 in the stone house. I taught school in the center district near Alonzo Bosworths the first winter after I was married and boarded at home. The next 6 years my work was way from home nearly the whole time. My good wife faithful careful and loyal to our united interests was an important factor in our success. July 8, 1849 was a bright spot in our lives. Our first baby was born. We named him James Hodge after his maternal Grandfather and James after my paternal grandfather. The winters of 1849-1850 and 1850 I taught school in our home district and boarded at home. In 1852-53 and 1854 I was away from home summer and winter. While my dear good Perciller and my little boy James remained at home she managed the farm, made and sold butter, sold wool from the sheep and in fact paid all living expenses of the family and all the money I earned ($3.00 per day) was carefully saved and used to pay for the farm. When I was elected Sheriff in Oct. 1854 I owned the farm 170 acres and had about $2,000 in cash."

"After I was married I worked at Joel Turells stone house in 1848 and 1849. In Owego and Elmira in 1850 and 1851 at the Chemung Bridge in 1852 until Sept. From Sept. 1852 to 1853 at the Passaic Bridge N.J. From Sept. 1853 to May 1854 at the canal locks in Athens twp - came home May 7, 1854 to stay. June 10, 1854 another boy was born. We named him John Wesley Codding. While we lived in the Courthouse May 2 1857 a bright little boy was born. We called him Charles Lee and he is now settled a practicing physician and surgeon in Duluth, Minn. In Nov. 1857 we bought of Dr. D. S. Pratt the house on the bank of the river known as the Carman house at the foot of Weston Street for $1500 and moved into it at once, We lived there seven years. In that house on the 19th of May 1862 our only daughter Mary was born. In July 1864 we purchased the large house on second street and moved into it the last day of Aug. 1864. I have continued to live in the same house to the present time Feb. 16 1898. Mary was born in the house on River Street at the foot of Weston Street. Our fifth and last child was born April 9 1866 in the house where I now live. His name was Arthur Edward Codding. We sold our store business in the spring of 1876. I was elected president of the Eureka Mower Co. at a salary of $2,000 a year. In 1861 I united with Methodist Episcopal Church in Towanda and have been a class leader continuously in the same church to this day. My wife is a member of the same church."

"The dark cloud and deep sorrow of my life came to me in 1887 and 1888. In 1886 my dear wife Perciller gradually declined in health. Early in 1887 her lower limbs and body were paralyzed and so continued until Feby 4 1888 when Rest came after months of patient suffering. Thus passed away from earth one of the noblest spirits that ever irradiated the form of an American woman. Her mortal remains lie at Rest in Riverside Cemetery beside her little son Arthur Edward."

"I married for a second wife Sept. 11 1890 Mercy Beecher Taylor. She had only one child George B. Taylor a Physician, who graduated at the University of Pennsylvania. My present wife was born in Pike Jany 18 1838 and is 60 years old. We are now living alone at the old homestead mansion enjoying comfortable health. We feel at peace with the whole world and do not envy the wealthiest and proudest mortals on earth." [b]

S21. MARTIN CODDING AGNEW

b. Martin Codding Agnew[9] (Frances[8], Martin Codding[7], Susanna[6] Wood, Consider[5]), b. 4 March 1882 in Pike township, PA, d. 27 July 1920 at Lusk, WY; m. on 29 Aug. 1910 in Lusk, WY, Nellie S. Snyder, b. 7 Nov. 1888 on the LZ Ranch near Lusk, WY, d. 2 May 1955 at Lusk, WY.[i-4,n]

Obituary: "When Martin Agnew, affectionately known to everyone as Mart was stricken by the hand of death on Tuesday of this week, the wheels of commerce not only in Lusk, but in the entire county, were slackened as men stopped to mourn the loss of one whom all agreed was the most popular man in the county. The commercial club of Lusk was at dinner when the news of his impending death arrived. With one accord men left the table and departed to be near his side at the end. As the news became general, automobiles lined the street in which he lived and a host of friends waited and watched, hopeful that he might be restored to consciousness."

"Martin Agnew was popular because of his virtues. He was a good fellow, but not as some regard that term. His nobleness of character, his generosity to a fault, his willingness to lay aside his own interests to help others, his tirelessness for every cause, his purity of habit, gentleness of speech and charity to all mankind were and most of all beloved. He had that rare combination of character, which represents the best of the human race, when the gentleness and kindness of a woman is incarcerated in a man's body and combined with the sterling qualities which mark the highest type of a man. Men honored and loved him, and everyone who knew him thought of Mart more as a brother than as a friend. He was the First Citizen of Lusk and of Niobrara county, not by virtue of any office he held, but solely by virtue of the grip he had on the hearts of every one due to this nobleness of life."

"Martin Agnew was the worshipful Master of Harmony Lodge No. 24, A.F. and A.M., of Lusk, Wyoming. He was the ruling spirit in that Lodge composed of the best men in the community, and as a Mason his life represented the Masonic teachings which are symbolized in the Lamb Skin or White Leather Apron; it is the emblem of innocence and is the badge of a Mason. And he was an emblem to those who knew him in life, and in death his memory will every be the guiding light to better and higher living for the old as well as the young who knew him. Not only was he the head of the Masonic life of Lusk, but he was the leading Mason in Niobrara county, having recently conferred upon him by the Consistory at Cheyenne the degree of Knight Commander of the Court of Honor which made him eligible to become a thirty-third Degree Mason within two years. All who knew him rejoiced at his selection for this high distinction and knew that no wiser choice could have been made." Honors, however, could not spoil

Martin Agnew, his glory was not in securing honors but in doing the menial task that others could not do. The last conversation I had with Mart exemplified this as the key note of his life. And from the days when he herded sheep in Wyoming until the day of his death, his passion was to help by doing what others thought beneath their dignity."

Walter Agnew (1920): "People came from all over the State, largest funeral ever held in Lusk. I never saw so many beautiful flowers, several thousand dollars worth. The whole town is in mourning, every business place closed, procession extended from house to cemetery, over a mile of solid cars, everyone in tears. I never heard one spoken so highly of."

WOOD REUNION

"On August 24, 1904 about 150 descendants of Consider Wood and Mary Adams Wood held their third annual reunion at the pleasant rural home of Albert F. and Susanna D. (Codding) Shadduck at Rush township, Susquehanna county, Pa. John A. Shadduck and family reside in the same house with his parents and were very active and efficient in receiving and caring for the guests. The crowd commenced to arrive about 9 o'clock A. M. Rev. Wilkes, the Presbyterian minister of Stevensville, opened the meeting with prayer and an address of welcome, which was ably done. A sumptuous dinner was served at high noon. After all had been fed the officers introduced a program of music and recitations rendered with credit to the performers. The music was especially fine, and much enjoyed by all present. The speaking by Miss Mary Shadduck was very good. A letter was read from Dr. Chas. L. Codding of Duluth, Minn. He is a great-grandson of the soldier, and was born in the old court house in Towanda 47 years ago."

"At a business meeting of the officers it was resolved to place a headstone in the cemetery in LeRaysville over the resting place of the veteran Consider Wood and his faithful wife as a memorial to his services in the revolution. The winds and snows of more than 80 years have swept over the graves of the soldier and his wife, the very first buried in that cemetery. A paper was read, giving the soldier's military history . . . Josiah Wood, son of Consider Wood, was a soldier in the war of 1812 and a pensioner. Martin O. Codding, Josiah A. Bosworth and John Keeney were soldiers in the Civil War, grandsons of Susanna Wood (Codding). Aaron Wood, son of Consider, had four sons in the Civil war: Aaron A., John S., Ethiel C. and Daniel. All are dead. Ethiel was killed at Gettysburg. David Wood, son of Consider, had two sons in the Civil War, Beebe W. Wood, who died from diseases contracted in the war, and Abner Wood, who died of disease in the Civil war. Abner Wood, son of Consider, had a son killed at Gettysburg. Lucy Wood Very had one or two sons in the Civil war. Consider Wood came from Dutchess county, N.Y., to Pike township, Pa., with his family about 1817. His wife died soon after their arrival in their forest home. There have been two deaths reported in the family since last year: James Kenneth, son of Ethiel C. Wood, aged nine months; and one who was with us last year, David Clayton, son of John S. Wood, who was born Dec. 14 1869 and died Sept. 22, 1903. His kind heartedness and loyalty won from him many friends who have missed him during the past months; but we know that he is awaiting us in the Homeland where we shall join in the great Reunion to part no more. All who met with the Shadduck family were charmed with their reception and entertainment. All were made to feel at home, and in the home of a happy family, where every friend partakes their store, and want goes smiling from the door. The next reunion will be held at the home of Frank Wood, LeRaysville, Pa. J. A. C." [n]

Dad worked in the lumber business and farmed. He worked as a logger and cruised timber* (estimated number of thousands of board feet in given pieces or tracks of timber) *in his early years for A.C. Crosley, Inc., then in later years was in a partnership in the logging business where he bought the timber, logged it and sold to the saw mills. At the same time he ran the dairy farm and did a lot of grain farming. He was also a very good sheep shearer (1 every 3 to 5 minutes). He was a hunter and fisherman. He made many trips to Canada for lake and brook trout, catfish and bullheads. All of his hunting was locally in PA. He shot the first legal buck deer in Rush Township when the deer came back to our area after being gone for many ears. He also raised potatoes which were known as the best around. # CHAPTER III

DESCENT FROM MARY[6] WOOD

II. Mary[6] Wood (Consider[5]), born 27 Sept. 1787 in either Amenia or Washington precinct, Dutchess county, NY, died 29 March 1844 in Hillsdale precinct, Columbia county, NY, aged 56 years, 6 months and 2 days (gravestone); married, on or before 1812, to John McAlpine, born June 1788 in Dutchess County, died 2 Jan. 1874 in North Hillsdale precinct, aged 85 years and 7 months (gravestone). Mary and John were interred in the Methodist Church cemetery at North Hillsdale.[a,b,g]

John and Mary apparently moved from North East precinct, Dutchess county in 1812. John stated for the agricultural census of 1855 that he had been a resident of Columbia county for 43 years. Orville was born (29 Nov. 1814) in Columbia county. Land records show that on 13 May 1816, John and Daniel McAlpine Jr. of the town of North East, Dutchess county, bought of Peter Meisick et al. for $5,000, five parcels of land in Hillsdale, totaling about 185 acres. On 9 Nov. 1821, Daniel McAlpine, Jr. and Catharine, his wife, of Kinderhook, sold to John for $1,500, 145 acres, the John McAlpine farm "upon which he now lives." On 7 April 1838 John bought land in Hillsdale from Hiram Brown and Wife for $3,500, containing 101 acres, 13 rods and 37 perches, and on 25 May 1838 he obtained from them 19 acres, 2 rods and 15 perches of land. John's brother Walter lived near him.

For the U.S. Farm Census of 1850, John reported his land value as $7,000 with 136 acres of improved land, 50 acres unimproved, $300 worth of farm implements, 3 horses, 4 milk cows, 3 other cattle, 21 sheep, 18 swine, livestock worth $522. He harvested 250 bushels of rye, 400 of corn, and 400 of oats. He had 70 acres of woodland, produced 2 bushels of peas and beans, 200 of potatoes, 60 of buckwheat, 600 lbs. of butter, 150 lbs. of cheese, 20 tons of hay, 2 bushels of grass seed, 5 lbs. of hops, and 3 gallons of molasses. The value of his orchard was $50, value of animals slaughtered $100. In the 1855 census, John stated that had lived in Columbia county for 43 years. He was of age 67 and lived with his son Robert. The 1860 and 1870 census listed him in the household of Robert's son, John E. McAlpine. The 1865 census recorded that he had 5 children.

In 1840, John and Mary sold to their son, Robert, 153 acres of the farm for $3,600. Mary used an x for her signature. On 1 April 1854, John sold to Robert of Hillsdale, 44 acres for $925. On 1 March 1856 John sold to Orville for $5,000, 152 acres of land bordering Robert's.[c]

CHAPTER IV

DESCENT FROM JOSIAH[6] WOOD

III. Josiah[6] Wood (Consider[5]), born 22 August 1789 in Amenia Precinct, Dutchess county, NY, died 30 Nov. 1879, interred in Spring Hill cemetery, Pike township, Bradford county, PA, at age 90 (gravestone); married on 11 Feb. 1819 in the town of Windham, Luzerne county (now Wyoming county), Maria Prentice of Mehoopany, PA, born 20 Dec. 1797 in Massachusetts, died 2 Oct. 1889 in Iowa Falls, IA.[a,b,n]

According to John Codding, Josiah "presided" the migration of the Wood Family from Dutchess county to LeRaysville. He settled and cleared a large farm north of the east half of the stone house farm. The east line of his farm was on the county line. He lived there in a log house when the David Codding family came in Oct. 1823. No deed was found that showed Josiah had bought land before 4 March 1848 when he bought from the trustees of the Samuel Wilcock estate of Philadelphia, 61 acres of land for $122.20, and when on 27 Sept. 1852 he purchased 57 acres for $285.50 from the Robert Proud estate, Philadelphia. In Oct. 1868 Josiah and Maria sold to Sylvester Wood his land in Pike township.[b,j]

* In the household of Beebe Wood;  in household of Sylvester Wood;
\+ In household of Judson Slocum. The 1840 census listed Josiah as Joseph.

Information concerning Josiah comes mainly from his War of 1812 land bounty and pension applications. At Montrose, PA he signed an application for a land warrant on 31 Jan. 1851 stating that he was a private in a company commanded by Captain Joseph Camp, of militia commanded by Lieutenant Colonel James Montgomery, that he volunteered at Mehoopany, PA in October 1814 for the term of six months and was discharged at Danville, PA on or about 22 November 1814. On 23 July 1853 Josiah "renewed" his application for a land warrant. Pursuant to a Federal Act of March 3, 1855, Josiah, on 12 March and of Pike township, applied for an increase in his bounty allocation. In this application he stated that he had previously received and sold forty acres (warrant No. 6822). He was then given a second allocation of 120 acres (warrant No. 15015).

In his pension application first filed on 20 April 1871 Josiah stated that he served as a substitute for Ruel Robinson in Captain Camp's Company of the Pennsylvania Militia for about one month as a private. He enlisted at Forkston, Wyoming county, Pa. At the time of enlistment he was 23 years of age, a farmer born in Duchess county, NY. His height was about 5 feet 10 inches, hair and eyes black, and was of dark complexion. The applicant listed his age as 89, a resident of Tuscarora, and that he had received a land warrant. Federal records showed that he answered roll from 3 Sept. to 14

Sept. 1814 at Fort Erie, in Captain Haskell's Company of the New York Volunteer Militia, in Lieutenant Colonel Jedediah Crosby's Regiment. Maria Wood filed for widow's pension on 14 Feb. 1880. She stated her age as 82 and a resident of Franklin county, Iowa. She also stated that her husband was six feet tall, had black hair, black eyes and fair complexion, that she was married to Josiah in the town of Windham, Luzerne county on 11 February 1819 by Josiah Fassett, Justice of the Peace, that her maiden name was Maria Prentice, that she was never married previously, and that Josiah died at Spring Hill on the 30 Nov. 1879. She and Josiah had lived in Pike township until 1879, and she has resided in Franklin county, Iowa since then.

Josiah's declaration for a pension:[a] *"State of Pennsylvania County of Bradford On this fifth day of April A.D. one thousand Eight hundred and Seventy one personally appeared before me W. A. ## +J2. EMMARENZA WOOD AND HER DESCENDANTS

C. Emmarenza[7] Wood (Josiah[6], Consider[5]), born 14 June 1831, died Feb. 1895 in Pennsylvania; married on 3 July 1847 at Rome, Bradford county, Judson Wayne Slocum, born about 1825-26 at LeRaysville, died 4 Jan. 1899 at Iowa Falls, IA.[d]

Judson was a Farmer. In his Civil War pension application he described himself as having a light complexion, light colored hair, and grey eyes. In his pension statement of 8 July 1898, he stated that his surviving children were: Flora, Jennie, Annie, and Susie. Judson and Emmarenza lived in Pike township, but moved to Lee township, Franklin county, IA in the Fall of 1869. His post office address was Iowa Falls.[d]

During the Civil War Judson was enrolled on 19 Sept. 1862 in Company D, 17th Regiment, PA Cavalry, and was discharged as Sergeant at Clauds Mills, VA (near Lincolnia) on 16 June 1865. While on duty, "on or near Aquateeh Creek, on 15 Dec. 1862, he received injury of the left foot caused by a horse stepping on it. On or about Dec. 1862 at or near Washington, DC, he received injury of breast and back caused by being thrown from a horse and also about that time he contracted the Piles caused by riding on horseback. On or about Spring of 1863 at Beverly Ford, Rappahannock River, VA, he received injury of left shoulder besides severe internal injury caused by being thrown from horse and at Suldes, Va, on 20 June 1863, he received an additional injury of Spine by being thrown from horse resulting in injury of kidneys, Rheumatism, and general internal injuries. He was treated for about four weeks at Frederick, MD, about two days at Baltimore MD, and afterward at Germantown PA about 3 months." During the year of 1864, Judson was on extended leave at home.[d]

The record of the 17th Regiment is described in Craft's History of Bradford County. The Regiment was "in five successive campaigns, in over thirty six engagements and shed its blood on every battlefield from Gettysburg to Appomattox." Company D was recruited from Bradford and Susquehanna counties. The regiment was organized at Camp Simons near Harrisburg and moved to Washington on 25 November 1862. It encamped on East Capital Hill for several days and encountered first fire on 22 December at Accoquan, Va. In January "the 17th was assigned to the Second Brigade of the 1st Cavalry Division, where it was associated with the 6th New York, 6th U.S., and 8th Pennsylvania. The 17th was one of the only three cavalry regiments accompanying Hooker on the Chancellorsville campaign," on the 2nd and 3rd of May.[e]

The engagement at Beverly's Ford (near the railroad crossing on the North fork of the Rappahannock) was one of the great cavalry fights of the war. Report was received that General Stuart was massing a large force of rebel cavalry and support forces in the vicinity of Culpepper, VA. The New York Times reported that Stuart had 12,000 cavalry and 16 pieces of artillery and infantry. He had planned to attack on Wednesday, June 10, 1863. General Hooker quickly obtained all the cavalry that could be spared, assigned a battery of artillery to each brigade, and assigned about ten small regiments of infantry. The force was considered to be smaller by several thousand than the Rebel force. At dawn, Tuesday June 9, the Union forces advanced. "The morning was cool and pleasant, a thick mist hung over the river, and objects on the other side were indistinct. Our cavalry soon reached the river, dashed in, dashed up the bank, and were well on the opposite side before the rebels in their fortifications were aware of their presence." The rebels soon recovered, received reinforcements, and the battle raged until three in the afternoon when General Stuart pulled his troops back. "Besides defeating the enemy in a severe battle, we have ravaged his camp, ascertained his strength to a figure, and frustrated a bold plan, the execution of which was to have begun tomorrow morning at daylight." [f]

In recent months he had remained on the second floor of the home where he had lived with his daughter, Elsie Wootton, for nearly 18 years. For years he played the piano and enjoyed singing old-time songs. Reynolds was born Feb. 10, 1878, at LeRaysville, Pa., and first came to New Mexico to visit friends. He was a school teacher and although his salary was small, he saved $500 to make the trip to New Mexico in 1899. His first job was at Ranch Headquarters in Lamy where he was in charge of cattle and ranch supplies. He and his wife, the late Agnes O'Donnell Reynolds, were married in 1902. His wife, who had been a governess, died in 1964. The couple came to Albuquerque in 1903. Reynolds worked at the Frank Trotter grocery. He often recalled that he was sweeping in front of the store when the Western Union operator dashed into the street telling about the 1906 San Francisco earthquake. Later he was a partner in the Eicher-Reynolds Spot Cash Grocery at Second Street and Gold Avenue S.W. Eventually, Reynolds left the grocery business to establish Reynolds Dairy in the 1920's. It was west of Old Town on 17 acres. It was near the site where the Village Inn Pancake House is located today. Reynolds has three daughters, Margaret Reynolds, Elsie Wootton and Barbara Allard, all of Albuquerque; two sons, Eugene Earl Reynolds, San Diego, Calif., and James B. Reynolds, Silverton, Ore.; 31 grandchildren; 70 great-grandchildren; and six great-great-grandchildren. ## +J31. LEVI N. ROGERS AND DESCENDANTS

8. Levi N. Rogers[8] (Celinda[7] Wood, Josiah[6], Consider[5]), born 19 Oct. 1879 at LeRaysville, PA, died Dec. 1973 (gravestone) at LeRaysville, PA; married (1) on 19 Mar. 1902, at the age of 22, by Reverend George Osborne Beers, at LeRaysville, Helen Moore, of LeRaysville, at age 22, born in 1879, died 1930, daughter of Guy W. and Cora Moore; married (2) Carrie F. Rose, born 14 Nov. 1880, died 1 Jan. 1955. Levi, Helen, and Carrie were interred in Stevens cemetery, near LeRaysville.[f,g,h-73,t]

From a news item written on his ninetieth birthday: Levi was born on Ford Street and attended Pine Grove School at Stevensville. During his early years he spent his time employed on surrounding farms, helping with the harvesting, working in a saw mill. "I was five foot, nine inches tall as a youth." At the age of 21 he traveled "to Nebraska by rail to look into some land holdings. This was 1901 and he learned on his arrival that what he owned did not amount to much. Penniless, he worked his way to South Dakota where he had gone to answer a newspaper advertisement from a rancher seeking a sheepherder. 'When I arrived in Sturgis, South Dakota, I went to the post office and inquired about the rancher and his location. The postmaster pointed out the front door and said, As Straight as you can go for 145 miles into the Bad Lands. I didn't go.

I stayed in Sturgis and got a job carrying mail from that town to the United States Army at Fort Meade, some 8 miles from the village. I rode the route on horseback and went like the wind across those Bad Lands to the fort. Once each month I would carry the soldier's pay from Sturgis to the fort.'"

"Always a great baseball player, Levi played some games on the Sturgis team, played some ball with the LeRaysville and Wyalusing team and also played ball while residing in the Wyoming Valley. In fact he played ball until he was 49 years old and enjoyed every moment of it. Although he could play most positions, his favorite was pitching. 'I pitched right-handed and batted left-handed but never liked to catch. I socked one ball in a decisive game between the Sturgis team and a team from the Black Hills, knocked it so far it could have been two home runs. I recall dropping only one fly ball in my whole life.'"

After returning to LeRaysville from the West, Levi became a Rural Free Delivery mail carrier. "'That was in 1904 and many's the time in winter when the roads were blocked by snow and I had to deliver the mail on horseback. When the mail routes were later consolidated, I lost my job at LeRaysville and was transferred to Springville, Susquehanna County, where I delivered mail for several years.' A part of Levi's life was spent working at the Lehigh Valley Coal Company mines near Wilkes-Barre. He recalls the day in 1930 when he was trapped against a wall when a train of empty coal cars headed towards him. 'I got up as close to the wall as I could and might have been crushed by the cars had they not been derailed by a rock that just happened to be on the tracks not far from where I stood. As the first car tipped from the track and came speeding towards me, I pushed against it with both hands and shoved it aside. But others came on and knocked me to the ground. The axle housing on the cars dug painfully into my right leg, causing a compound fracture.'" Levi spent four months in a hospital and has been crippled since that time. He was a member of the LeRaysville Congregational Church and served as Judge of Election in LeRaysville for 25 years.

This is to certify that I have Examined the family Bible of Josiah Wood Father of Sylvester W. Wood and I find the records of the birth of Josiah Woods family. The names of the family seems to be in regular order Except - the last two births that of Lorenda M. Wood and Sylvester W. Wood seems to be a different hand write. This record* *shows that Sylvester W. Wood was born on the 22 day of March 1842. # CHAPTER V

DESCENT FROM AARON[6] WOOD

IV. Aaron[6] Wood (Consider[5]), born June 1792-3 at North East, Dutchess county, NY, died 23 Sept. 1865 near LeRaysville, Bradford county, PA, aged 73 years, 3 months; married after 1819 at Ovid, NY, Cornelia Carpenter, born 1802-3 in Connecticut, died 8 July 1877. Aaron and Cornelia were interred in Keech Hill cemetery, Rush township, Susquehanna county, PA.[a,f-40,g,p]

Information concerning Aaron Wood comes mainly from the writings of John A. Codding (nephew) and from the information passed down by Aaron's son David. Aaron came with his parents to Bradford county in 1815-1816. He and his brother Josiah settled on land south east of LeRaysville. His farm was north of the east half of the Stonehouse farm, the east line of the farm was the county line. He lived there in a log house when the Coddings came there in October 1823. According to John Codding, settlers in that area did not intend to purchase the land and were termed squatters. The owners were willing and anxious for settlers to come and improve their lands and make them valuable. In 1840 the Coddings were asked to buy the land at eight dollars an acre. Aaron and Cornelia, in 1852, sold 20 acres in Rush township to Stephen Keech, "lot on which they lived," boarding on the west by the county line, on the south by John S. Codding, on the east by Stephen Keech and on the north by John Ayers. Cornelia used an X as her mark. In 1853 Aaron and Cornelia sold to Harriet Ayers 74 acres in Rush township, land on the west boarded by the county line, on the south by Stephen Keech, on the east by Aaron A. Wood and Israel Black. In May 1854 Aaron and Cornelia sold, for $1800, 120 acres to David S. Codding, land next to John A. Codding and Isaac and David Ford, east to the Susquehanna county line. On 3 Jan. 1865 Aaron and Cornelia sold 50 acres of land to Daniel B. Wood, next to John Alderson's land and next to 26 acres of land they sold to John S. Wood on the same date. The 1860 census showed that Aaron, Aaron A., and David C. Wood lived next door to each other and that Platt was nearby. [a,c]

According to Gladys Bowker, Cornelia had light brown hair and blue eyes. Nothing is known about Cornelia's parents and how Aaron knew about Cornelia at Ovid, NY. Great granddaughter Millicent Gillen (DAR registrar) concluded that Cornelia's father's name was David, who married Harriet Stone (probably daughter of Ethiel Stone), and was the son of Benjamin Carpenter of Troy, NY. Benjamin "bought the 500 acre plot in the N. Y. Military tract along Seneca Lake which was allotted to a Rev. soldier and in 1811 bought another 500 acres of another Rev. Soldier. He never lived on them but we have proof that David Carpenter and wife Harriet lived on one." Cornelia "and Aaron

Wood were married at Ovid on Seneca Lake. Records of Ovid were burned. She was twenty years old in 1799 and often said she was 20 yrs. older than her son David, born in 1820 at Carpenters Landing, just south of Ovid." Consider Wood lived near a Benjamin Carpenter in Dutchess county in 1790. It may be that Aaron went to Ovid to marry his childhood sweetheart. According to Dorothy[9] Wood (Ethiel[8], John S.[7], Aaron[6], Consider[5]), Aaron's son Ethiel was named from Cornelia's brother, Ethiel, who died aboard ship to England.[f-16,f-40,f-139]

John Codding wrote: "About Sept. 3, 1826 Father and Mother professed religion and were baptized with their entire family by a Methodist Minister named David Shepard. The Minister preached in our log house and our family, parents and children 8 in all together with Uncle Aaron Wood with his wife and family, about as many more, went to the little brook, kneeled down in the water and were baptized by dipping up water from the brook, and pouring it on our heads. That was about Oct. 4 1826." [a]

+A1. DAVID CARPENTER WOOD AND HIS DESCENDANTS

B. David Carpenter[7] Wood (Aaron[6], Consider[5]), born 30 Sept. 1822 probably at Carpenters Landing near Ovid, NY, died 23 June 1905 at Prattville, PA at age 83 (gravestone); married on 18 Jan. 1849 at Prattville, PA, Avilda Evelyne Holman, born 28 Oct. 1826 at Middletown, PA, died 15 Feb. 1917 at Honesdale, PA, daughter of John and Ruth (Fairchild) Holman of Middletown, PA. David and Avilda were interred in Keech Hill cemetery.[f-40,f-129,f-155,g,i]

David was on the 1847 tax list for Rush township, Susquehanna county. In 1851 David and Avilda sold 116 acres of land in Middletown, Susquehanna co.

Tax inventory, Pike township, Bradford, county:

| | Acres improved | Acres unimproved | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1847 | | 1 cow | |
| 1845 | | 1 cow | |
| 1853 | | 2 cows | |
| 1856 | 20* | 24* | 1 cow * Transferred from Aaron Wood. |

According to grandson, William A. Wood: "David C. Wood lived at various places in Susquehanna County Pa., but from the time of my earliest memory he and my grandmother lived on a farm about one mile south of Prattville, and three miles south east of LeRaysville, in Bradford County on what was known as the Keech Hill Road. The farm was owned by his son-in-law, Julius Bowker, who married their daughter Harriet. It was a hilly, rocky farm suitable mostly for pasture, and it is my recollection that they had the use of the farm for paying the taxes and keeping the buildings in repair. Even so it was difficult to make more than a frugal living." [e,f-155,c]

"His principal source of cash was from a small dairy. He had to take his milk each morning about six miles over a rough hilly road to a cooperative creamery at Rushville in which he had a small interest, consisting of a few shares. I remember riding with him to the creamery several times when I was a boy. In early life he fell from a building striking his head and injuring his hearing. He was only able to hear when spoken to very loudly. It was on account of his deafness that he was rejected as a civil war soldier." [f-155]

"Both David and Avilda were members of the Methodist Church, and while they lived a rugged and difficult life financially, they were people of sterling integrity and were highly regarded in the community. Grandfather loved to sing but was greatly hampered by his deafness. Water was piped to the house from a spring but they never had plumbing or other modern facilities. For many years their only light was from homemade tallow candles. I remember hearing them tell of their first kerosine lantern. Instead of a lantern globe, it was made of tin punched full of holes to let the light shine through. For sometime everyone stood back away from it fearing it would explode. Their only fuel was wood. Farming tools were mainly a plow, harrow, cultivator, and farm wagon. Hay and grain was cut by hand with a scythe and grain cradle. The most of their clothes were homemade and I remember well his shoe maker bench where shoes were made and the soles attached with wooden pegs." [f-155]

"Grandfather died at this farm June 23, 1905 after which Grandmother Wood spent her remaining days alternately with my parents and with her daughter Myra Gillen at Honesdale. Both are buried at Keech Hill Cemetery about two miles south of the farm where they lived. Grandfather David furnished the land for the cemetery when it was formed." [f-155]

"FIRST REUNION
of the descendants of Consider and Mary Adams Wood." [i]

"This veteran soldier of the Revolutionary war was a native of New England; enlisted in the Continental Army Feb. 9, 1777, discharged Feb. 9, 1780. After three years service he settled in Dutchess county, New York. In 1785 he married Mary Adams. Together they raised to manhood and womanhood ten children- five sons and five daughters. Thirty-nine years after his discharge from the army, that is May 1819, his government gave him a pension which he enjoyed less than three years. He removed from Dutchess county, N. Y., to Pike in this county, in the early part of the last century and died on the 25th day of February, 1822. His remains are at rest by the side of his wife in the cemetery at LeRaysville."

"Their children: Susanna Wood, oldest of the soldiers family, married David Codding; both died in Pike. Polly married John McAlpin and lived in Columbia county, N. Y. Josiah Wood married Maria Prentice and lived in Pike. He was a soldier of the war of 1812 and a pensioner. Aaron Wood married Cornelia Carpenter of Ovid, N. Y. They raised eleven children- five sons and six daughters. Four sons were soldiers, one was killed at Gettysburg. Only two of the sons are living. Abigail married Augustus Adams; they lived in Mehoopany, Wyoming county. David Wood married Amy Wells; his three sons were soldiers. He commenced housekeeping in Pike, and died in Tuscarora. Lucy Wood married Russell Very; they lived and died in Susquehanna county. Abner married Harriet Wells (a sister of David Wood) and lived in Pike. Platt Wood married Lydia Chappel and lived in Pike. Deborah lived unmarried. Rebecca died in childhood. Martin O. Codding was a soldier in the Civil war three years and promoted to 1st Lieut. and served five years in the U. S. Inf. He was a grandson of Susanna Wood Codding. Josiah A. Bosworth, a grandson of Susanna, was a soldier; he was wounded at Gettysburg. Amasa Wood, son of Abner, was killed at Gettysburg. The oldest descendants of the Revolutionary soldier are John A. Codding in his 84th year; his brother, Martin, in his 82nd year, and David C. Wood, 80 years of age on the day of the meeting, a well preserved man, six feet tall and as he walks with a cane, we said he appeared like Jacob leaning on his staff."

"On Tuesday, September 30th, 1902, about fifty persons assembled in a beautiful grove near the dwelling house of David C. Wood in Middletown, Susquehanna county. All were pleasant, cheerful and happy, as shown by the beautiful faces of ladies and jolly, laughing gentlemen. The time was at first used for introductions and pleasant conversation. At twelve o'clock, high noon, a grand and excellent dinner was prepared as by magic. In a very brief space of time there was placed before the company the best that could be produced, cooked and prepared by the best women in America, (and they certainly know how to do it) and the multitude did all eat and were filled, and how many baskets of the broken meat were taken up we did not learn. We know the dinner was good and we will not forget it. After the cloth was removed the president introduced a program of short recitations that kept the audience laughing, which was brought to a close by an eloquent speech by Rev. Mr. Beers, pastor of Methodist charge at LeRaysville. He pleasantly alluded to the venerable gentlemen occupying seats by his side, and spoke of the great and important changes that had been transpiring since they had lived and the changes still going on."

DAVID WOOD

"At the close a business meeting was called to form a permanent organization, with officers which will be noticed later. All were invited to attend the next reunion. J. A. C."

A4. ARTHUR WARREN WOOD AND DESCENDANTS

3. Arthur Warren[8] Wood (David[7], Aaron[6], Consider[5]) was born 9 Sept. 1855 near Rush, PA, died 11 June 1955 at Endwell, NY, buried in the East Herrick cemetery; married on 25 Dec. 1879 at Orwell by Rev. Newton W. Barnes of Orwell, PA and witnesses Newell C. Keeler and Eva Wood, Melicent Betsy Bowker of Herrickville, born 6 July 1852 at Herrick, PA, died 5 Feb. 1943 at Chatham, NJ, daughter of William Minor and Melicent Parthenia (Skilton) Beers Bowker. At the time of marriage, Arthur was living at New Milford, PA.[e,f-129,f-155,g,i]

As narrated by his son William Wood: "Arthur Wood was educated in the local county schools. He attended one school year at Silvara, PA where his brother-in-law, James Gillen, was teacher. He did not like the school and ended his formal education. By self help and experience he became well educated in many respects." Before marriage Melicent Bowker was a teacher in the public schools for several years, a Sunday school teacher and a member of the church choir of the East Herrick Methodist Church. For several years after their marriage, Arthur and Melicent lived about two miles from the Bowker farm at Cold Creek, later known as Hurley, PA post office. Arthur worked there as a farm laborer and much of the time for his brother-in-law Julius Bowker. At this place William Wood was born. In 1887 they purchased an 80 acre farm about one mile southeast of the Bowker farm and 3/4 miles east of the Herrick Church and post office. There Ernest was born. The farm was hilly and about 1/3 was wooded and 1/3 suitable only for pasture. The tillable land was fertile and productive. There was an excellent never failing spring of unusually cold water which was piped to the house. There were no plumbing, electrical or other improvements ever made to the property except a telephone in 1911. The principal cash income was from chickens, turkeys and a small dairy. Eggs sold for 16 cents per dozen. Butter was churned by a dog treadmill. Milk was taken to Camptown cheese factory, about 6 miles over hilly dust roads. A two horse tread power threshing machine was purchased and they did custom threshing for farmers in the area." [f-155]

On 10 Dec. 1882 Arthur Wood of Middletown bought from Charles Coleman 40 acres on Cold Creek in Herrick for $1,200. This land was sold in November 1887 to George H. Titus for $975. He bought 80 acres from Charles H. Dougherty and wife on 10 Nov. 1887 for $2,800. It was sold in Oct. 1918 at a sherriff's sale for $1,230. Arthur was a defendant in a suit brought by C. S. Lafferty in May 1883 for $200, a defendant in a suit by J. S. Crawford for $750 in Dec. 1887, a defendant in a suit by C. H. Dougherty for $1,000 in Feb. 1888, and a defendant in a suit for $1,837 brought by J. A.

Bowker in Feb. 1894.[c,h]

"My father possessed a fine tenor voice. He was director of the church choir for several years. He was an earnest christian, serving as steward of the Herrick United Church and as Sunday School Superintendent. My mother had an alto voice and they enjoyed attending the old-fashioned singing schools. They were constantly called upon to sing at funerals, as was the custom of the day. My father served for a time as road commissioner. He was several years a member of Herrickville Lodge, Patriotic Order Sons of America."

Wyalusing Rocket, Spring 1893, Concert at Herrick Church: Chorus was conducted by Frank B. Homet and included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wood, Grace Wood, Rosa Bowker, May Bowker, and John Wood. "Arthur Wood has a fine tenor voice, clear and sweet. Two little sons of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wood delighted the audience with a song and being recalled gave a second song. They are 5 and 7 years of age and sang remarkably well for such little ones."

In 1908 Arthur purchased equipment for making maple syrup. Maple trees from both the Wood and adjacent Bowker farms were tapped. About 1,200 buckets were set out. Maple syrup sold for 90 cents to $1.00 per gallon and maple sugar for 11 or 12 cents per pound. Notations in the 1911 diary of William A. Wood are as follows:

"March 27 gathered 28 barrels of sap, boiled sap
" 28 gathered 18 barrels, boiled all day and night
" 29 boiled sap all day
" 30 gathered 28 barrels, boiled all day and night
" 31 gathered 12 barrels, boiled all day
April 1 gathered 12 barrels, boiled til midnight
6 gathered 40 barrels, boiled around the clock
7 gathered 14 barrels, boiled all day" [f-155]

"About 1902 when Julius Bowker retired from the Bowker farm, we moved there as my grandmother Melicent still owned it and we worked both that and my father's farm. They took care of Melicent in her final days. The Wood family then moved back to their farm." "My father found it arduous to operate the farm and about 1915 father and mother left the farm and moved to Johnson City area where they lived in Westover and Oakdale. Father worked for Endicott Johnson and also for F. S. Courverse Co., a manufacturer of metal supplies. In 1919 Arthur and Milicent moved to 13 Willard St., Binghamton where he operated a neighborhood grocery. After my father was no longer able to operate the store, they made their home at Chatham, NY at my brother Ernest's and spent their summers at my home in Binghamton." [f-155]

ARTHUR WOOD, MELICENT WOOD, ERNEST WOOD, WILLIAM WOOD

The grandchildren were fascinated by the stories of the early days. These were referred to as Grandpa stories. One was about the time when the folks in the community were picking blackberries on a hill. The women were dressed in their long black dresses and while picking on a hilly slope a rattlesnake bit one in the bosom. The snake got its teeth stuck and could not get loose. The men all rushed to help. Luckily the snake didn't bite into the flesh because newspapers were used to stuff that area, which in turn became the subject of much conversation. Then there was the time when his Uncle John Holman went hunting, and after a long day he spotted the tail of a "wildcat" that was hidden in the bushes. Not wishing to use up his last shot he decided to grab the tail and stun the cat by banging its head against a tree. It didn't work out that way and Uncle John Holman came home with his arm deeply clawed. John Holman had a blunderbus which could be heard throughout the valley. Grandpa remembered when Lincoln was shot, soldiers coming home from war, including one who had been hit in the shoulder with a canon ball, and the time when his father went to Gettysburg in a buckboard to see about his dead brother and his dead cousin, Amasa. He also heard mentioned that Consider Wood had a reputation for making a "Continental Harness." [f-129,f-149]

A5. WILLIAM ARTHUR WOOD

a. William Arthur Wood[9] (Arthur[8], David[7], Aaron[6], Consider[5]) was born 21 July 1886 at Herrick, PA, died 12 June 1978 at Okemos, Michigan; married on 10 Apr. 1912 at Herrickville, PA, Mildred Leona Baker, born 3 April 1889 at Herrick, PA, died 1 March 1975 at Eustis, Florida, daughter of George and Ida (Overpeck) Baker. William and Mildred were interred in Floral Park cemetery, Johnson, City, NY.[f-155,g,h]

William stated in his memoirs: "I was born at what was known as Cold Creek, Herrick Twp., Bradford County, PA. During the following year my parents purchased, and moved to a farm located about 3/4 mile east of the Herrick Church and Post Office, where I spent the early years of my life. I attended Camp's school which was located about 1/4 mile north of Camp's Pond, later known as Totem Lake, on the Herrickville - Camptown road. I also attended Landon's school, about one mile north of the Herrick Church, and during the school year 1902-3 I attended LeRaysville High School and boarded at my uncle's, Rev. G. O. Beers. He was pastor of the LeRaysville Methodist Church at that time. I went home weekends, usually walking part or all of the seven miles."

"In August of 1903, three Skilton cousins from Connecticut visited us. Ada Skilton said that her father needed someone to assist with chores and farm work, and she arranged for me to go back with them and help her father and attend Watertown High School. The trip from our farm to Watertown, CT in those days was not easy. We had to drive about six miles to Rummerfield where we took the local Lehigh Valley train, about 7:30 A.M. to Tunkhannock, where we changed to the fast train for Jersey City. There we took the ferry to 23rd St. NYC, then on across town trolley to Fourth Ave., changed to a Fourth Ave. trolley to Grand Central Station. It was on this trip through New York City that I saw my first glimpse of an automobile. At Grand Central Station we took a New York New Haven and Hartford train to Bridgeport, CT, and there changed to a train for Waterbury, then changed again to a local train to Watertown, then by Trolley about 1 ¼ miles to James Skilton's, arriving there about 9:30 P.M."

"I lived at James G. Skilton's and my major job was milking 20 to 25 cows twice a day by hand. About the last week of Feb. 1904 my grandmother, Melicent Bowker, who lived with my parents, became seriously ill. Her son James Beers lived at Prospect, CT and they wired that he should come and that I should come with him. Grandmother died on March 1st. I found the principal reason for asking me to come home was that I was badly needed to help with the farm work, especially at the maple sugar bush. I stayed home and that ended my schooling as far as high school was concerned."

help with the farm work, especially at the maple sugar bush. I stayed home and that ended my schooling as far as high school was concerned."

"That Spring I passed the Penna. State teachers examination and on June 4, 1904 was granted a Teachers Provisional Certificate, which was good for one year. During the school year 1904-5 I taught Stoney Point school, which was about two miles from my home. There I had, for part of the term, 36 pupils in one room, of all ages from 5 to 18 years, and beside the regular grade school work, I had classes at noontime and after school in several High School subjects. During 1905-6, I taught the Grove School which was located just east of the Bowker Farm. During the school season of 1906-7 I attended the Penna. Business College of Lancaster PA, where I completed the bookkeeping and commercial course. At this school I worked at odd jobs for the school, to assist with my tuition. During the Fall and Winter of 1907-8 I taught the old fashioned singing schools, and had a school for each evening of the week; Monday at Myersburg, Pa., Tuesday at North Towanda, Wed. at North Rome, Thursday at Pleasant Valley, Friday at Lake Wesauking, Sat. at Herrickville. During the days I gave piano lessons to students at several of the above locations. Through Spring of 1907 and for part of 1908 I worked at the Thompson and Prince general store at North Towanda. I quit when the store was sold. In April 1909 Robert Skilton, who owned and operated a general store at Morris CT, wrote asking me to work for him. So I went to Morris and boarded at James L. Skilton's and worked at the store, principally taking orders at the Summer resort around Bantam Lake, and later delivering the merchandise. When Robert Skilton sold the store, I went to Waterbury and worked for a time as receiving clerk at the Warren L. Hall Wholesale Grocery, and for a four month period as complaint clerk for the United Gas and Improvement Co., also of Waterbury. I came home in Dec. 1910 and helped with the farm work, and in the Spring helped to build a telephone line from Herrick Corners to our home, also helped through the maple syrup season. That Spring (1911) I leased the Elizabeth Baker farm, and also the Crawford farm, near the Herrick Church, and I lived with the Baker family. The work at the Crawford farm consisted chiefly of cutting and storing the hay. I worked these places under an agreement with my father whereby I used his team and tools and also helped him with his work."

"The Fall and Winter of 1912 I taught Landon's School, which was about one mile from the Baker home. On April 10, 1912 I was married to Mildred Leona Baker. The marriage was performed at the Baker home by a former pastor Rev. W. H. Stang who was then pastor at Falls, Pa. After a short wedding trip to Wilkes-Barre, Scranton, Binghamton, and Lestershire, where we stayed a day or two with William L. Atwood's family, we returned and set up housekeeping at the Baker farm, which I had again leased on March 29th from Elizabeth Overpeck, the Baker family having previously moved to the Bowker Farm, where they stayed for about a year and then moved to Herrickville. I also on March

6th of that year leased the Judson Platt farm which adjoined the Bowker farm, and I worked this farm together with the Baker farm. The work at the Platt place was mostly cutting and storing the hay. I purchased a team of horses for $250, also some cows and other farm equipment, but luck was against me during 1912 and 13 for one horse died, a cow got out of the pasture into the orchard and choked to death on an apple, and a frost in late August of 1913 killed my corn, buckwheat and potatoes before they had matured."

"William Atwood of Lestershire N.Y. had been writing me to come and work at his grocery store, and in Jan. 1914 I sold my farm equipment and other things that I did not want to move except one horse and carriage, at auction sale, and we moved to 12 Harrison St. Lestershire and started work at the grocery and meat market of Chauncey and Atwood, starting at $11 per week. My rent at 12 Harrison St. was $15 per month. The store hours were from 7 A.M. to 8 P.M. except Saturday, and until 11 P.M. that day. In those days we called at the home of regular customers for their grocery orders, and later delivered the merchandise."

"On May 10, 1914 I attended an auction sale of lots on Baker St., Lestershire and purchased two lots, one for $310 and the other for $290. All the money that I had to pay down was $10 on each lot. The balance was on installments. After about two years I quit the store and took a job at Endicott Johnson Mens Scout Factory on Lester Ave., Johnson City, where I learned edge trimming of shoes. In the meantime I had completed a certified public accountants course with the International Correspondence School of Scranton, Pa., and on Sept. 1, 1917 I took a position as bookkeeper and office manager with Walter R. Miller Co., Wholesale and Retail Stationers of Binghamton, starting at $18 per week. In the meantime my wife Mildred had been working for Endicott Johnson Corp. We had lived beside 12 Harrison St., in a second floor apartment on St. Charles St., and at 12 Laurel Ave. On June 19, 1919 I used the Baker St. lots at a good profit as payment on this property. At this location our two sons were born. Willis Avery at Johnson Memorial Hospital and Norris Philip at the Binghamton City Hospital."

"Mr Walter R. Miller, who was one of my employers, owned a Real Estate development on Riverside Drive, Johnson City and I purchased a lot from him, fronting on Riverside Drive and extending back to the Susquehanna River. The price was $1,000 to be paid on an installment plan. Walter R. Miller Co. was a partnership of Walter R. Miller and Charles I. Maguire. Mr. Maguire took over the business and decided to incorporate the business. He told me that he would like to have me on his board of directors. At the start I was made a director and secretary of the corporation, and after the death of Mr. Maguire in 1950 I was secretary-treasurer."

*"After disposing of my interest in the 'Miller' business I retired in May of 1956, about two months prior to my 70th birthday, and my wife retired from Endicott Johnson Corp. about the same time. Before her marriage she had been a teacher in the public schools in Bradford County and after our marriage she worked at Endicott Johnson until our son Avery was born. ## +A25. JOSEPHINE ADELL RUMBAUGH AND DESCENDANTS

4. Josephine Adell Rumbaugh[8] (Lucy[7] Wood, Aaron[6], Consider[5]), born 17 Nov. 1868 at Hannibal, MO, died 17 June 1908, buried in Cumro cemetery, Custer county, NE; married on 26 March at 1885 at Wilber, Saline county, NE, Thomas Jefferson McGinnis, born 11 Apr. 1858 in Lee county, IA, died 1924 at Cheyenne Wells, CO, son of George Washington McGinnis and Margaret Jane (Trimble) McGinnis.[k]

After their marriage, Thomas and Josephine moved to Creston, IA where Grace was born on the family farm. Thomas, his two oldest brothers and a sister traveled to Holyoke, Colorado by covered wagon and each claimed a homestead. Ethel was born on the homestead and was only a few months old when the family returned to Nebraska, to Buffalo county. Thomas worked in a brickyard and later worked for the Union Pacific Railroad. After the rails were laid the family moved to Creston, Iowa. Thomas also carried mail on the star route from Creston to Afton with his two big white mules.[k]

"When our grandma Ethel was four years old, Thomas decided to come to good ole Nebraska again to farm near Dewitt . . . They farmed near Dewitt for two years. James was born at Grandma Sutton's. Lucy was born during this time. In the spring of 1896, the family moved to Lawrence. The farm there supported them for seven years. When Ethel was 14, she remembers: 'we bought a farm twelve miles north of Kearney and lived there until I was seventeen years old. Then we took to the covered wagon again and moved to Sumner where we had bought a pasture farm . . .'" Nellie and David LeRoy were born while on the Buffalo County farm. Della Fern was born on the Custer county farm near Sumner. After Josephine died, the family stayed together and lived there in Custer county. In 1918 Thomas's mother, Margaret, died at Laird, CO. Thomas and his three youngest children moved to Cheyenne Wells.[k]

Thora wrote: "we had fun growing up. My father kept his children together the best he could. Almost every evening after the chores were done, he would play his violin and tell us stories about when he worked on the U.P. Railroad in Nebraska and South Dakota."

Ethel Hird's "My Childhood Days As Well As I Remember: I was born to T. J. McGinnis and Josephine Rumbaugh McGinnis at Holyoke, Colo. in the year 1889 in a big sod house on my folk's homestead. In the spring of 1887, they had gone with covered wagon train to Holyoke along with three of Father's brothers and sisters. They all took homesteads and lived in tents while they broke sod to build their houses. My sister Grace died July 4, 1888. Then I, Ethel McGinnis, was born on March 21, 1889. When I was four months old, my mother sat me down on a quilt on the floor while she went to the spring for a pail of water. When she came in with the water, there was a big rattlesnake within four feet of me. They kept a pitchfork by the door and she took it and killed the snake and threw it outside. Then she picked me up and went out to tell my daddy of it. It scared her so she was sick, so they just sold the homestead and then moved back to Kearney, Nebr." [k]

"When I was six months old, Father worked in the brickyards making brick to pave the streets of Kearney and to build some of the big old houses which are still standing now. I was one year old by then and my father got a job helping grade the railroad that runs up on the branch that goes through Miller and Sumner to Arnold. Other men laid the rails after the graders. When we got to Amherst I took very sick and was doctored there by a Doctor Hart."

"I was about one year old when the trains were running on this branch line. Father put all our belongings in a covered wagon and all on freight and flat cars and we went to Creston, Iowa. On January 16, 1890, my brother George was born on my Grandpa McGinnis' farm. During the time we lived at Creston we were often out at the farm about six miles from town. They had a lot of sheep, and Uncle Joe, Uncle Minor, and Aunt Ida were all youngsters at home yet. My brother George was born there and I was only two years old, but I can remember that Grandpa had a big old-fashioned clock. They stood me in it and closed the door, and I can just see my baby brother yet, how he looked. I also remember that my Aunt Ida put on my mother's wedding dress and wore it to an oyster supper and soiled it and my mother cried about it then."

"I remember the bees and grandpa handled them so easily, they crawled all over me. He told me to just stand still and not to cry, that they would fly away and they did. I never even got one sting. Then we went out to the sugar maple trees and he bored holes in the tree trunks and put a hollow tube in and hung a big compressed paper pail on the tube. He told me to look in it after while and see the sap or juice in it. He took several buckets full home and Grandma put it in a great big iron boiler and made maple syrup and sugar."

"Father put my mother and little brother George and myself (age four) on a train to DeWitt, Nebraska. My brother James was born at my mother's old home in 1893. We farmed there at Dewitt until after my sister Lucy was born. I was seven years old by then. In the spring of 1896 we moved to Lawrence, Nebraska in a covered wagon. We lived on the farm there in Webster County in a sod house. My brother Jack and two more sisters were born there. I attended at Oak Creek school south of Hasting 18 miles."

"In the year 1903 we moved to Buffalo County, 12 miles north of Kearney and lived there until I was 17 years old., In February of 1906 we bought a farm or ranch (pasture) near Sumner. So it was to the covered wagon again. That Sumner I met James Hird. On April 7, 1907, I married James Hird. We bought what is known as the John Troup homestead and lived in a big sod house 2 years. Then we built a nice frame house where seven of my children were born. I joined the Baptist Church of Cumro and was baptized there in 1908. Then in 1919 we sold out and moved to Cheyenne Wells, Colo. We bought a nice farm there. Five more children were born to us there. We lived there until the year of 1939 when we moved back to Nebraska, to Buffalo County, to farm again. I expect to live the rest of my days here (written in the 1960's); I love it."

"On January 28, 1945 my dear husband and father of my 12 children passed away. By then several of the children were married. Clyde the oldest son joined the Army and served overseas in the 40's and Charles was in the Air Corps in Nevada when their father passed away. The other boys and I still farmed and raised cattle and hogs a few years. The children scattered, and we gave up the farm. All seven of my boys are grown, as are my five lively daughters. They are all married with families of their own. There. I've had a long busy life and have had both Love and Sorrow and know God has been with me all the way." [k]

"The great adventure Joe and I have enjoyed since our marriage - after our marriage, we left within the week for California. Joe's great Uncle had a ranch near Ceres, Calif. We were promised jobs there. After a long hot ride in our little Ford, 1928 model, we finally arrived in the beautiful State of California. Everything looked so prosperous to us as we viewed all the fruit and vegetables growing in abundance. You see, we had been through the 'Great Depression' in Kansas in the early 30's, so even green grass looked good to us. We soon found ourselves working hard in the fruit harvest. Joe's Uncle furnished us a place to live and plenty to eat, however we received small salaries, but even at that we were so happy just being together. Joe's sister, Helen, came to live with us in the summer. My parents raised a good crop. So they came to visit us in August 1938. Helen went back home with them. My sister, Lucille, stayed with us, as she had graduated from High School, Long Island, Kansas. She tried to get a good job, but never could find one. She decided to return home. Joe and I decided to take her back. It was just great to be home again among family and friends. The native Californians did not make us feel welcome in Calif in 1937. They referred to us as fruit tramps. It was Christmas time in 1938 when we arrived back at my parents farm, close to Woodruff, Kans.

In march 1939 we found our selves in Phillipsburg, Kansas, operating a Cream Station and Dairy store. We bought cream from the farmers and also poultry. Joe finally decided to run an ice route into the country. This was before the farmers had electricity, so they were happy to have ice delivered for their ice boxes. We stayed with this business, until Joe was offered a job with J.C. Penny in Tulsa, Okla. We lived in Tulsa only about a year, as war broke out Dec. 7, 1941. We came back to Alma, Nebr. where my parents resided on a farm 6 miles south of this above town. In the meantime Joe was offered a job as 'tool dresser' in the oil field of Kans. We lived in Great Bend, Kans for a few months until Joe was called into the Service.

We are both Christians. Joe is an ordained Baptist minister. We started our married life by reading the Bible and praying on our knees together. God has kept us together during the rough times, while our faith was being tested. We spent 20 years in the ministry, doing evangelistic work and pastoring churches that needed help. We retired in 1968. We went full time into a bible ministry, also selling bibles for a living. In 1971 we went into business for ourselves, selling (wholesale) decorative products to car dealers. We have traveled in a motor home since then, all over this country.

Sept. 11, '90 - Valentine, Nebr. This finds us on the road again peddling our wares, Ha! We will go to So. Dakota from here. My sister Betty in Columbus, Nebr. is caring for my mother (Mary Foster Stone) until we return this winter (1990) to her home in Colo. We will stay with her until Spring, then we'll be off on another business trip." [f-100]

During battle near Hagerstown, MD on 7 July 1863, he received a saber head-wound and was taken prisoner. Ball, Daniel stated that he and Jacob belonged to the same company and regiment. Daniel's address was Rush township, Susquehanna county (18 Oct. 1892). In 1875 Daniel applied for a pension, and in 1902 he applied to recover all pay and other allowances due his son Smith who died in the Cuban war. Obituary: "Entered into rest, aged 61 years and 3 days, January 19, 1903, Daniel Bailey Wood of Seymour Conn. Death came to him after more than a year of invalidism, during which time he was a continual and uncomplaining sufferer. He had known for some time that his disease was fatal and dissolution was a prayerfully anticipated relief. The deceased was a native of Pennsylvania, from which state he enlisted in the Union army at the first call for volunteers of that state. He was a member of the 50th Pennsylvania Volunteers, later was transferred to the Sixth United States Cavalry, Company H, being mustered out of the service in October, 1864. One year later he was married to Miss Eliza

Light of LeRaysville, Pa. Three children were given to this union, all of whom survive him. Two sons who reside in Waterbury, Conn, were present at his death. The other, a daughter, now Mrs. Mary Greene, resides in Great Falls, Montana. He was one of the early settlers of Nebraska, but after having been bereaved of his wife, who died there in August, 1874, he returned to the home of childhood days. He was married in 1876 to Miss Alice M. Smith, who survives him. Four children were born to them, of whom two daughters remain to mourn his departure. One son died in infancy, the other grew to manhood, enlisted as private in Troop B, Second Cavalry in the Spanish-American war, and died of injuries received while in service. His remains were interred at Arlington Heights; thus did father and son serve native land. The deceased became a member of the Methodist church in 1865 and remained with that denomination until his removal to Oxford, Conn., three years since, when he united with the Congregational church of that place, of which church he was a consistent member throughout the remainder of his days."

JOHN AND LOUELLA WOOD

+A30. JOHN STEPHEN WOOD AND DESCENDNTS

3. John Stephen[8] Wood (Daniel[7], Aaron[6], Consider[5]) was born 22 Feb. 1874 at DeWitt, NE, died 2 Oct. 1957 at Inglewood, CA, interred in Centinella cemetery, Inglewood; married (1) on 2 Mar. 1915 in Connecticut, Louella Florence Winslow, born 12 July 1878 in Connecticut, died 25 June 1914 at Naugatuck, buried Hillside cemetery of Waterbury, CT, daughter of Newton (born 12 July 1828, died 6 Jan. 1900) and Velotia Winslow (born 13 Apr. 1840, died 22 Mar. 1885); married (2) Alice Gladys Palmetier, born 23 Nov. 1898, died 19 March 1969, aged 70, interred in Inglewood Park Cemetery, daughter of George Wesley Palmetier (born 18 Sept. 1860 at New Haven CT) and Eva Bell (Pitcher) Palmetier. George was born at New Haven and Eva at Amenia, NY. Louella was a teacher at the time of marriage.[f-131,f-179,i]

John's residence in October 1892 was in Rush Township, Susquehanna township. John while young lived with Stephen Ross and worked with his cousin, William A. Wood on Arthur Wood's farm in Herrick township, Bradford county, PA (about ten miles from John's house). One summer William's cousin, Edith Skilton, visited them and John and Edith became much attracted to each other. John found work in Waterbury, evidently to be near her home. She declined to marry him because she could not leave her uncles with no one to care for them. After John married Louella, one of William's relatives found work for William in Waterbury. John found a place for William to room and board next to his home. William went to the Baptist Church with John and they both sang in the choir. William spent many pleasant Sunday afternoons at John's home where they rehearsed and sang duets. William also joined the Odd Fellow Lodge where John was a member (I.0.0.F Rebekah Lodge No. 35, Naugatuck, CT). John always kept his membership active in Rebekah Lodge. According to his children John was 6'6" tall, graduated from high school, and had taught music school in Kansas before marriage to Louella. Alice Palmatier was the housekeeper for John Wood when Louella died. Alice and John moved to Los Angeles California in 1915 and in 1916 purchased a home on Belleview Avenue. Alice was 5'5 and had brown hair. After the 1929 stock crash John sold his house in Inglewood, moved to Northern California and after one year returned to Inglewood. There, John was a house painter, farmer, and Methodist choir director.[f-155,f-179]

Daughter Ruth: "Dad was just a great guy - wasn't afraid to stand for truth and what he felt was right. He wouldn't back down. He was a fantastic choir director and very strict. How he loved to sing for the Lord. He sang with me in our church 3 weeks before his passing into Glory - 'My Sheep Know My Voice', not a dry eye in the place. He could still sing beautifully at age 83. He had perfect pitch without an instrument, which is how he taught me several songs by singing the notes without music." [f-131]

Everett served three years in the U.S. Army (1942 to 1945). His son Charles relates: "Dad had moved to Inglewood, California with his family from Waterbury Connecticut as a boy. They had spent a short time in Anderson, California when first arriving, but quickly settled in Inglewood. Dad said he could remember that it was so hot in Anderson, that they had to hang wet sheets in the windows to serve as a 'poor man's air conditioner.' When I was born, we lived in a small house on 102nd or 104th street in Inglewood, near the L.A. International Airport. Dad drove a truck for Schaffer Hat Works and covered a route throughout the Los Angeles area. Sometimes I would get to ride with him for a day in the truck to make his pick ups and deliveries. It was a great adventure for me. I got to hang out in the piles of clothes to be cleaned and dad would buy treats for me and introduce me proudly to all his clients. . . . Dad loved inproving the house ... almost to a fault. Every spare nickel he had went into building beautiful gardens in the back yard and a small addition on the back of the house. He planted tropical flowers all over the back yard, played Hawaiian Music through speakers piped to the back yard and longed to go to Hawaii. He and Mom finally made it there in the 1970's after they moved to Porterville, California. We always had company at out house in Torrance. Mom and Dad loved to have elaborate holiday, family, and/or lauau parties. In 1960 Dad left Shaffer Hat Works. Mom left McCullouch Motors. We moved to Porterville in 1961. He and Mom opened up the first 'Red & Jackies Cafe' at the Village Shopping Center in Porterville. At that location the business grew from a 1500 square foot location to spaces on both sides of the original location, quadrupling their size. Financially they were successful and Dad and Mom loved the people contact side of the business. Dad was one of the most compassionate people I have ever known. He was put on earth to serve and help other people. His entire life tour was to be a friend to everyone he met and to put them at ease. He loved music, to have fun and to see others have fun. Perhaps the greatest attribute I can think of for my Dad is that I cannot think of one single person on this planet who did not like my dad. He had No enemies. He truly was a friend to all." [f-131]

DESCENT FROM ABIGAIL[6] WOOD

V. Abigail[6] Wood (Consider[5]), was born in 1794-95 in Dutchess county, New York; married by 1817, Augustus Adams, born 5 May 1796 at Brooklyn, Connecticut, died, before the 1850 census, in Forkston township, Wyoming county, PA, son of Aron [Aaron] and Huldah (Coggswell) Adams.[a,c,d,h,i]

Aron Adams, the brother of Mary Adams Wood, moved with his family from Brooklyn, Connecticut to the forks of Mehoopany Creek in Windham township, Luzerne county, Pennsylvania before 10 Nov. 1808 when the Connecticut estate of Hannah Coggswell was distributed. In Connecticut and Pennsylvania he used the Aron spelling. Aron's will was probated on 20 May 1844. Eldest son, Augustus, inherited from his father two tracts of land totaling 25 acres and his fathers' blacksmith tools. Abigail had moved with her folks from Dutchess county to the LeRaysville area in 1815-16 and married her first cousin, Augustus, probably soon after the migration. Tax assessments of Luzerne county listed Augustus and Aron as blacksmiths.[a,c]

In August 1831 David bought, for $150, 106 acres of land in Tuscarora township from the executors of Thaddeus Goodyear's estate (of New York City). In July 1851, David bought 34.5 acres from Cornelius Goodyear, et al, 34.5 acres of land, "adjoining lot formerly sold to David Wood." David's house was listed on the 1865 map of Tuscarora in Beer's Atlas. In Oct. 1855 David and Amy sold land to John Keeler, and in January 1864 they sold land to Beebe Wood. The first reunion report stated that David's three sons were soldiers. The seventh Wood reunion (8 Aug. 1908) listed William and Abner as serving in the Civil War and that they were no longer living. The third report listed Beebe and Abner as serving in the war.[a,l]

Amy lived with John A. Wood after David died. David signed his will with a mark and left money for his living children (Harriet [Harriette] E. Squires, Abigail [Abbie] Taylor, Beebe W. Wood, William J. Wood, Sarah A. Holdren, and Polly A. Smith) and for his granddaughter, Abneretta. John A. Wood received all his remaining property.[a,b,i]

Abner and Harriet were interred in LeRaysville cemetery.[a,d,e,g,h,j]

Consider Wood, in his application for pension, listed Abner at age 17. Abner and Harriet lived in Pike township, Bradford county, in a stone house built in 1846 by John and Martin Codding, west of the Codding "home-stead" in the area originally settled by the Wood family. On 13 April 1830 the Robert Proud estate (of Philadelphia) sold to Abner, through an indenture, uncleared farm land containing 66 acres and 48 perches, in Pike township and bordering on land of Josiah Bosworth. On 13 October 1851 he purchased from the Robert Proud estate 37 acres and 49 perches of land next to Josiah Wood for $111.80. On 26 Aug. 1878, as heirs of the Abner Wood estate, "Harriet Wood, Lydia A. Agnew, wife of William Agnew, Ann E. Ayer, wife of Warren Ayer, Fannie S. Agnew, wife of Henry L. Agnew," sold their shares (100 acres) of land in Pike twp. to Francis L. Wood, bordering south on lands formerly owned by Josiah Wood and on the west by J. K. Bosworth. In 1880, Harriet was living with her son, Frank Wood. She willed her estate to Frank.[a,b,c,d,e,g]

DESCENT FROM PLATT[6] WOOD

X. Platt[6] Wood (Consider[5]) was born November or December 1805 in Dutchess county, NY, died 23 March 1879 age 73 years, 3 months (gravestone), funeral held on 26 March 1879, buried in the LeRaysville cemetery; married Lydia Chapel [Chappell], born about 1811 in Pennsylvania, daughter of Levi and Ruth (Fairchild) Chapel.[a,b,c,d,i,f]

Consider Wood's application for pension, made 16 September 1820, listed Platt's age as 13. Platt and his family lived in Pike township, in the area of the original settlement made by Consider Wood and his family. He lived two miles east of LeRaysville, near Prattville, across from his son Martin, in the stone house built for Platt in 1842 by John and Martin Codding. In July 1837 Platt purchased 68 acres and 22 perches of land in Pike township, for $222, from Thomas Mitchell and wife of Philadelphia and on 6 Oct. 1839 purchased 12 acres of adjoining land. Platt's estate was divided equally between Olin D. Wood, Martin H. Wood, Adaline Canfield, and Martha Keeler. In Dec. 1879 Olin D. Wood and Wife Ellen B. and Adaline M. Canfield, wife of Wilson E. Canfield, sold their share of land from Platt's estate to Lydia, wife of Platt Wood. She then sold the homestead to Ella B. Wood and Martin H. Wood on 3 Jan. 1880.[a,d,g]

ANCESTRY OF CONSIDER AND MARY (ADAMS) WOOD

THE FIRST ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY YEARS IN AMERICA

The history of the first one hundred and forty years of the Wood family in America is the history of the Pilgrims in Massachusetts. The allied families, Howland, Tilley and Sampson, came on the Mayflower. George Morton and his wife, Julian Carpenter, arrived on the Anne in June 1623, and John Jenny and family came on the ship Little James in August 1623. The Pilgrim Church originated in the rectory and church of Babworth in Nottinghamshire, England. William Brewster was Postmaster in nearby Scrooby and furnished money for the support of reformist preachers in local parish churches. In 1604 John Robinson was appointed assistant to the Rector and became leader of the Pilgrim Church in 1609. He was a graduate of Cambridge University where the Puritan movement originated.[1]

Leaders of the Church of England resisted reform and jailed or hung dissenters, making it necessary for the Pilgrim Church congregation to seek refuge in Holland. Many were arrested and jailed when they tried to leave England in 1607 and a year later while trying to leave at night. By August 1608 the congregation, of about one-hundred, had settled in Amsterdam and later in Leyden. The Dutch had a republic form of government and allowed freedom of religion and press. In many ways the Dutch were more advanced than other Europeans. Boys and girls were educated equally and women had greater equality in business and inheritance. As a result refugees who immigrated from Holland to America brought with them a workable concept of democracy and freedom that became, in part, the basis of our state and federal government.[2]

Reverend John Robinson was a highly respected and able leader who successfully developed a separatist philosophy and maintained a well organized congregation at a time when other groups were failing. He researched all the issues thoroughly and considered it important to be fully informed in order to relate the word of God to current problems and to debate effectively with his opponents. In Leyden the Pilgrims purchased a home for John Robinson on Bell Alley, near St. Peter's Church and near the University where he eventually became a lecturer. The Pilgrim Press was near his house and was managed by Elder William Brewster. Rev. Robinson published his ideas in English and in Latin and had them distributed throughout the Protestant world. "He felt that the Protestant Reformation should continue in its development by separating the church from the state and by separating local churches from a head church such as the Canterbury Church, which made decisions for all Protestant churches in England." [1]

In 1619 the congregation arranged for passage to America. About one-third left in 1620 under the leadership of Elder William Brewster, who had studied at Cambridge and who was a student of theology at Leyden. The cost of the trip and land was to be paid in produce (furs, fish, and lumber) to be shipped to "Merchant Adventurers of London." This arrangement lasted until 1625 when the company in London dissolved. In 1627 the leaders of the Pilgrim colony purchased the remaining interests. Land was distributed to each person, "allotting to each twenty acres of arable land, five acres in breadth by the waterside and four acres in length, in addition to the acre of homestead and garden plot formerly allowed." Goats and cattle were also divided.[3]

Of our ancestors that immigrated to the Plymouth Colony within the first ten years, the families of George Morton, John Tilley, Julian Carpenter, and John Jenney were members of John Robinson's group. John Howland came as a indentured servant and Henry Sampson came for other ventures.[5]

The Pilgrim Church in America became known as Congregationalists (1646 Cambridge synod). They were against state interference in religious matters and against building hopes on ceremonial observances. "They would have the church thoroughly reformed, purged from all those inventions which have been brought into it since the age of the apostles. The Congregational church was defined as a company of professed christians possessing the exclusive right of self government in matters of religion; that they have a right to chose their own officers; that these officers are pastors, or teaching elders, ruling elders and deacons; that elders, being chosen or ordained, have a power to rule the church, but by the consent of the brethren; that all elders and all churches are equal in respect to power and privilege." [3]

Fines were levied for drinking, smoking and overpricing products ("selling boots at 15 shillings when they cost but 10"). For breaking the sabbath, the penalty was a whipping at the post. Any person denying the scriptures to be a rule of life, suffered corporal punishment. The church was superior to civil power, but confined this power to censure only. Colony laws required that "none shall vote in town meetings but freemen or free holders of £20 ratable estate and of good conversation, having taken the oath of fidelitie." [4]

In 1636 the colony enacted the Plymouth declaration of rights: "Article I. That no act, imposition, law or ordinance, be made or imposed upon us at present or to come, but such as has been or shall be enacted by the consent of the body of freemen or associates, or their representatives legally assembled;

which is according to the free liberties of the free people of England. Article II. There be a free election annually of governor, deputy governor, and seven assistants by the vote of the freemen of the corporation" (church membership was one of the qualifications for freemen).[3]

All towns had to provide stocks and a whipping post. No single person was allowed to build without permission. Military training was expected of male persons. Marriage was considered a civil matter, conducted by a civil magistrate or Justice of Peace and not by the pastor or elder. Pilgrims knew nothing about premature birth. Newlyweds were sentenced in court for having a child before nine months of marriage. Burial was not a religious ceremony. No prayers were said, because this might lead to the practice of praying for the soul of the departed, a concept associated with the hatred doctrine of Purgatory. The ceremony was solemn.[3,5]

By 1646 most of the inhabitants of Plymouth moved to other towns. Of major interest is the movement of the Wood family to the town of Middleborough. The first settlement at Middleborough took place about 1654 and comprised mainly of the pilgrims and their descendants. The town was fifteen miles west of Plymouth. Within forty miles of Plymouth resided fifteen to twenty thousand Indians of the "Pokanoket nation, which was comprised of the Wampanoags of Bristol County, R.I., the Pocassets at Rehoboth, Swansea and Tiverton, the Saconets at Little Compton, the Namaskets at Middleborough, the Agawams at Wareham, the Manomets at Sandwich, the Sakatuckets at Mashpee, the Mattakees at Barnstable, the Nobsquassets at Yarmouth, the Manomoys at Chatham and the Nausets at Eastham." Massasoit, a friend of the Pilgrims, headed the Pokanoket nation. He died in 1660 and his eldest son, Alexander, ruled until 1662. The nation was then ruled by Massasoit's son King Philip who reigned until he was killed in 1678 at the end of King Philip's war.[4]

"The two races for the most part lived together in peace and harmony during Massasoit's reign. The settlers were careful to see that the Indians were treated justly and that all their possessions and property were protected. When a settler offended an Indian he was immediately brought to justice. Indians had to submit to the same laws and all lands had to be purchased from the Indians." [4]

The Twenty-six Men's Purchase, made in March 1661, was the first purchase of lands for settlement in Middleborough. It comprised of the lands North of the Indian path from Taunton to Plymouth. In July 1663 the Five Men's Purchase was made. On August 9, 1667, Henry Wood purchased a large tract of land known as "The Wood Purchase" from Tuspaquin, the Chief of the Namasket Indians who burnt the settlement at Middleborough during King Philip's War. For two to three years before the war, King Philip attempted to organize other tribes to drive the English out of New England. The Narragansetts and Pequots were part of this organization and they had decided to start the war in the Spring of 1676. Instead, the war began in Swansea on 24 June 1675 following the execution of Indians who were found guilty of murdering a Christian Indian. In Middleborough the war started when Isaac Howland was ordered to shoot an Indian for making threats to settlers at the fort on the Namasket river. In retaliation the Indians burnt all houses. The inhabitants sought refuge in the fort for about six weeks and finally went to Plymouth for the duration of the war. Records were destroyed and land boundaries had to be reconstructed.[4]

Information concerning life in Middleborough prior to the war is sparse. Houses were made of logs. Fireplaces were usually built of stone laid in clay. Latches and hinges were made of wood. Windows were usually small, placed high up and covered with oiled paper. Most clothing was made of flax or wool. Trousers were often made of sheep or bear skin. They had no forks and food was usually soup or hash. Herring (alewives) were taken from the Namasket river. Indian porridge (boiled Indian meal) became a basic food for morning and evening meals. Succotash, made in a poultry stock, was a favorite food.[4,5]

After the close of the war, Indians were no longer a threat. Middleborough had good agricultural land and iron was obtained from bogs nearby. Lumber and fish were plentiful. The land supported four generations of the Wood family, but by the end of the Revolution the sons of Josiah Wood had left the area. Consider Wood settled in the Amenia Precinct of Dutchess County, New York, and his brothers Josiah, Ephraim, and Robert settled in Vermont.

I. HENRY WOOD

MIDDLEBOROUGH, MASSACHUSETTS

Henry[1] Wood, born probably in England, died at Middleborough, Massachusetts, inventory taken on 30 September 1670; married on 28 April 1644, Abigail Jenney, born 1619 at Leyden, Holland, died in 1675, daughter of John and Sarah (Carey) Jenney of Plymouth.[1,2,4,7]

Little is known of the ancestral roots of Henry Wood. He is thought to be the brother of Steven, John, and Harman, sons of John Wood (Atwood) of London and grandson of Nicholas Wood (Atwood) of Sanderstead in Surrey, England. Plymouth Colony records list his name as Henry Wood "alias Atwood." [1,3]

A Henry Wood was part of Rev. John Robinson's congregation at the beginning of the exile in Leyden. On 5 May 1611 Henry Wood, Rev. John Robinson, William Jepson, and Ralph Tickens purchased a house and grounds for Rev. John Robinson. This house served as the manse and was situated nearly opposite the Belfry that stood in the rear of St. Peter's Church and fronting on Pieter's Kerckoff (Bell Alley). Each retained a quarter interest in the house and they paid eight thousand guilders (£1,400 then) of which two thousand guilders were paid immediately and five hundred guilders annually.[4,5]

This Henry Wood apparently was a citizen of Leyden. Isaac Allerton was admitted as citizen or freeman of Leyden on 7 February 1614, "upon the proof and security of Roger Wilson and Henry Wood." At Leyden, in December 1617, Henry was best man at the marriage of Henry Jepson and Janiee Paul. It is not known that Henry Wood of Leyden and Henry of Plymouth are the same. A case could be made that they are. Henry Wood of Leyden was available when Samuel Fuller in Plymouth made his will in 1633: "whereas Henry Wood demands an old debt due at Leyden, I desire w'soever he demand as due debt be pd by my overseers he dealing faithfully." The colonists referred to people who have the same name by using adjectives such as the elder. Samuel Fuller did not do that in 1633 when he mentioned his Leyden debt to Henry. The Henry of Leyden would be a generation older than Abigail Jenny. However, this may have been the reason why John Jenny had written in his will that he would give consent to the marriage if Abigail "Dwell one full yeare w$^{th}$ m$^{r}$. Charles Chauncey of Scittuate before her marriage." [4,6]

At first, the Congregation at Leyden consisted of about one hundred persons, and by 1620 it had increased to about 300 people. The Reverend John Robinson died in 1625, and his wife and son Isaac with about 95 members of the Leyden church emigrated to Plymouth in 1629 and 1630. Members of the Plymouth Colony paid for much of the costs of the trip. William Jepson bought out Henry's interest in the Robinson house on 13 December 1629.[5]

The first Plymouth Colony reference to Henry Wood was the 1633 note of debts of Samuel Fuller, taken just before Samuel died. On 16 September 1641 the Court recorded: "Steeven Wood, Henry Wood are graunted eight acrees apeece of upland, at Loute Pound." Recorded at the 31 December 1641 session: "Steven Wood and Henry Wood are graunted eich of them a garden place in the neighbourhood at Wellingsly, ag^st^ Francis Goulders fence, p'vided that it be not p'judicious either in the heigh wayes in gen'all, nor any man in p'ticular, & M^r^ Paddy to see them layd forth." [2]

On 17 March 1642 Henry bought land of John Dunham: "Memorand That John Dunhame the yeonger doth acknowledg that for and in consideracon of the sume of seaven pounds & tenn shillings to be payd by Henry Wood in manner and forme following that is to say three pounds and tenn shillings at Indian Harvest next and tenn shillings more in Rye as soone as it is ripe and reaped at the prizes that corne is sold for at the tyme of the delivery thereof at Plymouth and the other three pounds & tenn shillings in cotton cloth and such other comodyties as are worth so much the cotton cloth to be xv teen yerd at ij^s^ viij^d^ p yard & the rest of the 3^ii^ 10^s^ in other things that amount thereunto, but if the cotton cloth be refused in payment that then the said Henry Wood shall pay in other comodyties assoone as he cann to that value Hath freely and absolutely bargaine & sold unto the said Henry Wood All that his house & buildings and the land & thereunto belonging lying in Plymouth betwixt the land of Gabriell ffallowell on the north side and the new field on the west side and the land of John Dunham the elder and Willm Pontus on the South and East sides containeing tenn acrees or thereabout & together w^th^ his graunt of land and meddow lying at the Swanhold." [8]

The August 1643 Plymouth township list included Henry among "Names of all the Males that are able to beare Armes from xvij years old to 60 years." At the time of his marriage in 1644, Henry moved to Yarmouth. He was made Freeman in 1648 and about that time he had returned to Plymouth where his son Samuel was born. Sarah Jenney died in 1655 and Abigail inherited about one-fifth of the Jenney estate including one-fourth interest in the mill. In that year, Henry bought of Samuel Jenney fourteen acres of land at Strawberry Hill for £14, being lands inherited from the Jenney estate and also two acres of marsh at Piney Point near Marshfield. On 3 January 1658 Henry sold the one-fourth interest of lands inherited from the John and Sarah Jenney estate, containing about 37.5 acres "lying att the six mile brooke in the way to Namassakett Called and knowne by the Name of Lakenham" except four acres of meadow on the easterly side of the tract. He also sold to "John Cook of Dartmouth, yeoman, in consideration of a considerable sum his quarter part of the purchase lands in Dartmouth township sometimes the land of John Jenney, deceased." [2,4]

Henry was on the list of Freemen taken about 1658. He was a surveyor of highways in Plymouth in 1655 and 1659. At the 6 December 1659 General Court he, with others, "complained of injustice in the proceedings of the rators for publicke charges for the town of Plymouth." Between 1648 and 1670 Henry was selected for many petite and grand jury assignments. In 1662 the Court appointed Henry and George Bonum to "draw and divide the herring at the yearly season to the several families in the township . . . they are to let them go up on Friday and Saturday Nights and on the sabboth." Three acres near Turkey Swamp were granted to him in 1664. On 5 June 1666 the Court ordered "Serjiant Tinkham and Henery Wood" to lay out land granted to "Zacaryah Eedey." [2,9]

Henry was an early settler of Middleborough. He probably maintained residences in both Plymouth and Middleborough. On 3 June 1662 the court ordered the purchase of land from the Indians "on the northerly bounds of Taunton" for those listed, including "Henery" Wood and Ephraim Morton. In 1665 the Court granted Henry one share (thirty acres) of land on the westerly side of Nemasket River.[2,9]

WOOD'S PURCHASE

On 2 July 1667 the court gave Henry permission to purchase one hundred acres of land "upon the Namaskett River or elsewhere." Wood's Purchase was made on 9 August 1667 from the Indian Sachem, Tispequin, and his wife, Anny (daughter of Massasoit), for the consideration of £4. Tisqequin sold also by the same deed six acres of meadow on the south side of the path from Nemasket to Agawam (Wareham). The recorded document is in the Plymouth County Commissioner's office.[27]

"This Writing witnesseth that I Tuspaquin otherwise called ye Black Sachem with the full consent of my wife Anny for and in consideration of ye sum of four pounds to me in hand paid by Henry Wood of Plymouth do by these presents sell and make over all my right and title to a parcell of land lying on the east side of Namaskett River to ye Southward of ye Upper Way to Namaskett being bounded on ye one end by ye pond called ye Black Sachems pond ye Indian name being Wampaucutt, on ye other end by a little pond called Asnemscussett, on ye one side bounded from ye corner of that pond called Asnemscussett and twenty pole from it, and so upon a direct line to a place of the Brook that comes

The swamps being included in ye sale. With all priviledges belonging therunto; With free liberty for his cattle to feed in ye places adjacent without being molested. Henry was a member of the commandant's council for the garrison in Middleborough at the time of his death. He died apparently sometime after the Court session of 7 June 1670. His name was marked "deceased" and crossed off the master list of jurors compiled on 29 May 1670 and on 7 June 1670, but he was on the jury that served at the 7 June 1670 session when Joseph Turner, Sr. was sentenced to thirty whiplashings, fifteen of which were to be inflicted at Plymouth and the remainder at Scituate, for "lacivious, abseane, and vile expressions and actions." [2,9]

John Nelson (Henry's son-in-law) and Samuel Wood (Henry's son), were appointed administrators of Henry's estate on 29 October 1670, and at that session the Court appointed John Morton, Sr. and Lieutenant Morton to be guardians of Henry's sons, David, Joseph, and Benjamin. Henry's inventory, taken on 30 Sept. 1670 by John Morton, Jonathan Dunham, Francis Coombe, and George Vaughan, amounted to £63.3s.3d. Items included:

"Doctor Downhams workes
a p'sell of cotton woole between him and Thomas Lettice undivided."

On 4 March 1673, the court ordered "that the children of Henery Wood, deceased, be summoned to the next Court, in order to a disposing of the land of said Henery Wood soe as may conduce to the support of Abigail Wood, widdow." Before Josiah "Winslow Gov', An agreement made and concluded by and between Abigaill Wood of the Towne of Middleberry, of the jurisdiction of New Plymouth widdow, and her Children this 23 of July 1674, is a followeth viz: it is mutually agreed by them that the said Abigaill Wood shall have and Enjoy the house and land in Middleberry; which henery Wood of Middleberry aforsaid Deceased, lived in att his Decease; now posessed by samuel Wood his son with all the proffitts privilidges and immunities, belonging thereunto, to be by her Improved, or by her order for and towards her maintainance, Dureing the tearme of her Naturall life

Samuell, Jonathan, and Benjamin signed by their mark.[2,11,13,17]

The final division of Abigail's estate was made in 1676. The mill was then distributed to the daughters: "To all people to whom these presents may come . . . Whereas our father Henery Wood allies Atwood of Middleberry died intestate and whereas our mother Abigail Wood allies Atwood and our brothers Samuel Jonathan David Joseph and Benjamin Wood allies Atwood did by their writing . . . grant unto their sisters Sarah wife of John Nelson Abigail wife of David Thomas Jr. and Susannah and Mary Wood . . . their father's . . . part of the grist mill . . . in Plymouth . . ." Heirs of the Jenney estate sold the mill on 10 November 1682 to Charles Stockbridge.[3,13]

II. SAMUELL WOOD

Samuell[2] WOOD (Henry[1]), born 25 May 1648 at Plymouth, MA, died 3 February 1718/17 in Middleborough, in his 70th year; married before 1 June 1675, Rebekah Morton, born 15 March 1651, died 10 February 1718/17 in Middleborough in her 67th year, daughter of Ephraim and Ann (Cooper) Morton. Samuel and Rebekah were interred in Nemasket Hill cemetery.[1,2,4]

Samuell [Samuel] moved to Middleborough with his father and lived with him as one of the first settlers of the town. He was co-administrator of his father's estate. He inherited the homestead and a portion of the Wood's Purchase. In a deed of 29 Oct. 1673 he referred to himself "I Samuel Wood alias Atwood." He was administrator of the estates of his brothers, John and Jonathan, who died in 1673 and 1675, respectively. Samuell and Rebekah were heirs to George Morton's estate, and in June 1716 they signed (with a mark) a quit claim for their portion. Samuell was a surveyor of highways in Middleborough in 1673/4. On 21 November 1679, the court assigned lots in the Sixteen Shilling Purchase to Samuell and his brothers.[2,9,13]

On 1 June 1675 the court sentenced Samuell £5 "for committing carnall copulation with his now wife before marriage." He held the office of constable in 1682 and selectman in 1683, 1684, 1689, 1691, 1693, 1694, 1699, 1706-1709, and 1711. He was a Petite Juror in September 1698. Samuell was at the organizational meeting of the First Church on 26 December 1694. Rebekah joined the Church on 27 March 1726. In 1695 Samuell was an agent for the Town of Middleborough.[2,3,12]

Samuell lived in the area that became part of Halifax. On 29 Oct. 1673 he sold land to George Morton. In 1691/2 (also recorded as 25 January 1692/3) Samuell and his brothers, Joseph and James, sold to their brother, David, their ten-acre shares of the Wood's Purchase from Tispequin. On 2 July 1694 Samuel sold land in the sixteen shilling Purchase and in the Assawampsett tract to Ephraim Morton. On 22 Sept. 1697 Samuel, of Middleborough, sold to George Bonum of Plymouth ten acres of upland in the Township of Plymouth, at south meadows, "land granted to my Honored Father Henry Wood at Town meeting of 8 Jan. 1665." On 26 July 1710 Samuel, "for love and natural affection," deeded one-half of the 100 acres "on which I now dwell" in the Township of Middleborough to Samuel Wood, Jr., "also a certain part of my hundred acre lot which I lately bought of Solomon Hewitt, next to my first hundred lot." On 22 Feb. 1715/16 Samuel, "for love and natural affection" deeded to Ephraim one-half of the 19th lot of Cedar Swamp in the 26 Men's Purchase, "also that Parcells of my lott of meadow in the lower medows in Middleborough which I have not already disposed . . . containeth abt. two acres & three quarters abutting on Raven Brook, also one half of abt two acres of meadow & upland at Winnatuxet Meadow in Township of Plympton on southwest side of river, also, one half of sd lot of Cedar Swamp . . . two and three quarters of meadow."

On 3 May 1717 Samuel sold to his son Ephraim 50 acres of land in Middleborough on which Samuel dwelled, "only reserving unto myself & my Wife Rebekah Wood the whole use & Improvements of all that part of the aforesaid fifty acres of Land which is already Fenced in & Improved and also the whole use & improvement of my afores$^{d}$ dwelling Houses, outhouses & Fences upon s$^{d}$Land. During the time of our natural lives together with y$^{e}$ Liberty & Priviledge of Getting of firewood & timber for our own use upon any part of y$^{e}$ afores$^{d}$ fifty acres of land, . . . also one third part of a certain Island called by y$^{e}$ Indian Anunanan, in Assawompsett Pond." Samuel and Rebekah signed with a mark.[2,9,13]

After Samuell's decease his estate was then divided among his children: "*Know all men by these Presents that wee Henry Wood Ephraim Wood Samuel Wood Jabez Wood Joanna Smith Rebekah Smith Anne Wood & Susanah Wood, being the Childrean of Samuel Wood Sen$^{r}$ late of Middleborough in the County of Plymouth in New England Dec$^{d}$ and four Said father dying Intestate Therefore we his aforenamed Children do by these presents mutually agree in order to a settlement and division of his Estate which he left at his decease as followeth. ## III. DEACON EPHRAIM WOOD

Deacon Ephraim[3] Wood (Samuel[2], Henry[1]), born 16 Jan. 1679 at Middleborough, died there on 9 July 1744 in his 65th year; married (1) about 1710, Susanna Howland, born 14 October 1690, died 1 October 1720 at Middleborough, interred in Nemasket Hill cemetery, daughter of Isaac and Elizabeth (Vaughan) Howland; married (2) about 1723, Patience (Nichols) Holmes, widow of Experience Holmes, daughter of Thomas and Sarah (Whiston) Nichols of Scituate.[1,11]

Ephraim Wood is said to have lived upon the borders of Wood's Pond. He witnessed the will of Nathaniel Southworth in 1708. In 1709 he was named in the will of his uncle, Nathaniel Morton. On 1 March 1709 the Selectmen appointed him to be schoolmaster. Ephraim was a plaintiff at the Sept. 1713 session of the Court of Common Pleas in a trespass suit against Thomas Palmer. Palmer pleaded that the land belonged "to the use of the Gospel Ministry in Middleboro." The jury verdict was for Palmer.[2,4,9,12]

On 7 March 1715 Ephraim sold 1 3/4 acres to Joseph Borden "My Dwelling house where I lately lived in Middleborough & parsells of land on which it standeth lying near Meeting house, also 20 acres bought of Isaac Fuller lying near Meeting house, and 2 3/4 acres of meadow in Middleborough abutting Raven Brook that "my Honored Father gave me."[13]

Ephraim joined the First Church in 1715 and was one of the purchasers of the parish burying ground on 30 March 1717. He was made deacon on 25 July 1725. The Court appointed Ephraim appraiser of the Samuel Eaton estate on 6 April 1724 and later appointed him to a term of grand jury duty starting March 1727/8. On 18 May 1731 Ephraim sold one-half lot (50 acres) in the 26 Men's Purchase given to him by his father Samuel Wood, also one-fourth part of 19th lot of Cedar Swamp. On 20 May 1731 Samuel, Ephraim, Jr. and Rebekah chose their father to be their guardian. Manassa chose Samuel Wood to be his in 1744. In 1732 Susanna's children were named heirs to receive one-sixth of the estate of their uncle Seth Howland (about seventeen and a quarter acres of the homestead lying in the twenty-six men's purchase) and one-sixth part of Seth Howland's share in the Cadman allotment on the easterly side of the Namasket River.[2,4,9,12,13,17]

During the 1735/36 September session of the Plymouth Court of the General Session of the Peace, Ephraim was referred to as a "Retailer and Innkeeper." In that year he administered the estate of Barnaby Wood. In this and other transactions he referred to himself as Blacksmith. The Court licensed him each year to sell liquor, from September 1735 to September 1744. On 23 Feb. 1742/3 Ephraim deeded to Ephraim Wood "the Second" forty acres of land in the twenty-six Men's Purchase "the same bought of my son Josiah Wood" He sold to Nathan Bassett, blacksmith, "All my Dwelling House & Lands in Middleborough which I purchased from Samuel Thatcher, ten acres being part of the farms of Capt. Vaughan." [2,3,4,9,12,13]

Ephraim made his will on 20 May 1738, and it was presented for probate on 12 July 1744. *"In the Name of God amen the twentyeth day of May Anno Dom 1738. ## IV. JOSIAH WOOD

Josiah[4] Wood (Ephraim[3], Samuel[2], Henry[1]), born 18 June 1710 at Middleborough, died 13 Oct. 1768 at Middleborough; married on 29 January 1735/6 at Middleborough, by Benjamin White, Justice of Peace, Mary (Sprout) Holmes of Middleborough, baptized 14 August 1716 [sic 1715] at Scituate, died 25 January 1777 at Middleborough, daughter of Ebenezer and Experience (Hawes) Sprout [Sproat]. Mary m. (1) Thomas Holmes, b. 7 January 1708/9 at Plymouth, MA, will probated 20 December 1733. By this marriage they had daughter Experience Holmes, b. 12 February 1731/2.[1,4,11,18]

Much of the life of Josiah Wood can be reconstructed from deeds and court records of Plymouth county. On 12 March 1734 Josiah, of Middleborough, bought from Jonathan Fuller land in Middleborough for £155 and transferred this land on the same day to his "honored father Ephraim Wood" for £100. On 1 Jan. 1735 Peter Blackmer sold to Josiah Wood, "Blacksmith of Rochester," for £77 land in Rochester, adjoining Mill pond "called Lippion Mill River." On 13 Jan. 1735, for £50, Ebenezer Hathaway sold to Josiah Wood, "Blacksmith of Rochester," 50 acres more or less in Rochester "upon the West most Branch of Lippean River." In November 1735 Josiah bought of J. Cornelius Bennett, for £360, 200 acres of land in Middleborough, "lying on county road leading from Middleborough and meeting angle to Rochester on the northerly side of Fallbrook where Capt. Peter Benet's mill now stands." Josiah Wood and Ithamar Coomes, Bloomers out of Rochester, purchased, from Ichabad Bumpus on 1 October 1736 for £150, land "part thereof in Rochester and part thereof in the Liberties of Agawam or near thereto in the county of Plymouth, part being wet marsh and part upland and swampy meadow lyin in Crawmsfett Neck, 3/4 of a lott. Also Cedar Swamp near Agwam." On February 1739 Josiah bought of Joseph Haskell of Rochester house and land in Rochester "which was William Blackmans." On 17 September 1754 Josiah, Blacksmith, paid John Perkins £210 for 8 acres of land lying in Bridgewater. On 31 May 1756 the estate of Isaac Bennett paid £48.13.4 to Josiah Wood, Blacksmith of Middleborough, for 9 acres of meadow lying in Middleborough.[13]

The Court of Common Pleas, term starting in September 1737, recorded him as a blacksmith from Rochester, MA, when he was a plaintiff against Jabez Wood (Ipswich Nailer), concerning a defaulted note. A court session starting May 1744 listed him as a Rochester bloomer, in a suit for refusing to pay £185 for digging 60 tons of iron ore at 20s per ton. The jury verdict was for the defendant. Shortly after 10 July 1744 when his son Ephraim was born in Rochester, he returned to Middleborough, apparently to take over his father's inn and blacksmith shop. Court sessions of March 1744/5, September 1746, 1747, 1757, 1758, 1759, and 1760 issued him a license to sell liquor and listed him as a retailer and innkeeper. A hiatus in the license records between 1747 and 1757 makes it impossible to determine if the license was held continuously. Throughout this time Josiah was listed as a blacksmith in cases brought before the Court of Common Pleas. In 1757 Josiah was administrator for the estate of Joanna Wood.[12,13,17]

Sessions of the Court of Common Pleas for September 1737, March 1738, May 1744 and 1749, March 1752, May 1753 and 1754 (4 cases), April 1762 and 1763 recorded suits by or against Josiah for default of notes. Josiah was plaintiff in five of these suits. He lost the suit against him for the amount due for a yoke of oxen, also, the suit to deliver on the day promised "Seven hundred and Seventy five pound weight of Good Tough Deck Nails under Twelve to the pound of Good Bloomery Iron." During the court session starting April 1762 the plaintiff, Ignatius Elmes, received payment "in full after debtor was imprisoned." [12]

On 25 Apr. 1759 Josiah Wood and Samuel Wood Jr., both of Middleborough, sold to their brother, Ephraim, 1/2 of 18 acres of land "lying in the six and twenty Purchase and is a part of the 20th lot in the first allotment of hundred acre lots in said purchase, excepting about 6 acres our honored father sold to our said brother Ephraim Wood and also excepting and reserving one acre our said father sold to the widow Desire Vaughan. The said eighteen acres of Land our Hon' father Ephraim Wood bought of Samuel Warren and John Clavendon." [13]

Mary and Josiah, on 10 Apr. 1768 sold to Josiah, Jr. nine acres of land. During the October 1768 sessions of the Court of Common Pleas, seven cases for unpaid debts were filed against Josiah, apparently in anticipation of his death. Unable to defend himself, Mary was appointed administrix to defend his actions. Four cases were listed plaintiff vs. Mary Wood, Adm. To satisfy judgements, the court awarded Ephraim Spooner "four acres, being part of the improved lands of said Josiah Wood, and lieth on the southerly side of Plymouth road and easterly next to land given to Shubael Tinkham in Middleborough." Shubael Tinkham received 3 3/4 acres in Middleborough to satisfy judgement for thirteen bushels of Indian corn and for notes on other accounts. Thomas Torrey received 5 3/4 acres lying on the northerly side of Plymouth Road next to Manassah Wood, deceased, and bounded by the Halifax road in compensation for a note, "to deliver 1,000 good two-inch merchantable white oak plank." Nathaniel Wood received in satisfaction of a defaulted note, 4 1/2 acres of land "on the southerly side of Plymouth road in Middleborough." Nathaniel Smith received 10 1/4 acres lying on the northerly side of Plymouth road and bounded on the southerly side by Josiah Wood, Jr. Ebenezer Cox received as payment "the westerly half of (Josiah's) dwelling house and barn with all the land adjoining thereto, except the spot whereon the other half of the house stands, it being by estimation about two acres." On 4 Nov. 1768, the court awarded Josiah, Jr., in satisfaction of a defaulted note, 10 1/2 acres in Middleborough "lying the northerly side of Plymouth road ajoining Ebenezer Cox's land." This was a settlement of a court decision of 2 Nov. 1768: "We command you to take the Body of the Said Josiah Wood and him commit unto our Goal in Plymouth in our County of Plymouth aforesaid and detain in your Custody within our Said Goal until he pay the full Sum above mentioned with your fees or that he be discharged by the Said Josiah Wood, Jr." [12,13]

On 13 December 1768 at Plymouth, Mary was appointed administratrix of the estate of Josiah Wood. She "together with Josiah Wood, Blacksmith, and Ephraim Wood, laborer, both of Middleboro gave bond in the sum of £100 for the faithful discharge of this inst." As administratrix of Josiah's estate Mary Wood, at the Court of Common Pleas session of December 1768, had the court award to Josiah Wood, Jr., for defaulted notes, "the easterly part of the dwelling house with all privileges and appertenances and a blacksmith shop, being in Middleborough." [12,13]

At the 17 May 1769 Probate Court session, Mary Wood, as administratrix, testified that the estate of Josiah Wood was insolvent. "The account of Mary Wood, administratrix of the estate of Josiah Wood late of Middleborough in said county blacksmith dec'd, is offered for allowance as follows viz.

At the Spring session of the Court of Common Pleas, 1769, John Hill, in a suit against Josiah Wood, Jr. for a defaulted note, was awarded "the easterly end of the dwelling house where the said Josiah now dwells, in Middleborough, the westerly part of which is now owned by Ebenezer Cox, the whole house being late the dwelling house of Josiah Wood Late of said Middleborough, deceased father of the within named Josiah, and we do appraise the lower front room, the bedroom chamber and the garret, the easterly half of the cellar. A right in the stairs and stairway and front door having made allowences for the widdow right of dower in the premises." [12,13]

On 12 December 1770 Josiah and Salome Wood sold to Ephraim Wood 3[d] a tract of land lying in the Five Men's Purchase bounded by land of Capt. Ebenezer Sprout and Manasseh Wood's heirs, formerly belonging to Josiah Wood. Recorded in the May 23, 1771 inventory record of Manassah Wood's estate: "to the debt of Josiah Wood and cost for which the estate hath the credit for the same and land set off to me, and gave a quit claim to the widdow for the sum of 13.9.10." On 11 March 1772, Ebenezer Sproat, the brother-in-law of Josiah, Sr. and owner of Sproat's Tavern, became guardian for Consider and Robert Wood.[26]

Nora Wood postulated that Josiah Wood "was probably the Josiah Wood named in Colonial Times on Buzzard's Bay as going on Whaling voyage, March 28 to 12 Aug. 1737 in the employ of Josiah Peary, receiving 5 pounds, 5 shillings per month from the time he goeth from home and one pound of Whale bone more in all." [3]

I. JOHN JENNEY

PLYMOUTH, MASSACHUSETTS

John[1] Jenney, born in England, died before inventory was taken on 25 May 1644 at Plymouth, MA; married on 1 November 1614 (n.s.) before bailiffs, Jasper von Banchem and Jacob Paedts, at Leyden, Holland, Sarah Carey from Monck Soham, county Suffolk, England, died after 12 August 1655 and before 18 February 1655, at Plymouth, MA, daughter of Sir Wymonde Carye.[1,2,3,5,9,10]

John Jenney was with the Pilgrims in Leyden on 22 November 1609 (n.s.) when he witnessed the marriage of Robert Peck. At the time of his marriage to Sarah in 1614 he lived on Veldesstraat (Field Street). Lyden marriage records listed him as a brewer from Norwich, England, but when the banns were posted he lived in Rotterdam. Sarah Carey was listed a spinster from Monk Soham, England. John could communicate in the Dutch language, and he traveled occasionally to London. On 16 June 1618 (n.s.) he buried a child in St. Peters Church at Leyden.[2,4,5]

John, his wife, Sarah, and their children, Samuel, Abigail and Sarah, sailed to Plymouth in the Little James, arriving in August 1623. The voyage took three months and two days. John was among those receiving the first distribution of land in 1623. The Court allotted him five acres, situated along Cold Spring Brook. In 1626/27 he was one of the "Purchasers" who bought out the interests of the English Merchants. He shared in the division of cattle on 22 May 1627: "to this lott fell the great white backt cow wch was brought ovr with the first in the Ann . . . also two shee goats." His name was on the first list of freeman in 1633. He paid the third largest tax to the town of Plymouth and was listed as a gentleman. On 7 March 1636, the Court gave him a permit to build a grist-mill on or about the same site of the first mill, which was built in 1632 and apparently operated by John in 1634 when its owner, Stephen Dean, died. John was brought before the court on 6 January 1636/37 for buying corne from the Indians: "Whereas John Jenney Thomas Willet and George Watson did, contrary to the auncient lawes of this colony, trade wth the Indians for corne, and thereby both the quantitie of corne and the value thereof was forfaited to the colony . . ." [3,5,6]

For a "cow and calfe" John Jenney and Edward Holman were assigned "hey ground" for the year 1636/37, and on 6 January 1636/37 John was given six acres of land to develop and build a house. Between 1633 and 1639 he purchased various parcels of land, apparently for investment purposes. On 2 February 1638 he sold to John Howland "for and in consideracon of the sume of fourescore and two pounds sterl. . . . and also for three acrees of land . . .

lying at Caughtaughcanteist hill on the south side of the towne of Plymouth, . . . All that his (John Jenny's) house barnes & outhouses at Rockey Nooke together w^th^ . . . that w^ch^ was Phillip Delanoys . . . and five acrees of meaddow adjoyning unto the said land." On 16 September 1641 John received a grant of "as much more upland as will make his farme at Lakenhame (now Carver) two hundred acres, and when that is used, then to have more added to yt, in lue of some land he hath yielded up at the towne to Gabriell Fallowell." On 20 April 1641/42 he obtained permission to make salt on Clarks Island.[5,6,7]

John participated extensively in maritime trade. In 1637 and for a number of years thereafter he owned a barque known as the John Jenney barque, which he used in trade between England and the Colony. He often sailed in her. On 24 January 1641/42 he was part investor of a much larger barque. John was Governor's Assistant from 5 January 1635 to 1642. Between 1634 and 1643 he was appointed to various commissions to lay out highways in Plymouth, to assist in setting rates, to select suitable locations for two meeting houses, to "view" hay grounds & meadows, and to strengthen fortifications. He served many times on the grand jury and on special committees for the General Court. In 1634 he was made Deacon of the Plymouth Church and was authorized in 1648 "to grant lands in Plymouth." In August 1643 the town listed him among males who were able to bear arms, and on 24 September 1643 he was appointed to the "Counsell of War for the Towne." [3,5,9]

John made his will on 28 December 1643 and his inventory was taken on 25 May 1644. "I John Jenney of New Plymouth in New England being sick . . . do give unto my eldest sonne Samuell Jenney a Double porcon of all those lands I stand possessed of or have right unto w^th^in th Goverment of new Plymouth my will being pformed next of all I give unto Sarah my loveing wyfe whom I ordaine my Executrix my Dwelling house and Mille adjacent together w^th^ all the lands thereunto belonging, my will being that shee freely and fully enjoy it together w^th^ all other my moveables goods and chattells so long as God shalbe pleased to continue her life except such as I shall after Dispose of or shee shall willingly and freely part w^th^ to any our children according to my will and Desire Alsoe whereas Abigaile my eldest Daughter and somewhat given her by her grandmother and Henry Wood of Plymouth aforesaid is a suter to her in way of marriage my will is that if shee the said Abigaile will Dwell one full yeare w^th^ m^r^ Charles Chauncey of Scittuate before her marriage (pvided he be willing to entertaine her) that then my said Daughter Abigail have two of my cowes and my full consent to marry w^th^ the said Henry Wood And in case m^r^ Chauncey be against it then I would have her dwell wth m^ris^ Winslow of Careswell the said terme of one yeare ffurther as I have given to my eldest sonn Samuell a double porcon of all my lands whatsoever after the death of his said mother so also I give him a Double po^r^con of my whole estate w^th^ the rest of my children viz^t^

I. GEORGE MORTON

PLYMOUTH, MASSACHUSETTS

George[1] Morton, born about 1555 near Austerfield, Yorkshire, England, died June 1624 at Plymouth; married on 23 July 1612 (n.s.) at Leyden, Holland, Julian Carpenter, born about 1584, baptized 17 March 1584 at St. James Church, Batt, co. Sumerset, England, died 19 February 1664/5 at Plymouth, aged 81 years, "a faithful servant of God," daughter of Alexander Carpenter. Julian married (2) Manasseh Kempton, Esquire, died 14 January 1662/3 at Plymouth.[1,2,3,5,9,11,13]

George is thought to be the George Morton unaccounted for in the family of Anthony Morton of Bawtry, near George Morton's home in Austerfield, Yorkshire, which is about one mile from Schrooby where the Pilgrim movement originated. George and Julian were part of the Pilgrim Church at Leyden where their marriage was recorded: "George Morton Englishman from York in England bachelor and merchant accompanied by Thomas Morton his brother and Roger Wilson his acquaitance . . . with Juliana Carpenter young daughter from Bath also situated in England accompanied by Alexander Carpenter her father with Alice Carpenter her sister and Agnes Robinson her acquaintance." They were married by bailiffs, Adriaensz van Leewen and Jacob Paedts. George apparently served the Leyden group in some official capacity. In 1622 he published in London "Mourt's Relation," a first history of New England, composed of letters and journals from the Plymouth colonists.[1,2,10]

In June 1623 George and his wife, Julian, arrived at Plymouth in the ship Anne. They brought with them five children and Julia's sister, Alice, who later became the second wife of Governor Bradford. In that year George Morton and Experience Mitchell (together) were allotted eight acres of land. According to Nathaniel Morton, George was one of two principal passengers that arrived aboard the Anne. He did not make the first passage because his ship developed a leak and had to turn back. His death the following year was a severe loss to the Colony. "Mr. George Morton was a pious, gracious servant of God, and very faithful in whatsoever public employment he was betrusted withal, and an unfeigned well-willer, and according to his sphere and condition a suitable promoter of the common good and growth of the plantation of New Plimouth; labouring to still the discontents that sometimes would arise amongst some spirits, by occasion of the difficulties of these new beginnings; but it pleased God to put a period to his days soon after his arrival in New England, not surviving a full year after his coming ashore. With much comfort and peace he fell asleep in the Lord, in the month of June anno 1624." [4,7,12]

II. DEACON AND LEIFTENANT EPHRAIM MORTON

PLYMOUTH, MASSACHUSETTS

Deacon Ephraim[2] Morton (George[1]) was born on the ship, Ann, in 1623 during passage to New England, died 5 October 1693 at Plymouth; married (1) on 18 November 1644 at Plymouth, Ann [Anne] Cooper, died 6 Sept. 1691 at Plymouth; married (2) on 18 Oct. 1692 at Plymouth, Mary (Shelley) Harlow of the town of Plymouth, widow of William Harlow and daughter of Robert Shelley of Scituate. She married (3) in 1698, Hugh Cole.[1,5,7,14]

Soon after the colonists bought out the company of merchants, the Court on 22 May 1627 divided the cattle and goats among twelve lots of thirteen people. The Mortons were part of the Kempton family in the 11th lot headed by Governor William Bradford. "To this lott fell An heyfer of the last yeare w^ch^ was of the Great white back cow that was brought over in the Ann, and two shee goats." On 2 November 1640, the Court granted Ephraim "meddowing (five acres) in the South Meddows toward Aggawam, Colebrook Meddowes." He was made freeman on 7 June 1648.[4,5]

Ephraim lived on land in Plymouth given to him by Mannasses Kempton on 22 February 1650. "Know all men by these p'sents that I Mannasses Kemton of Plym: in New England Planter doe acknowlidg that I have freely and absolutly given unto my sonn in law Ephraim Morton of the Towne aforsaid the Colonie aforsaid Planter all that pcell of Land on which the said Ephraim now liveth being bounded on the norwest side therof with the smale brook Running by the said side therof and on the southeast side with the land of Thomas Morton; abuting with the neather end upon the bay and so extending it selfe in the length up into the woods . . . ; And also a pcell of meddow at Sagaquas viz all that is there; as allso my part and Right in the land belonging to the Purchasers att Satuket or therabout." On 19 Oct. 1674 Ephraim and "Anne my wife in consideration of natural affection" gave "my lott . . . att the Eell river" to his son Ephraim. "I reserve one third thereof of the aforesaid meadow for my use and the use of my now wife during our natural lives." In June 1665 Ephraim, Sr. sold to Edward Gray a lot (18th) granted to Ephraim on the west side of Namasakett River, and in May 1670 Ephraim sold to him "my one share lying in necke of land called Punckateesett neck lying against Rhode Island." Lieft. Ephraim and "Ann his wife" sold to Barnabas Laythorpe in Nov. 1673 fifty acres of upland near Manomett Pond. On 21 Mar. 1709 Ephraim, for "Love and Affection" gave his son John part of his farm, except a five acre lot he sold to Ebenezer Holmes to be his "after my natural life and y^e^ natural life of my wife." On 22 Mar. 1709 Ephraim sold to Ebenezer his share ("Father . . . gave his share to each of us alike, after Father & Mother's decease, containing 3 lots of land & meadows, ground, orchards and outhouses, except two lots Father disposed to brother John." [4,16]

The Court appointed Ephraim constable for Plymouth on 7 June 1648. He was appointed to the grand jury in 1652 and 1654 and to the petite jury for 1660, 1661, 1684, and 1685. In 1657 the Plymouth General Court appointed him Deputy to the Court and reappointed him for the next twenty-eight years. When Plymouth merged with Massachusetts in 1691/2, the Town chose Ephraim to be a Representative to the General Court. He was head of the Board of Selectmen of Plymouth for nearly twenty-five years and a magistrate of the colony in 1683, 1690, and 1691. At the time of death he was a justice of the Court of Common Pleas.[3-5,12]

Ephraim was sergeant of the Plymouth military company. Recorded on 8 June 1664: "Serjeant Ephraim Morton is appointed and approved of by the Court to bee leiftenant of the milletary companie of Plymouth." On 6 June 1665 The Court granted him one share of thirty acres of land on the westerly side of the Namasket River, "the charge of the purchase of the said land shalbee equally bourne by all those which have lands there." In 1671 he was a member of the Council of War and served in this capacity for many years, including the time of King Philip's War. He was a deacon of the Plymouth Church from 1 August 1669 until his death in October 1693.[1,3,8,17]

On 11 October 1692, Ephraim Morton and Widow Mary Harlow made a marriage agreement which was acknowledged before Justice of Peace William Bradford. Mary would have her right of Dower to the Lands and Housing of her late Husband Mr. William Harlow . . . to be at her disposal . . . Quit her Future Claim to any right or title of Dower that she shall or may hereafter have . . . if she shall survive the said Ephraaim Morton in and unto all such Lands and Goods and Chattels as the said Ephraim Morton now hath or here after may have within the said Town of Plimouth or Elswhere." [15]

I. JOHN HOWLAND

PLYMOUTH, MASSACHUSETTS

A thorough coverage of John Howland and the descent through his daughter, Desire (Howland) Gorham, to Josiah Wood was recently published by Elizabeth Pearson White. The information presented here is taken mainly from material collected prior to this publication.[14]

Records of Howlands before the reign of King Henry VII, are found only in Newport and Wicken, county Essex, England and their vicinities. Names found in later records trace back to these localities. John Howland, sister Margaret, and brothers: Arthur; Henry, Jr.; Humphrey; George; and Simon, were children of Henry Howland, Sr., (died 17 May 1635 in Fenstanton, Huntingtonshire, England) and Margaret who was buried there on 31 July 1629.[1,2,8]

John[1] Howland, born ca. 1592 at Fenstanton, Huntingdonshire, England, died 23 February 1672/3 at Rocky Nook (now Kingston, MA) married at Plymouth about 25 March 1623, Elizabeth Tilley, baptized on 30 August 1607 at Henlow, Huntingdonshire, England, died 21/31 Dec. 1687 at Swansea, aged 80 years, buried at Riverside, daughter of John and Joan (Hurst) Rogers Tilley.[2,3,8,10,14]

John Howland arrived at Plymouth aboard the Mayflower on 22 Dec. 1620. His brothers Arthur, George, Henry and Humphrey arrived later about 1623/4. During passage to America he nearly drowned when he was swept overboard during a violent storm. He grasped a halyard that trailed astern and held on until he surfaced and was rescued with a boathook. John was the thirteenth signer of the Mayflower Compact and on December 6 was one of the ten to make the exploration along shore where they were attacked by Indians at Eastham, Cape Cod (the First Encounter). On return they lost the mast and rudder during a storm. The sail was lost overboard and the sea spray froze on their coats, producing a glaze of ice.[2,4,5,8,9,10]

John came as a servant of Governor Carver. It is believed that he inherited Carver's land when John Carver and his wife died the following spring. Elizabeth Tilley's parents died that winter. John was among those to receive an allotment of land in 1623 (four acres) and was in charge of the fourth lot consisting of thirteen colonists in the 1627 division of cattle and goats - "to this lot fell one of the 4 heyfers Came in the Jacob Called Raghorne." Included in his group were John and Priscilla Alden. In 1626 John was among those who assumed the Colony's debt to the Merchant Adventurers.[2,3,5,6,8,9,12,13]

By 1634 John was the sixth most wealthiest land owner in the Colony as indicated by the amount of tax assessed. He was heavily involved in the administration of the colony. Apparently as early as 1629 he served in some capacity, and from 1633 to 1635 he was a member of the Governor's Council of Assistants. From 1641 to 1670 he was frequently a deputy or representative to the General Court. In 1634 John commanded the Pilgrim's Trading Post in Kennebec, Maine, and on 2 February 1638 he bought of John Jenney "his house barnes and outhouses at Rockey Nooke together w$^{th}$ all the lands thereunto belonging layd forth for the said M$^{r}$ Jenney . . . and five acrees of meaddow adjoyneing unto the said land". On 5 November 1657 John bought of Christopher Winter twenty acres of land previously owned by Governor Bradford.[2,3,5,8,11]

John made use of indentured servants- "that John Winslow, for in consideracion of the sum of twelve pounds sterl, hath bargained and sould all his interrest and right in the service of Joseph Grosse, w$^{th}$ & by the consent of the said Joseph, w$^{ch}$ is for five years from the thirteenth of August next after the date thereof, unto M$^{r}$ John Howland, the said John fynding his said servant, Joseph Grosse, meate, drinke, & apparell during the said terme, & in th'end thereof to give him two shuits of apparell, one for working dayes & another for Lords dayes, and shall also give him xij bushells of Indian corne, in th'end of the said terme." [8]

John Howland's death and obituary were recorded in the Plymouth Colony records. "The 23$^{th}$ of February 1672 M$^{r}$. John Howland senir of the Towne of Plymouth, deceased. Hee was a godly man and an ancient professor in the wayes of Christ; hee lived untill he attained above eighty yeares in the world. Hee was one of the first Comers into this land and proved a usefull instrument of good in his place & was the last man that was left of those that Came over in the shipp called the May Flower, that lived in Plymouth, hee was with honor intered att the Towne of Plymouth on the 25 of February, 1672." [3,8]

II. ISAAC HOWLAND

MIDDLEBOROUGH, MASSACHUSETTS

Isaac[2] Howland (John[1]), born 15 Nov. 1649 at Rocky Nook, died 9 March 1723/4[4] at Middleborough, MA, interred in Parish Burial Ground at the Green; married about 1676, Elizabeth Vaughan, born 8 April 1653 at Marshfield, died 29 October 1727 at Middleborough in the 75th year of her age, daughter of George and Elizabeth (Hincksman) Vaughan.[2,3,4,7,8]

Isaac [Isack] was very prominent in the early settlement of Middleborough. He lived on the western side of the road, on the land willed to him by his father. He owned land on which the present town house stands and received allotments from the Sixteen Shilling and Twenty-six Men's Purchases. Isaac was a leader in public affairs, and town meetings were often held at his home. He was a surveyor of highways in 1672, constable in 1674, selectman in 1674, 1684 to 1686. During King Philip's War, he was listed first in the commandant's council, and as Lieutenant, he served with great bravery under Captain Church during the war. The war started at Middleborough when Isaac was ordered to shoot an Indian who appeared upon the rock on the other side of the river from the fort. "He fired, resting the gun upon the shoulder of a comrade, and the Indian fell, mortally wounded. The shot was considered remarkable at the time, as the distance was one hundred and fifty-five rods, much beyond the range of the ordinary musket." Isaac was made a freeman in 1681 and a member of the grand jury in 1682. The Court licensed him in 1684 to keep an inn and each year he was issued a license to sell liquor until September 1704 when he was fined for drunkenness. The Court appointed him deputy from 1689 to 1691. At one time he received from Thomas Joslin, of Little Compton, R.I., £7 for "a yoak of oxen unjustly detained." [8,11,18]

On 3 Apr. 1704 Isaac Howland, Sen. and William Thomas were "ordered and impowered by the Proprietors" to purchase the Little Lotmen's Purchase. On 2 Apr. 1714 Isaac, for "Love and Natural Affection," gave to his son Seth "my two whole shares in Little Lotmen's Purchase in Middleborough." He gave to his son Nathan for "Love and Natural Affection," on 25 Jan. 1713/14, two lots in the "Six and Twentymens Purchase abutting upon y^e^ great river," each containing 25 acres and two acres of meadow in Wenetuxett meadows in Plimpton. In May 1717, Nathan exchanged these lots with his father for land in Middleborough. On 13 April 1714 Isaac, for "Love and Affection" gave to his son Isaac, Jr. "my one lot in Sixteen Shilling Purchase," containing forty acres on the southeast of Taunton Path, and 2 lots (53rd and 67th lots) in South Purhase, each containing 45 acres. Isaac also land to Nathaniel Holmes, Henry Wood, Jr., 20 acres in Middleborough, abutting on Raven Brook to James Soule, and 2 lots in Six Twenty Mens Purchase, each containing 25 acres to Nathaniel Southworth. Isaac signed these transactions with his signature. Seth Howland, on 27 March 1732, willed to the children of his brother, Isaac, 1/6 part of Seth's estate.[4,20]

On 6 April 1724 the Court probated the will of Isaac Howland: "Know all men by these Presents that I Isaac Howland Sen^r^ of the Town of middleborô In y^e^ County of Plymouth In New: England Being at the Present Time weak: & understanding (Blessed be God for It) Do make & ordain this to be my last Will & Testament to Continue forever firm & Inviolable.

I. JOHN TILLEY

PLYMOUTH, MASSACHUSETTS

The name Tilley appeared in England at the time of the Norman Conquest and is found in the Doomsday Book. A "hypothetical" family line has been constructed from parish records of Henlow and probate records of the county of Bedford, dating back to about 1465. Tilley lineage in England:

"1. Henry Tilly, b. ca. 1465, of Henlow, will dated 1 Sept. 1520 and proved 4 Dec. 1520; m. Johan. Henry willed to his children Thomas and William.
2. Thomas Tilly, b. ca. 1490, will dated 21 Aug. 1556 and proved 6 Oct. 1556; m. Margaret.
3. William Tylle, b. ca. 1515, bur. 21 Jan. 1578/9 at Henlow; married Agnes, bur. 7 June 1582 at Henlow.
4. Robert Tilley, b. ca. 1540, bur. 21 Feb. 1612/3 at Henlow; m. ca. 1570 Elizabeth, bur. 27 March 1614 at Henlow.
5. John[1] Tilley, baptized 19 Dec. 1571 at Henlow; married there on 20 September 1596 at Henlow, Joan (Hurst) Rogers, widow of Thomas Rogers."
John and Joan died after 11 January 1621 at Plymouth during the first winter.[1,2,3,5]

John, Joan, and daughter Elizabeth sailed from Plymouth, England on the Mayflower on 6 September 1620 (16 September n.s.). After encountering damaging storms, the ship arrived at Cape Cod (near Truro) on 19 November 1620 (n.s.) and anchored there on the 21st (n.s.). The Pilgrims numbered 101 English settlers, including 23 females and 42 children and servants. That day John signed the Mayflower Compact (an agreement to unite into a "civil body politic . . . and frame such just and equal laws") and help elect John Carver as governor. John listed three persons in his family, including his wife. Later that day, 15 to 16 men, headed by Miles Standish, reconnoitered the area.[3,4,6]

On Monday, November 23rd (n.s.), the women went ashore to do the laundry. For the next seventeen days the men explored the area and repaired their shallop. On the 25th (n.s.) a party of ten men led by Standish, Bradford, Hopkins and Tilley (with musket, sword, and corselt) took a long boat to shore and followed Indians ten miles into the woods. They encamped that night and the next day came to a deep valley (East Harbor in Truro) where they found deer and fresh water. Ears of Indian corn were found stored in handsome baskets under the sand. They came upon the remnants of a house (at Cornhill, Hopkin's Creek), a large iron ship's-kettle, and the remnants of a fort. On Dec. 16 (n.s.) the company explored the shore at Eastham. There they were attacked by Indians (first encounter) on the morning of the 18th (n.s.). Arrows were flying thick about them, muskets were fired in return, but no blood was shed. The arrows were headed with "brass, some with deer's horns, and others with eagles' claws." That afternoon John Tilley, John Howland, Capt. Miles Standish, Governor Carver, William Bradford and others comprising a party of 18 took the shallop for exploring. They encountered a violent storm and extremely cold weather. The rudder and mast broke, the sails went overboard, and the sea spray froze on their coats producing a thick glaze of ice. They took refuge that night on Clark Island. The following Monday, December 21 (n.s.), they explored and selected Plymouth harbor for their settlement. The Mayflower anchored there on December 26 (n.s.) and remained there throughout the winter.[3,4,6]

Families remained on board until shelter could be provided. On the 25th they divided the group into nineteen families and assigned to each person a lot, half a pole in breadth and three poles in length, for house lot and garden. Every man was to build his own house, and the houses had to be situated in two rows and compact for greater security against the Indians. By March, 1621, fifty-five survived the winter. John and his wife did not survive. During the first winter the settlers buried their dead on Cole's Hill, and the graves were sown over to conceal the extent of their loss from the Indians. Elizabeth was taken into the household of Governor Carver, but the Governor and his wife died during the spring. John Howland then became in charge of the household and received John Tilley's share.[3,4,6]

I. GEORGE VAUGHAN

MARSHFIELD AND MIDDLEBOROUGH, MASSACHUSETTS

George[1] Vaughan, born about 1627, probably in England, died 20 October 1694 at Middleborough in the 73 year of his age, interred in Nemasket Hill Cemetery ; married in 1652 at Marshfield, Elizabeth Hincksman (Henchman), born about 1634, died 24 June 1693 at Middleborough in the 60th year of her age, daughter of Edmund and Elizabeth Hincksman of Marshfield.[1,2,4,8-10]

Elizabeth (Hinksman) Vaughan's gravestone in the Nemasket Hill cemetery is the oldest inscribed stone. This cemetery is on the bank of the Nemasket River and was for owners of the 26 Mens Purchase and their descendants. Her father, "M" Edmund Hincksman, took oath of Fidelity at Marshfield in 1657. Inventory of Henry Drayton's estate (d. 12 December 1651) listed Edmund Hincksman's debt of 13 shillings. Edmund took inventory of the Robert Warterman estate on 13 January 1652 and the John Barker estate on 17 December 1652. On 14 December 1652 he was appointed by the court to establish borders and on 3 May 1653 he was a jurist. Edmund moved to Chelmsford after 1657 and died there on 27 October 1668. His widow, Elizabeth, married Reverend John Fiske on 1 August 1672.[4,5,6]

George lived in Marshfield when his daughter Elizabeth was born in 1653 and his son Joseph in 1654. In 1657 he took the oath of fidelity in Marshfield, but by 31 May 1657 he was in Scituate where his Wife, Elizabeth, and sons Daniel and Joseph were baptized (2nd. church). On 5 June 1658, John Sutton sued him for detaining his property, and on 10 March 1663/4 George sued William Shurtliffe for molesting and taking away an animal. While a resident of Marshfield on 1 June 1663, the Court fined him for not attending public worship on the Lord's day.[5,9]

George moved to Middleborough after that and settled in the section known as Wappanucket. On 21 October 1666, his wife, Elizabeth, and Samuel Eaton's wife complained about an Indian Chief called Sampson alias Bump who had carried himself insolently towards them. The Court appointed him on 1 June 1669 to a committee to determine the boundary line between the Major's Purchase and the towns of Marshfield, Duxbury, and Bridgewater. On 5 July 1699, the Court licensed him to keep an ordinary "for the entertainment of strangers att Middleberry." On 5 July 1670 the Court awarded him a grant of twelve acres of land in the Major's Purchase on the Nemasket River. In 1671 the Court placed him on a town committee to view the damage done to Indian property by horses and hogs. He was appointed jurist on 5 March 1671/2 and on 30 October 1672. He was made constable on 1 June 1675. In

Oct 1673 he sold land to Lieutenant Ephraim Morton and Joseph Warren. George was listed as a planter in that transaction, a yeoman in 1671 when he sold land lying in the Major's Purchase in "Middleberry", and a "taylor" when on 4 July 1672 he sold his remaining shares of land in the Majors Purchase. He also bought land in the Twenty Six Men's Purchase and was in the town garrison during King Philip's War.[5,6]

The will of George Vaughan was probated on 10 November 1694. *"Know all men by these presents that I George Vaughan Sn^r^ of y^e^ town of Middlebury in y^e^ County of Plymouth in New England Being in some Good health of Body & disposing memory Blessed be God Yet considering my frailty & the uncertainty of my abideing in this vale of tears, do therefore make & ordain these presents to be my last will and testament to stand good, and to remain firm & inviolatte for ever in manner and form following. ## SCITUATE, MASSACHUSETTS

Robert[1] Sprout, of Scituate, died between 23 November and 11 December 1712 at Middleborough; married before 1662, Elizabeth Sampson, of Duxbury (Duxborrow), died between 23 November 1711 and 11 December 1712, daughter of Henry and Anne (Plummer) Sampson of Duxborrow, MA.[1,13,14,16]

Robert Sprout [Sproat] was an indentured servant to Walter Briggs. The first record of Robert in the Plymouth Colony was his 4 May 1658 complaint against Walter for failing to return to Robert his indenture at the end of his term. In 1660 Robert was part of "the Two mile" Scituate purchase. He became a member of the Second Church of Scituate. On 5 March 1661/2, in court, Robert Barker complained against Robert Sprout for trespass, in taking away the hay of the said Barker from his meddow. The jury found for the plaintiff £6 plus court costs (Henery Wood was juror). The Plymouth Court on 4 October 1664 appointed Robert to a committee to settle a boundary dispute between Robert and Daniell Hicke concerning a tract of land lying on the east side of North River. In court on 3 October 1665, Mr. Samuell Saberry and Robert Barker complained against Robert Sprout in a trespass case, asking damages of £12 for carrying away hay. On 5 July 1666 Thomas Robinson sold to Robert nine acres of land in Scituate on the easterly side of North River, "to be holden according the manor of East Greenwich in the County of Kent in ffree and common Soccage and not in Capite nor by Knights service nor by the rents & services thereof." [3,5,9,17]

Robert sold to Thomas Palmer for £18 a 45 acre lot, being the 38th lot of the first division of the Twelve Shilling Purchase in Middleborough. On 21 June 1704 Robert and Elizabeth of Scituate for £200 sold, to daughters Elizabeth and Mary, "eight score acres" land in Middleborough, at Assawompset, bounded northwest on Taunton Road. Robert and Elizabeth used R and E as their mark. On 17 Jan. 1711/12 Robert of Middleborough, for "Love and Affection" gave to his son Ebenezer Sprout of Scituate "one-half part of my farm or plantation within Scituate. . . with the dwelling house and barn where my son Ebenezer now dwells. . . bounded by Robinsons Creek. The East end bounded by Marshfield line, together with one-half of my other piece of meadow lying in the middle of my farm containing four acres, . . . together with one-half of my right to the undeveloped lands in y^e^ Township of Scituate." On 6 June 1712 Robert Sprout of Middleborough sold to Mercy Oldham, wife of Thomas Oldham; Hannah Richard, wife of Ebenezer Richard; Hannah Keen, wife of Josiah Keen his whole 80 acres in South Purchase, the Thompson Purchase, three-fourths share of cedar swamp, one-half share in undivided 16 Shilling Purchase, two and one-fourth acres near "Edey" Pond, 8 acres lying upon Spring Brook, thirty acres of upland near Spring Brook. On 20 July 1712 Robert Sprout of Scituate, for "Love and Fatherly Affection" gave to his son James the other half of the farm - "tract of land on which dwelling house stands in Scituate, bounded northerly by land he gave to his son Ebenezer Sprout, bounded westerly to Robinsons Creek." On 16 June 1713 heirs of Robert Sprout's estate - Thomas and Mercy Oldham of Scituate, Ephraim and Hannah Keen of Plymouth, Ebenezer and Anna Richard of Middleborough sold to Thomas Nelson: twenty five acres in Middleborough -"land formerly belonging to our honored Father Robert Sprout, deceased; twenty five acres lying upon y^e^ neck, called Assawompsett Neck in Middleborough; one whole share of common land in s^d^ neck.

I. HENRY SAMPSON

DUXBORROW, MASSACHUSETTS

Henry[1] Sampson, baptized 15 Jan. 1603 at Henlow, co. Bedford, son of James and Martha (Cooper) Sampson, died 24 Dec. 1684 at Duxbury [Duxborrow]; married 6 February 1635 at Plymouth, Anne Plummer, born before 1620, died between 24 December 1668 and 3 January 1669.[2,3,5,10,12]

Henry Sampson [Samson] came on the Mayflower with his aunt Agnes [Ann] (Cooper) Tilley and her husband, Edward. Henry was too young to sign the Compact, but they included him in the assignment of lands in 1623 and in the division of cattle of 22 May 1627, being in the fifth lot awarded to Mr. William Brewster and his company of ten. "To this lot ffell one of the fower Heyfers Came in the Jacob Called the Blind Heffer, and 2 shee goats." William Bradford's 1650 list of Mayflower passengers included: "Edward Tillie, and Ann his wife; and .2. childeren that were cossens; Henry Samson, and Humillity Coper. Edward Tillie, and his wife both dyed soon after their arivall. But the youth Henery Samson, is still liveing, and is maried, & hath .7. children." [5,11]

For the years 1633, 1636/7, 1643, and 1658, Henry was on the list of freemen of Duxborrow. The Plymouth Colony Proceedings of the General Court on 7 June 1636 [1637] listed Henry Sampson among the those willing to serve in the Pequot war. "At the gen'all Court of o' Sov'aigne Lord the Kinge holden at New Plymouth the vij$^{th}$ day of June in the xiij$^{th}$ Yeare of the Raigne of our Sov'aigne Lord Charles by the Grace of God of England Scotland France & Ireland Kinge Defendor of the fayth &c. before William Bradford gent Gov'no' Edward Winslowe Thomas Prence Captaine miles Standish Tymothy Hatherley and John Jenney Gentlmen Justics of the peace of o' Sov'aigne Lord the King and Assistants in the Gov'ment. It is concluded and enacted by the Court that the Colony of New Plymouth shall send forth and to assist them of Massachusetts Bay and Conectacutt in their warrs against the Pequin Indians in reveng of the Innocent Blood of the English w^ch^ the s^d^ Pequins have barbarously shed and refuse to give satisfaccon for. It is also enacted by the Court That there shalbe thirty psons sent for Land service and as many others as shalbe sufficient to mannage the Barkque." The soldier was ordered to supply "a musket (firelock or matchcock) a pair of bandoleers, a powder pouch, with bullets, a sword, a belt, a worm, a scourer, a rest and knapsack. His pay xviii s. p month & dyett & pillage, and his town to provide him with a month's provisions, viz., 30 pounds of biscuits, 12 of pork, 20 of beef, one half bushel of pease or meal."[5,6]

On 20 April 1635 John Cook made an indenture with Phillip Davis to be his servant for 11 years and 2 months, starting from the first date of his arrival in New England. This indenture was transferred to Henry Sampson on 5 June 1640/1 in pay of 13 bushels of corn at end of the indenture. In 1643 Henry was on the Duxborrow list of "The Names of all the Males that are able to beare Armes from xvi years old to 60 years." In 1645 he was one of the original grantees of Bridgewater although he never moved there. On 27 October 1647 Henry bought of Ephraim and Mary Tinkham for seven pounds --- "all that Third pte of that Lott w^ch^ was formly the land of Peter Brown Deceased." On 27 October 1652 he witnessed a land agreement between Samuell Eaton and Widow Brewster. In that year he participated in the Dartmouth purchase, receiving one share. "Att a generall meeting of the Purchasers att Plymouth the seaventh of march 1652 It was ordered and fully agreed unto and Concluded by the whole that all the Tract and tracts of lands lying from the Purchassers bounds on the west side of Acoughcusse to a river called Accusshaneck and three miles to the Eastwards of the same; with all Ilands meddows woods waters rivers Creekes and all appurtenances therunto belonging Should bee given to those whose names are heerunder written Containing thirty four shares and was then given alloted assigned and sett over to them by the whole to have and to hold to them and their heirs and Assignes for ever; to Devide and Dispose of the same as they sould see good; and they are to Satisfy the Indians for the Purchase therof and to beare all other Due Charges that shall any way arise about the same According to their severall proportions."[4,5,6,9,11]

Henry often served on grand or petite jury duty from 1644 to 1670. He was constable of Duxborrow in 1661, an office of high responsibility and trust. On 5 June 1665 the Court ordered him to establish a "sufficient footway through the land of Simons and Chandler." On 26 March 1682 he resettled a boundary in Duxborrow. "Whereas, the town of Duxborrow did formerly grant unto Henry Samson, of Duxborrow, a small parcel of land near Robinsons creek, in Duxborrow, and the record of the said parcel being burnt with the Clerks house, the said land should be again recorded in the towns books. The bounds of said parcel of land are as followeth, viz. Westwardly by the land of Robert Sproat, of Scituate, southwardly with the land formerly granted to George Russell's children, and so runs half a mile in length towards the south eastward, from the above said meadow at Robinsons crek or brook." For "love and naturall affection," Henry gave to his daughter, wife of Josiah Holmes, land "given to me by the Town of Duxburrow," lying at Robinson's creek, about 40 acres bounded on the north by Robert "Sprought." [6,8,15]

Henry bought for his children one share (30 acres) of the Little Lotmen's Purchase in Middleborough on 16 August 1664 (Plym. Court Rec. 7 June 1665). On 24 Dec. 1668 Henry [Henery] sold to Edward Gray for £6 the 19th lot lying within the bounds of Namassket, next to Ephraim Morton's lot, "to hold in free and comon Soccage." On 7 July 1669 Henry Sampson of Duxborrow, Experience Mitchell, Thomas Little and Thomas Paine purchased for the sum of £10 land of the Indian Chief Tespiquin and his son, William, "Land that lyeth on the westward side Line of the aforesd Land of Mr. Alden." Land records were destroyed during King Philips war. After the war Henry met with the inhabitants and land owners (sixty-eight persons) to resettle the Town of Middleborough. His name was on the 17 May 1698 list of proprietors of the South Purchase, which was purchased originally from Tispequin on 23 July 1673 by Benjamin Church and John Tomson. Henry held lots number 155 and 200.[4,5,15]

His will was recorded in Plymouth: "Duxburrow this 24th of the 10th 1684. The Last Will and Testament of henery Sampson of Duxborrow; In the Name of God Amen Know all p'sons whom it may Concerne that I henery Sampson being in my right understanding Doe thuse will and bequeth my estate to be disposed of, after my Death Henry gave to each of his sons Stephen, John and James one-third part of his lands in the Township of Dartmouth. He gave to each daughter and to sons James and Caleb each one shilling. "I Doe Give unto my Daughter Elizabeth now the wife of Robert Sprout one shilling . . .

I. EDMOND HAWES

YARMOUTH, MASSACHUSETTS

Edmond[1] Hawes, born at Solihull, Warwickshire, England, baptized 15 October 1612 at the parish church, died 9 June 1693 at Yarmouth and buried 10 June 1693, son of Edmond Hawes, "gentleman of Solihull" and Jane Porter, daughter of Richard Porter of Bayham, Sussex, England; married Lucy.[1,2,7,9]

In England, on 2 April 1622, Edmond inherited 120 acres of land, one house, a barn, and two gardens from Francis Hawes, a relative with no issue. The court abstract listed him as "Edmond Hawes the younger, gent., an infant within the age of 14 years." He became an apprentice cutler on 14 February 1626/7, bound for a term of eight years, and was sworn as a free cutler on 4 Dec. 1634. On 12 February 1633/4 he sold his inherited land, and in 1635 he sailed on the ship "James", arriving in Boston on 3 June 1635. Edmund was listed as a cutler, late of London.[1]

The Plymouth Court gave Edmond permission to buy ten acres of land in Duxbury on 2 October 1637, and on 2 Nov. 1640 it gave him permission to buy 30 acres within the bounds of Marshfield. He was listed as constable of Duxbury on 1 March 1641/42. In 1642 he was surveyor of highways for Duxbury and a jury member. Before the end of 1644, Edmond moved to Yarmouth where he witnessed a deed on 7 January 1645. On 3 March 1644/5 the Court made him freeman and appointed him to the grand jury. He bought of Mr. Chase eight acres of upland in West Field, an open tract cultivated by Indians, bounded southerly by Dennis Pond and easterly to Hawes House. At Yarmouth he was one of their most prominent citizens, serving as deputy to the General Court at Plymouth for fifteen terms between 1645 and 1675; selectman for 23 years from 1666 to 1688; head of the town council in 1675 and 1676; town clerk and treasurer for 27 years from 1667 until his death in 1693.[1,3,4,5]

Edmond was appointed to commissions to: recover excise tax for the years 1646 to 1648, 1664, and 1665; to establish rates in 1646 and 1676; and to fix boundaries in 1648, 1679 to 1680. He represented Yarmouth in land negotiations (1648) and trade negotiations at Kennebeck, Maine in 1655 and 1656. The Court appointed him to the Council of War for Yarmouth on 2 April 1667 and 29 February 1675/6. Edmond witnessed the wills of John Joyce (7 June 1665), Wm. Lumpkin (23 July 1668), William Hedge (30 June 1670), Samuel Ryder (20 November 1679). He appraised the estate of Thomas Philips (1674) and Rev. John Mayo (1 June 1676). He took the inventory of the estate of John Darby (22 Feb. 1655/6), William Chase (14

September 1659), Anthony Thacher (13 September 1667), William Clark (11 Dec. 1668). He was executor of the Thomas Folland estate (1 October 1686) and auditor of Colonial Treasurer's accounts (10 June 1658, 16 June 1664, 9 June 1665, 7 June 1674). ## II. CAPTAIN JOHN HAWES

YARMOUTH, MASSACHUSETTS

Captain John[2] Hawes (Edmund[1]), born between 1635 and 1640, probably at Duxbury, MA, died 11 Nov. 1701 at Yarmouth; married 7 Oct. 1661 at Barnstable, Desire Gorham, born 2 April 1644 at Plymouth, died 30 June 1700, daughter of Captain John and Desire (Howland) Gorham.[2,8,12,16]

John Hawes was a cutler and resided in Yarmouth. He continued the activity and prominence in life as set by his father. His birth date was not recorded, but he was apparently of age on 5 March 1660/1 when he went on trial for causing the death of Joseph Rogers Jr., of Eastham, during a "friendly scuffell." He was acquitted (one jury member was Ephraim Morton). On 4 March 1661 he was fined ten shillings "for relating a scandulous report for which he hath not produced sufficient ground for it."[1,3]

John received public service appointments from 3 June 1668, when the General Court appointed him to recover excise tax for Yarmouth, until his death in 1701. He was constable in 1677 and enforcer of orders concerning "abuse of drink and liquors." He was often on jury duty nearly every year and was Selectman from 1679 to 1685. He witnessed the will of Capt. Matthew Fuller on 15 July 1678, Homer Boardman's will on 9 August 1689, and the deed of Elisha Hedy on 22 March 1685/6.[1,3]

On 1 June 1680 John was appointed surveyor of highways and was a member of a committee in 1680 to find and secure whales cast on shore for blubber and oil. On 31 October 1682 the Court appointed him Ensign of the Yarmouth Military Company and about 1700 he became Captain. He was on a committee in 1693 to chose a schoolmaster, and in 1693 and 1696 he was appointed to a committee to run a boundary line between Yarmouth and Barnstable. In 1697 and 1698 John was appointed Representative to the legislature at Boston and in 1698 was elected Tithingman. He was on a committee to draw up a list of proprietors of common lands of Yarmouth on 19 March 1700.[1,3]

On 26 February 1672/3 the court gave him permission to buy "the broken Marsh" on the West side of Lone Tree Creek, and on 23 February 1684/5 it gave him permission to purchase 10 acres on North side of Dennis. He also owned a tract of land "about 16 acres or more," which he probably obtained shortly after his marriage. He resided on the farm that he inherited from his father.[1,3]

John died after a leg amputation ("having his Leg Cut of Dyed with it"). His will was proven on 19 November 1701. *"In the name of God Amen the fifteenth day of October 1701 In the thirteenth year of the Reign of William the third by the Grace of God King of England &c. # I. JOHN GORHAM

MARSHFIELD, MASSACHUSETTS

The Gorhams accompanied William the Conqueror from Normandy and received a manorial estate for service at the battle of Hastings, at a place afterwards called Gorhambury. However, there is no primary data connecting Captain John Gorham of Marshfield to a progenitor. Colonel John Gorham, from 1737 to 1745, investigated the origin of the Gorham family and interviewed the grandsons of Captain John Gorham. This information was recorded in a "Wast Book", listing Captain John Gorham's father as John of Huntingdonshire, England. "My Great Great Grand father & Family Came out of Some part of England and Lived att Marshfield and Had one son Nam'd aftr him John Gorum, alias Gorham --which Son aftr Havinge Marryed With an Howland and Had Sevrall Children Went home to England and Returned Soone again to his family. His Father Lived & Dyed att Marshfield and Whats Remarkable He was a Joyner and Made his Coffin himself for severall Year before he Dyed and Used to Keep apples In It as a Chest Untill He dyed & used it." [1]

A John Gorham, son of Ralph Gorham (son of James), was baptized on 28 January 1620/1 in Benefield, Northamptonshire, England. His age approximated that of Capt. John Gorham. A Ralph Gorham was granted land in Plymouth on 2 October 1637. He apparently had a son Ralph, but no children were recorded. Genealogists William Davis and Amos Otis surmised that the Ralph of Plymouth must be the Ralph of Benefield and that Ralph's land must have been inherited by an unknown-only-descendant whom Davis and Otis named Captain John Gorham. George Bowman, genealogist and editor of the Mayflower Descendant, replied that the link to Ralph was too weak and that the "Wast Book" evidence was stronger. None of John Gorham's children or their children was named Ralph.[1,2,4,5,6,11]

Captain John[2] Gorham, an inhabitant of Yarmouth, died at age 54 and was buried at Swansea 5 Feb. 1675/6; married probably in 1643, Desire Howland, born 1625 or 1626 at Plymouth, died 13 Oct. 1683 at Barnstable, daughter of John and Elizabeth (Tilley) Howland.[1,4-8,12,13]

John was on the 1643 list for both Plymouth and Marshfield of those able to "bare arms" between the ages of 16 and 60. In 1648 he was chosen constable of Marshfield. On 8 March 1648/9 John Howland sold to his "son in law John Gorum," for twenty five pounds sterling, one-half of "a certaine tract of land lying within the limits of Marshfeild Commonly called the great

yland with all the marsh meadow lyeing before the s$^{d}$ yland lying on the weast syde from the Ceader tree to the weast point therof containing about thirteene acars bee it more or lese." [3,10]

John was a member of the grand jury for the General Court of the Colony in 1651. In 1652 he moved to Yarmouth and purchased a house lot on the north County road, next to the Barnstable line. About the same time he purchased a part of the Hallett Farm next to his house lot, containing 100 acres of planting land, and situated mostly within the boundaries of the town of Barnstable. He owned the land on the north of the Hallet Farm between Stoney Cove and the Mill Road, seventeen acres of meadow on the south-west side of the Cove, and ten acres at Stony Cove Neck. He owned the Grist Mill known as Hallet's Mill and the landing place or wharf near the same. His tannery was a short distance southerly from the present mill on the west of the pond and northerly from the site of the ancient grist mill.[2,3,5]

John was deputy from Yarmouth to the Plymouth Colony Court at the special session of April 1653, and in the following year he was chosen surveyor of highways for the town of Yarmouth. He was on the 1658 list of Freemen of Barnstable. In June 1669 the General Court granted him permission to buy a tract of one hundred acres at Papasquash Neck in Swansea, and in July 1672 he was appointed to a committee to purchase the same of the Indians."[2]

On 29 October 1670 "Mr John Gorum, of Barnstable, complained against Encrease Clapp, of Barnstable, in an action of the case, to the damage of ten pound, for causing him, the said Gorum, to send his boate to Hingham for a boate load of barke containing ten coard; the said barke being altogether unfitt for his use, and not according to the agreement hee made with the said Clapp." In 1673 and 1674 John was a member of the board of Selectmen for the town of Barnstable. John "Gorum", sen. sold to George Danson in Feb. 1673 "seven score and five acrees" of land that once belonged to John and Elizabeth Howland. On March 4, 1674 he was of age 53 when he wrote a memorandum of agreement concerning lands of Abraham Darby.[2,10]

In 1673 John was appointed Lieutenant of the Plymouth forces in the Dutch war. At the start of King Philip's war, "the Captains of all the companies of the Colony were ordered to march without delay. Thursday, June 24, 1675, was a day of fasting and prayer, through out the Colony." On that day Capt. Gorham and twenty-nine from Yarmouth marched to Mount Hope. "On Oct. 4, 1675, he was appointed captain of the second company of the Plymouth forces." He was in the battle of the Swamp Fort in the Narragansett country and fought on December 19, 1675. The forces of the United Colonies assembled at Smith's Castle in North Kingstown, RI within fifteen miles of the Swamp fort. They had selected a time in the winter when the swamp was frozen and accessible. At one o'clock in the afternoon they arrived at the Fort. "It was built on an island, containing five or six acres, in the swamp, surrounded with a thick hedge and strengthened with palisades. There were two entrances, one over a long tree upon a place of water; the other at an angle of the fort, over a huge tree, which rested on its branches, just as it had fallen, the trunk being raised five or six feet from the ground. The latter was judged to be the only accessible entrance. Opposite the fallen tree there was an open space within the Fort, defended in front by a log house, and flankers on each side. In these, the Indian sharpshooters were posted and attempts to cross over on the fallen tree was almost certain death. After three or four hours of hard fighting, the English succeeded in taking the Fort." It was estimated that the Indians "lost seven hundred fighting men, besides three hundred that died of their wounds. The number of old men, women and children that perished either by fire or were starved with hunger and cold, none of them could tell. There were about eighty of the English slain, and a hundred and fifty wounded that recovered. Capt. Gorham never recovered from the cold and fatigue to which he was exposed. He was seized with a fever and died at Swansea where he was buried 5 Feb. 1675/6." Col. John Gorham stated in his "Wast Book" that his great grandfather Capt. John Gorham "was Wounded by having his poudr Horn Shot and Split against his side." [5,13]

Capt. Gorham was fifty-four years of age at his death. On 13 July 1677 "This Court doth give unto his heirs and successors the Indian purchase of the said hundred acrees of land, and upon consideration that it was graunted unto him formerly by the Court as aforsaid, and forasmuch as hee hath pformed good service for the country in the late warr, and ended his life in the said service, this Court sees reason, and doe heerby rattify, establish, settle, and confeirme, the aforsaid hundred acrees of land, formerly graunted unto the aforsaid Capt. John Gorum, lying on Papasquash Necke aforsaid, to his heires and successors for ever." [2]

RICHARD ADAMS

NORWICH, CONNECTICUT

Richard[3] Adams, died at Newent, CT, 24 August 1728, will dated 11 May 1778; married on 24 June 1679 at Sudbury, MA, Rebeckah Davis on 24 June 1679, probably the daughter of Robert and Bridget Davis of Sudbury. Robert Davis and his family came in 1638 on the ship, Confidence.[1,5,6,18,20,27]

There is no primary or secondary evidence that Richard Adams is the son of James and Frances (Vassell) Adams or that this line connects to Henry Adams of Braintree. Scituate vital records show that a Richard Adams, son of a James Adams, died 25 July 1651. Using land records of Canterbury, Norwich, and Plainfield, CT, genealogist Kendall Hayward concluded that Richard, the husband of Rebeckah Adams, is "probably son of James Adams and Frances Vassell." Inadequate documentation of the lineage from Sir John ap Adam to John Adams of Scituate has made this line questionable.[4,5,14]

Richard is listed by Savage as the Richard Adams who served during King Philips War in the Second Company, Massachusetts Volunteers from Sudbury, MA, commanded by Captain Mosely. They fought on 18 September at Bloody Brook just south of Deerfield and on Sunday 19 December 1675 against the Narragansetts in the Great Swamp fight in southern Rhode Island. There Richard was wounded. After the war, Richard married at Sudbury and attended the Sudbury church. He remained there with his wife until after 1689 when he moved to New London County, CT and settled along the Quinebaug river. On 23 February 1694 "Richard Adams of Pigscumsick in the County of New London and his wife Rebeckah sold 86 2/3 acres of land in Sudbury, comprising 1/3rd of a New Grant Lott." They signed their names with a mark. Pigscumsick (Peagscomsuck) is a section of land west of the Quinebaug island, Peagscomsuck, about 1.5 miles south of Canterbury, CT. Major James Fitch built a settlement there.[1,5,19,36]

At this time the Quinebaug area was in land dispute. The Connecticut General Assembly had given Governor Winthrop permission to buy land from resident Indian chiefs. He bought the Quinebaug area from "renegade" Narragansett chiefs in 1653. However, the Mohegans were in control of this territory under Chief Uncus and later his son, Chief Owaneco, both of whom the General Assembly recognized as the legal persons to handle Quinebaug purchases. Major James Fitch purchased the same land from Chief Owaneco. In 1695 Benjamin Palmer, who had bought his land from the Winthrops, was sentenced £70 or "be wipped fifteen stripes on his naked body" for striking Richard Adams when Richard tried to collect taxes for Major Fitch.[19,25,26]

The land controversy slowed progress, many petitions to the General Court by Fitch adherents were not acted upon, and no attempt was made to lay out public highways, construct bridges, schools, mills or meeting houses. Winthrop's adherents eventually settled mainly east of the Quinebaug. Fitch's group, including Richard Adams, settled on the west side. On May 9, 1699 the settlers on the west (including Richard Adams) and on the east side petitioned to have township privileges. This the Assembly approved and set up the township of Plainfield. On 13 Nov. 1699 Richard Adams and members of the community signed an agreement to obtain and support a minister. In 1701 the newly formed Plainfield assumed jurisdiction. Public worship would be held two Sundays on the west side of the Quinebaug and one Sunday on the east side. Town meetings would be held alternately on each side. On 2 June 1701 Richard was chosen "Sizer and Lyster" for the year. On 3 Dec. 1701 he was chosen as selectman.[19,25,31]

Norwich town record of grants for Richard Adams of Plainfield: (1) three hundred and sixty acres of upland, swamp, waste land lying on west side of Quinebaug River, on both sides of Norwich - Plainfield Road, beginning at Sgt. Sam Lathrop's northwest corner and bounded on Lathrop's land to Quinebaug River, easterly on River to Norwich town line, thence bounded by the Town line 1.5 miles then running south southwest 120 rods to tree marked R. A. abutting south west on the commons highway; (2) forty acres on the east side of the Quinebaug, opposite the above listed; (3) fourteen acres of swamp and lowland abutting northwest on Puppie hill and abutting commons (this tract was laid out 24 May 1700); (4) eighteen acres southeast side of road to Canterbury, about a mile from Richard's house, abutting road and commons (laid out April 1712). Parcells 1 & 2 were purchased of Lt. Thomas Leffingwell and Thomas Waterman, agents for the town of Norwich. Parcels 3 and 4: "The above two parcells taken up for his two Rates to ye Meeting house & partly for John Andrews & John Andrews, Jr., David and Jane Andrews & John Backon their Rates."[34]

Richard owned land on both sides of the Quinebaug. On 17 Nov. 1701 James Fitch sold to Richard Adams of Plainfield a parcel of land in Plainfield township bounded on east side by the Quinebaug, from Norwich line 10 score and 8 rods to cedar swamp, westerly 100 rods to the river, then to the town line. A second parcel on west side of Quinebaug abutting Norwich town line 1.5 miles, northerly 10 score and 8 rods, easterly to river. In this deed Fitch gave Richard permission "with free liberty of cutting of ceder timber in any of the ceder swamps in the sd Town of Plainfield for his use for ever."[30,32]

For £240, on 1 May 1703, Richard, Sr. of Plainfield, sold 500 acres to James Fitch, land containing one dwelling and abutting the Quinebaug on the east and south 1.5 miles on the Norwich line. For £200 Richard, Sr. purchased 3,000 acres of wilderness from Major Fitch on 21 June 1703, land situated south of Blackwell's tract on the western side of the Quinebaug. "Its bound began at the junction of the Five-Mile and Quinebaug Rivers; extending west on Blackwell's line, to a pine-tree marked B, by the side of Blackwell's Brook, and beyond it to Graymare hill; thence south four hundred and eighty perches, thence east to the Quinebaug, where Beaver Brook empties into it. On 15 May 1710 a quit claim was recorded stating that Richard Adams of Norwich had satisfied "all dues and demands of lands purchased" from James Fitch. Richard then divided the 3,000 acre tract (three miles in length) and deeded it to his children: Richard, Joseph, Daniel, John, Isaac, Sari, and Hannah. He reserved 200 acres for himself, but apparently never resided there. Richard, Jr. received the two lower portions (700 acres) in 1712.[10,30-2]

In 1702 Richard assisted in the organization of Canterbury, CT. In 1703, 1704, and 1705 Richard and others petitioned the General Assembly to allow them to collect tax for a meeting house and ministerial house and to enlarge town boundaries to the Blackwell tract (about 2.5 to 3 miles). The Assembly finally agreed to the levying of rates, but refused to enlarge boundaries needed for building the meeting house. A fourth petition in 1706 was denied. In response to a rumor that Major Fitch was petitioning to have lands in that area included with Canterbury, Richard Adams was deputized in 1706 to attend the General Court session to beg the Court "not to state us to Canterbury without giving notice." Richard was unable to attend because of "tagious sickness and long weakness." The lands were left unstated.[19]

Richard lived on the border of Norwich and Canterbury townships. Rebeckah was received into full communion at Norwich First Congregational Church in 1709. Hannah, Isaac and Mary were baptized there. On 11 Oct. 1712 Richard deeded to daughter Rebeckah 200 acres of land of which one parcel was on the east side of the Quinebaug, bounded by the river 84 rods down river to cedar swamp, and the a second parcel on the west side 40 rods from Norwich town line, west 1.5 miles. On 23 June 1720 Richard, Sr. deeded to his son, William: "I do give and grant all my farm of lands, which I live upon and is lying part in Norwich & part in Canterberry which is bounded as by my record in Norwich a Refference there to being had may fully appear with all ye buildings orchard or fruit trees with ye fences on ye given and granted premises with all ye appertenances and Priviledges to ye given . . . excepting & Reserving to my self & to my own use & improvements dureing my natural life all ye Several Parcells of upland & meadow which I do now Improve and one-half of ye appels of all my orchard, and one half ye grass, or pastureing of y^t^ Part y^t^ lyeth convenent to fence by it self and I do thereby allow approve of & confirm y^t^ Sale . . . of fourteen acres . . ."[29,30,40]

In an agreement on the same day, William "shall well & truly pay to his honored father or to his assigns annually during his sd fathers natural life one third part of all Sorts of Graine he shall raise upon y^t^ given and granted premises and to be determined at harvest time, on ye land, ye Severall Sorts of grain grew upon and it Shall please God y^t^ his own mother do Survive after ye decease of his s^d^ Father there to provide for her an honorable & comfortable maintinance & both his s^d^ ffather & mother to live in y^e^ house with him during their natural lives, without molestation and he provide & lay at y^e^ Door Suitable firewood from time to time." Recorded on 12 Oct. 1722 a deed by Richard to daughter Marcy, wife of John Baldwin of Canterbury, 18 acres on Canterbury Road to Norwich, abutting road and commons, 34 acres adjoining Samuel Lathrop's land, and 10 acres next to son William.[30]

IV. RICHARD ADAMS

CANTERBURY, CONNECTICUT

Richard[4] Adams (Richard[3]), born 11 April 1680 in Sudbury, MA, died 3 October 1745 at Pomfret township, CT, interred in Brooklyn cemetery; married on 21 July 1709 at Canterbury, Mary Cady, born 20 October 1684 at Groton, MA, d. 22 May 1752 at Canterbury, daughter of Daniel and Mary (Green) Cady of Killingley and Aspinock, CT.[1,5,8,12,21,36]

In 1712 Richard's father deeded to him 700 acres of the 3,000 acres his father bought in 1703 from Major Fitch. His farm was situated on the Quinebaug River about one mile southeast of the Brooklyn Green. In 1714, land between Pomfret and Canterbury was divided, and Richard's land came under the jurisdiction of Pomfret. He was chosen selectman in 1715. Because the area was remote from Pomfret, Richard and others in that area petitioned the General Assembly in 1721 to form a separate parish. This was denied. In 1722 a petition by Richard Adams and others to establish a school and to use the school tax to support their own school was granted.[10,19,32]

In October 1723 the General Assembly "do establish and confirm Mr. Richard Adams of Pomfrett to be Ensign of the company or trainband formed out of the north end of Canterbury and south end of Pomfrett, and order that he be commssioned accordingly." Joseph Adams was Captain. On 13 October 1724 Richard "for love and good-will borne unto his well beloved friends and neighbors, inhabitants of south addtion to Pomfret and north addition to Canterbury, as also for the necessity of a convenient place for a training-field and the setting up of a school house, did give and grant, for the public use of a training-field, unto the aforesaid inhaitants and their heirs, a certain parcel of land lying within ye aforesaid additions, west of the country road, containing one acre." This land was in the western part of Richard's Adam's tract. In December 1724 Richard Adams was elected grand-juror.[1,10,23]

By 1728, thirty-two inhabitants had settled in that area. They applied for a town charter, but were refused. They did, however, obtain an ecclesiastical society charter which took on the title "The Society taken out of Pomfret, Canterbury and Mortlake," later to be Brooklyn township. Richard took the oath of Fidelity in 1730.[19,23]

Initially, Connecticut colonial government had roots from the Boston Puritan movement. It was a representative form of government, but those elected to the General Assembly were freemen, nominated by selectmen, and these had to be recognized saints of the Congregational Church. The governing body disdained from consulting the electorate. The formation of ecclesiastic parishes had to be approved by the General Assembly. Petitions sometimes were titled "To Governor, Deputy Governor, Worshipful Assistant Deputies, General Court." All had to pay tax to support the church. One could petition for exception if active in another religious group. Within the church the elder's had the power of guidance or leading. The congregation had the power of judgement and consent. In 1708 England ordered Connecticut to allow other religious groups. To maintain control, the clergy found that church government by parish congregations made it difficult for the clergy to enforce rules. At a synod in 1708 the clergy adopted the Saybrook Platform -an ecclesiastic constitution for Connecticut- which transferred sovereignty from the congregation to the clergy. Parishes could no longer dismiss their pastor. Licenses to preach were issued only to those who subscribed to the platform. Penalties were levied on families that did not conform to rules set by the clergy, and when these penalties did not work, harsher penalties were levied. The Saybrook Platform and mighty hand of the clergy caused much dissention. Many who came to America for religious freedom found that they had more freedom in England. By the middle 1700's Colony control of religious activities was being challenged. Lay persons were claiming the right of independent church government. By 1742 lay members in the Quinebaug area became part of the controversy. In September 1742 the minister debarred five lay members of the ecclesiastic society (Brooklyn area) from the Lord's table for exhorting (one member spoke "for some considerable time to the people on the common before the meeting-house, attempting 'to teach them the wretched estate they were in, an that their help was in God, and exhorting them to come to him).'" Although the church had not declared its mind in this matter, Colony law prohibited preaching in another minister's parish without consent. Many members then withdrew from the Lord's table in protest. The church then judged that these members should be debarred until they confessed their fault. On the 5th of November, in protest against the punishment, 24 members of the congregation, including Richard Adams, Eunice Adams, Elias and Mary Shavelier, Joseph and Elizabeth Adams withdrew from the church. "These are to inform you that your way of discipline and opinion declared in your last judgment against some of the subscribers, doth so fully evidence to us that you of the number that have the form of godliness and deny the power thereof, that we can in conscience hold communion no longer with you, do thereof declare that we do dissent and withdraw from you, praying that the Lord would be our guide and direct us in such a weighty affair." "At a church meeting, December 14, Richard Adams, Wilson and Fasset declared in behalf of themselves and their associates, 'That they required the church to acknowledge their fault, and allow them liberty, even in the most public manner, to speak and exhort except during public worship.'" The church brought in ten pastors and their associates to address the problem. With church approval, the "Separatists" were to retract their statements and ask forgiveness. Failure to do so would result in excommunication. Fourteen were excommunicated, eleven admonished. Richard Adams died "without giving any satisfaction." Most of the separatists then united with the church at Canterbury.[19,26]

Of the 700 acres of land received from his father, Richard deeded 50 acres each to his daughters Sarah Earl, Mary Shavelier, and Rachel Earl. Two hundred acres were sold. The town of Pomfret took some in December 1737 for a country road. The children signed a quit claim to brother Josiah Wheeler & wife Hannah Wheeler of Worchester, MA and to brother John Farr and Eunice Farr of Pomfret for land beginning at Beaver Brook, running up the brook to Joseph Adams and east to the Quinebaug. At that time Sarah and Rachel resided in Canterbury township. Mary, Peter, Jane, Richard, and Eunice lived in Pomfret township. On 31 Sept. 1756, a quit claim was made by Richard to Peter Adams for 100 acres of "land on which his house now stands." At the same time, a quit claim was made by Peter to Richard for 120 acres next to Joseph Adams, "land on which his house now stands."[10]

V. RICHARD ADAMS

POMFRET, CONNECTICUT

Richard[5] Adams (Richard[4], Richard[3]), born 25 May 1722 in Pomfret township, CT, died before 2 August 1773; married on 16 October 1755 at Pomfret, Rebekah Thayer, daughter of David and Hannah (Parks) Thayer. Rebekah married (2) on 27 July 1775, Phinehas Cleaveland of Pomfret. Rebekah died before 6 June 1795 when her lands were distributed by probate court to her children.[1,5,8]

Pomfret Vital Records has Rebekah, wife of Richard[5] Adams, married (1) to Peter Adams and (2) to Phinehas Cleaveland. However, in a land transaction between David Adams and Nathaniel Coggswell in 1783 it states: "Rebeckah Adams, widow of Richard Adams now wife of Phinehas Cleaveland of Pomfret." The records show that Peter Adams was married Priscilla Warren during this time.[8,9,11]

Richard Adams inherited the western part of his father's estate. Twenty years had passed since the ecclesiastic society was formed out of Pomfret, Mortlake and Canterbury. In May 1752 Richard Adams and twenty other heads of families petitioned the General Assembly to form this area into a township. The Assembly approved, named the area Brooklyn, and allowed the society to tax Mortlake, make improvements, and have orderly town government.

Richard died intestate and his inventory was taken on 2 August 1773. "An Inventory of the Estate of Richard Adams late of Pomfret, Deceased taken by us the Subscribers on the 2d Day of August 1773. We being under Oath for the purpose. viz. [9]

Aron[6] [Aaron] Adams (Richard[5], Richard[4], Richard[3]) born 10 October 1768 at Pomfret, died 10 April 1844, aged 75 years, 6 months PA; married on 19 Apr. 1793 at Brooklyn, CT, Huldah Coggswell, d. 15 Jan. The 1810 U.S. Census and Aaron's will used the "Aron" spelling. Pomfret records listed his name as Aaron. A deed registered 10 November 1808 at Pomfret, CT, concerning the distribution of the estate of Hannah Coggswell, mother of Huldah, lists: "Aaron Adams and Huldah Adams, wife, of the District of Braintrim, Luzerne Co." [11]

I. NICHOLAS CADY

WATERTOWN AND GROTON MASSACHUSETTS

Nicholas[1] Cady, born in England, died at Groton, MA, before 12 May 1712; married about 1648, Judith Knopp, died after 18 Mar. 1683/4, daughter of William Knopp, Sr., of Watertown, MA.[1,2,9]

The English origin of Nicholas Cady has not been determined. Nicholas may have been an apprentice carpenter to William Knopp who came from near Bury St. Mary, County Suffolk, England and who probably came to America in 1630.[1]

The first record of Nicholas Cady is found in a partnership with John Knapp, the son of William Knopp. "William Potter of Watertowne granted unto Nicholas Cadye & John Knapp his house in watertowne & house lott of Eight Acres adjoyneing unto John Barnetts lott, & three Acres meddow in the Remote meddowes bounded w[th] Isaac Mixtor east, John Waterbury west & south, & the dividends on the North. Also, sixe Acres upland in the Liev of the towneshipp & a certaine fferme to be layd out according to his p'portion & this was by an absolute deed of sale dated 8 (10) 1645." [4]

In June 1650 Nicholas Cady sold his share to John Knapp. In 1652 Nicholas Cady took the oath of fidelity, and on "5 (2) mo. 1653" (5 April 1653) he was a member of the Train Band of Watertown. On 24 December 1667, Nicholas exchanged with John and Sarah (Cady) Clarey his house and lands in Watertown for a "house, house lott, and fifty one acres lying on both sides of the county highway" in the Township of Groton, MA. He was listed as a carpenter in this transaction. On 10 September 1668 Nicholas Cady, planter, sold six acres of land in Watertown and five acres of meadow, bordering on the south with the hunting swamp in Cambridge, to George Laurance.[1,4,5,9,10]

Nicholas was on the list of those receiving land grants before the town of Groton was burned by Indians in 1676. He was apparently in Mr. Williams' garrison during King Philips War as indicated by an affidavit to the General Court, dated at Groton 14 March 1676: "Daniel Adams did kill one Indian at Mr. Williams' garrison. Witness John Cady and Samuel Wood." "We saw him fall to the ground and not raise up again, Nicholas Cady." Nicholas was not on the 12 December 1677 list to rebuild Groton after the war. He apparently returned to Cambridge where he bought in 1678 sixty acres of land, bounded by Watertown on the south. He sold this land to John Winter in March 1684. On 9 January 1679 he gave to his daughter, Judith Rouse ("now wife of Alexander Rouse"), eleven acres of upland in Groton. The Town of Groton chose him surveyor in 1671, 1680, 1683, and in 1685/6. He was on the list of heads of families in 1680 and paid tax in 1681 (only one person was taxed more) and in 1682.[1,10]

In 1683 Nicholas purchased fifteen acres of land from the town for 5s. He sold 6 acres in Cambridge to J. Winter for £15 and sold 30 acres of land in Watertown to Simon Cooledge. Nicholas and Judith signed their names with their marks. In 1685 he was granted a small piece of land "on the South sid of ingin hill." On 12 May 1712 his son, John Cady, sold "Several parcels of land . . . with half the later Rights belonging to Old Nicholas Cady, that doth no appear to be disposed of." On 16 May 1712 John Cady sold several parcels of land "with one half ye town rights formerly Nicholas Cadys, deceased." Nicholas Cady resided near Cady's Pond, named for him and located southeasterly about a mile from the village of Groton, on the Boston Road.[1,9,10]

Daniel moved to Groton with his parents and was listed there on 14 May 1712 as a carpenter when he sold 48 acres of land in Groton, including five acres given by his "father in law William Green." Previously he had sold 10 acres in Groton to Jonathan Whitcom in May 1701 and 44 acres in Groton to James Nutting in 1708. On 18 April 1718 a tract of land was granted to Daniel Cady, Samuel Butt & Samuel Adams. On 31 Jan. 1722 Daniel for "Natural love and affection" gave to his son Ezra of Canterbury 109.5 acres of land at "Tadnach" hill, his share of the tract held "undivided in partnership" with Samuel Butt and Samuel Adams. In February 1712 he sold to Nathaniel Robins fifty acres of land, running southerly along Blackwells brook to the mouth of Little Brook. In March 1721 Daniel gave to his son Daniel 100 acres of land in Pomfret near Blackwells Brook "on y^e^ East brow of Beachchunk hill, north end of Entervale mowing ground", where Daniel, Jr. lived. He also gave to his son Ezekiel 150 acres of land near the dividing line of Pomfret and Canterbury, on the east side of Blackwells brook "to the bounds of my whole farm." In April 1723 he sold to Ezekiel 47 acres of land in Pomfret. On 13 Oct. 1724 he gave one acre land on the east side of Blackwells Brook, bounded all around on his land for "Place to bury y^e^ bodys of y^e^ dead." It now forms the original part of the Brooklyn cemetery and where he is buried. In these transactions he signed his name with a mark.[3,4,6,11,13,14,15]

I. WILLIAM KNOPP

WATERTOWN, MASSACHUSETTS

William[1] Knopp [Knapp], baptized 1 January 1580/1 at Bures St. Mary, County Suffolk, England, died 30 August 1658 at Watertown, MA, aged about 80 years, son of Thomas (buried 18 May 1613 at Bures St. Mary) and Alice (Howlat) Knopp; married (1) on 11 January 1606/7 at Wormingford, County Essex, Judith Tue, baptized there 31 May 1589, died before 1651 in England, daughter of John Tue; married (2) Priscilla, widow of Thomas Akers. John Tue was buried 31 May 1605 at Wormingford. In his will he left his houses, land & tenements in Wormingford to his wife Cicely and upon her decease to his son John. Daughters Marie and Judith received £10 each.[1-5]

William and his family came in 1630 on one of the Winthrop ships, indentured to Sir Richard Saltonstall. He was listed as a carpenter. On 30 Nov. 1630 the court ordered "whoesoever employeth Willm Knopp or his sonne in any work shall pay the one half of their wages to Sr Rich: Saltonstall, & whoever buyeth boards of them shall pay one halfe of the price to S^r^ Richard, till the money hee hasth disbursed for them be satisfied" William was one of the first settlers of Watertown, MA. He was listed there as a proprietor in 1636/7. On 25 July 1636 he received a grant of thirty acres (the first division). [1,4,6]

The first inventory made on 9 July 1639: "William Knop sen.

1. An Homestall of Sixteen Acres bounded the Southeast & Southwest with Robert Lockwood & Nicholas Knap the East with Richard Browne the Northeast with Richard Beers the North with the highway & the West with George Munnings.

Third inventory, 1646: "William Knop sen.

Ferdinando [Fardinando] lived in Braintree until after his father's death when he moved to Mendon with a colony from Braintree and Weymouth. He was allotted 40 acres of land, which had to be occupied by September 1663, in a new plantation called Nipmug, now Mendon, Worcester county, MA. This land "buted and bounded as foloweth Easterly upon mudy brook; south or Sutherly upon the house Lott of John Rocket Weasterly upon the hous lott of Samuel Hayward and Northerly upon the house Lott of John Gurny, with A ten Rodd hyway Crosing sd Lott." [8]
